On October 27, 1977, Miss Ann Marie Sampson was crowned Miss Pembroke Junior High Homecoming Queen by out-going queen, Miss Wanda Hunt, in the school gymnasium during a dance.

Nov. 11 is

Veteran's Day

Friday, November 11, has been proclaimed Veterans Day in North Carolina and it is an official state holiday.

But the federal government observed Veterans Day on October 24. This may confuse people in Robeson County about exactly when Veterans Day is, but according to state officials, the confusion will subside in 1978.

Next year there will be but one official day nationwide to observe Veterans Day- November 11. According to Charles Beddingfield, Assistant Secretary for Veterans Affairs, that date was traditionally recognized as Veterans Day until several years ago when the federal government changed most holidays to Mondays to give federal employees three day breaks. "The fourth Monday of October was designated as Veterans Day and most states, including North Carolina, began to observe it on that day," explained Beddingfield.

Veterans organizations expressed much discontent over the change and individual states began to change their observance back to the traditional date. The North Carolina General Assembly changed it back to the November 11 date in 1975. This year, all states except the District of Columbia, Mississippi, and South Dakota will salute Veterans on November 11.

Veterans Day commemorates the signing of the Armistice, which ended fighting of World War I, at 11 a.m. November 11, 1918. The special day has become a time for all veterans to be honored. In proclaiming Veterans Day this year Gov. Jim Hunt called on the citizens of the state to honor the veterans of all wars, who "have served our state and nation with honor and distinction."

Veterans organizations including the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the American Legion, AMVETS, and Disabled American Veterans, usually join together in local communities to observe Veterans Day.

The Pembroke Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Disabled American Veterans will sponsor a Veterans Day Parade on Friday, November 11, at 10 a.m. in downtown Pembroke.

Page 7, The Carolina Indian Voice A History of New Bethel Baptist Church by Rev. Tony Brewington

Rev. Micheal Cummings

The early history of New Bethel Baptist Church reveals some very humble beginnings. At the start of this century, there was a growing consciousness among the Indian citizens of Sampson County to recognize and preserve their Indian identity. The movement was expressed religiously and socially. There were simultaneous efforts to establish an Indian school and an Indian church. Both church and school date back to 1910. Prior to 1910, there were at least two places of worship for the New Bethel community.

The more famous place of worship was the old Oldfellows Lodge for Indians which was located on Mr. Arthur Brewington's place. A favorite tradition tells of three big oak trees around the Lodge that the worshippers named Faith, Hope and Charity. On this day, Hope is standing in the front yard of Mr. Hardy Brewington. This is not to refute I Cor. 13:13.

The other known place of worship was crude and without shelter. It was in the front yard of Mr. Isam Ammons, who was then a tenant farmer. According to our best report, this meeting place was only a short distance from our present church site. Meeting in open air, the worshippers sat on seats which were merely long board benches. It seems that the Oldfellows Lodge was used more for night services and services held in bad weather. The open-air meeting place was a popular place otherwise for many.

At least by 1910, worship services were being held in the New Bethel Indian School. Later, approximately one fourth (1/4) acre of land was purchased from Mr. Hardie A. Brewington and wife Frances. The plot of ground was sold to the church for $1.00. On August 26, 1911 a deed for the property was issued. Among those many who were responsible for the establishment of the church were: C.D. Brewington, A.S. Locklear, Hardie A. Brewington, J. Authur Brewington, and W.D. Brewington. The site of the church is its present site on Route 1, Clinton, N.C. in Sampson County.

The first deacons of the church were: J. Authur Brewington, G.B. Brewington, H.E. Goodman, G.W. McLane and E.J. Simmons. The following men served as pastors over the years: Gilbert Locklear, 1910; English A. Locklear, 1919; N.P. Sanderson, 1927; S.A. Hammonds, 1928; June Sampson, 1931; C.E. Locklear, 1935; Cooleage Cummings, 1948; Welton Lowry, 1950; R.W. Maynor, 1951; H.E. Brewington, 1965; David Brewington, 1968; and Micheal Cummings, 1970.

In 1959, the believers built a new modern sanctuary and Sunday School facilities. The work was a community effort with Christians and non-Christians working along with the pastor, R.W. Maynor, to complete the new church building. In 1972, a new Fellowship Hall was added right beside the sanctuary. One half (1/2) acre of land was purchased from Mr. Allen Jones in the rear of the church for additional parking space for the church. In March of 1976, the church completed a beautiful new parsonage for their pastor and family. Today, the New Bethel church site is a beautiful campus with all church property value at $125,000.00. The church supports a full time ministry on its own field while showing Christian concern for the Lord's work throughout the Burnt Swamp Association and the Southern Baptist Convention. While most of the pastoral leadership has come from Robeson County, the local church talent and leadership is commendable. The life of this church has been sustained by the Holy Spirit's moving in the lives of many fine Christians from right here in Sampson County. Their reputation for hospitality and friendliness is widespread. Their generosity is genuine, stemming from hearts which have been warmed by the Spirit of God. About 25 years ago, Rev. L.W. Jacobs complimented this church as the most ideal setting for full-time ministry among our churches. The love and respect he sensed then lingers in the spirit of this church.
