BOARD OF EDUCATION MEETS

A revised local School Advisory Council Policy was a topic of discussion at the Robeson County Board of Education meeting on Tuesday

According to the policy, all present advisory council members' term will expire in January, 1978. The board will re-appoint members or new members to the respective schools. Schools with 650 or more students will have 7 members. Those with less than 650 students will have 5 members. This process will be evaluated periodically.

The board heard a report from Assista Superintendent Donald A Bonner on t The board heard a report from Assistant Superintendent Donald A Bonner on the instructional programs in the county These include a recent class at Magnolia School which provides educational instruction for the severely handicapped students in the county. The class accomodates 8 students. In addition, five home-bound physically handicapped students are being served by the new program.

Upon request of Superintendent Purnell Swett, CETA Title I funds will be deposited in the Lumbee Bank in Pembroke. A separate account must be set up for these funds which will amount to in access of $400,000 over a 12-month period.

Brough to the board's attention by their attorney. Dexter Brooks, was a "Policy for Collection and Exemption From Payment of Robeson County School Fees." This agreement stems from the case of Wanda Lee Locklear, a student at Prospect School when suit was filed by her mother, Carletter Locklear, against the administration alleging that Wanda had been discriminated against by denying her an opportunity to participate in extra curricular activities because of her failure to pay local school fees.

The case resulted in the formation of a The case resulted in the formation of a policy, reportedly accepted by the Prospect School Advisory Council, which would make Prospect School a "pilot" school. According to the policy, the parents of students at Prospect School would have an opportunity to apply for exemption from paying school fees if their family income and size falls within the poverty guidelines.

Some discussion followed the presentation during which Harbert Moore raised questions relative to a county-wide policy. Mr. Moore moved that the policy he tabled until the next meeting to allow board members ample time to study it. The motion was seconded by Sim Oxendine and carried unanimously.

Special Display Available for Meetings

In Meetings The Title IV-A Project has available a special display of this program year's components together with a slide/sound presentation on Title IV-A. This special presentation was prepared for exhibit at the recent East Coast Conference in Arlington, Va. and is now available for P.T.A. meetings and other community meetings upon request by calling 738-1421. The Title IV-A project has been explained at a recent meeting of the PTA at Green Growe School and the exhibit was displayed at the PTA meeting at Piney Grove School on Tuesday, October 11th.

Community Support and Involvement Solicited

Involvement Solicited During the next few months, meetings of the Parent Committee and Public Hearings will be scheduled. All parents of Indian children are encouraged to attend local public meetings of the Parent Committee and the Public Hearings which will be advertised in local newspapers. Dates for submitting the project application for next year's program have been set for January, therefore, many of these meetings will be held in November and December. Parents are also encouraged to visit their local schools and observe the activities of the Title IV-A project so they will be better informed on the program and can more fully participate in helping to guide the direction of the Title IV-A program to ensure that it is meeting the special ducational and cultural needs of Indian students in Rohexon County.

A Correction in last week's "According to

Scripture''

In last week's column According to Scripture by Evangelist Ted Brooks, a misprint occurred.

In the text of the column it was stated that "Blessed is he who standeth in the way of sinners..." In actuality, as any good Christian immediately understood, it should have read "Blessed is he who standest not in the way of sinners..."

The complete paragraph should nave read:

Let me say this, be careful what you say. There are young people today who are looking for help and by your causing trouble in the church and by trying to destroy the faith and by gossip and slander and criticism, in the 1st chapter of David standerh not in the way of sinners." Be sure today that you are not standing in the way of anyone. Jesus said you were better off with a millstone tied to your neck and cast into the sea than to stand in the way or offend.
