

Deese Heads RTI Literacy Effort

Harold Dean Deese, project director for the literacy program at Robeson Technical Institute.

Harold Dean Deese has been named project director of the county's literacy program, which is under the direction of Robeson Technical Institute. Eight others have been appointed to his staff.

Deese graduated from Pembroke State University and received a Masters degree in Education from Harvard University. He has been project director at Pembroke for LRDA and at Rowland for the Indian Community Organization. While with the State Department of Community Employment, he worked with 87 counties in summer youth projects. For two years he was assistant director of the state's Commission of Indian Affairs. He has taught high school science for 5 years and is currently on the Board of Education for Maxton City Schools.

Deese has served on the State Native American Curriculum Development Task Force, the Robeson County Task Force on Developing Occupational Education Centers, the National Title I Audit Board, and was chairman of Indian Education Parent Committee. He has also been consultant to the U.S. Office of Education for the Atlanta Region and the U.S. Office of Native American Education. He and his wife, Aggie, counselor at Prospect High School, reside in Max-to right are Barbara Stephens, Clara Reese-Glore, Thelma Charlene Coleman, Hannah Marie Revels, and Cora L. Brewington. Standing, Jimmy Earl Duncan, Veronica M. Ford, and James Dowson Duncan.

Clare Reese-Glore, coordinator or instructor, was supervisor of special programs at Montgomery Technical Institute before entering the graduate program in adult education at NCSU. She has been ABE Project Coordinator for Region H and Coordinator of a Human Resource Development program. She was the first chairperson of the Interagency Council in Montgomery County. Besides working with instructors, she is placing special emphasis on developing suitable high-interest-low-level instructional materials.

James Dowson Duncan of St. Pauls is Coordinator. He will be involved in public relations and in occupational counseling and job development for students. A graduate of Pembroke State University, he has been operations manager for a trucking company, a professional cross-country truck driver, and self-employed in heavy equipment operations and theater management.

Jimmy Earl Caulder of Lumberton is volunteer coordinator.

securing and coordinating the work of volunteers. After GED certification at Robeson Tech, Caulder graduated from Pembroke State University and currently is in a graduate program at Appalachian State University. He has been a general construction carpenter, a social worker with the Robeson County Department of Social Services, and supervisor for Occupational Education classes at RTI. He developed and taught a class in crisis intervention at RTI, a class that is now continuing under another instructor.

Cora L. Brewington and Veronica M. Ford are recruiters. They seek persons who can profit from the program and provide any services possible to help the person attend classes. Mrs. Brewington has been a recruiter for the RTI ABE programs and has also taught both industrial and custom sewing. Mrs. Ford, a graduate of N.C. Central University was center director for the Community Action Program in Ft. Wayne, Ind., before moving to Lumberton last winter.

Two full-time instructors are Hannah Marie Revels of Pembroke and Thelma Charlene Coleman of Lumberton. Ms. Revels graduated from Pembroke State University, Majoring in Early Childhood Education. She has been a kindergarten teacher and a learning lab coordinator at Robeson Tech. Ms. Coleman, also a PSU graduate, was secretary-librarian at the Lumberton Education Resource Center and has been a volunteer tutor for the Robeson County Church and Community Center.

Barbara Stephens of Bladenboro is secretary. She has a degree in business education from Pembroke State University. Headquarters for the staff is at the Barker Ten Mile Campus of Robeson Tech. They can be contacted by calling Robeson Tech at 738-7101.

Warriors Nipped by Trojans

by L.D. Malcolm

Turnovers again cost the Warriors of Pembroke Senior High as they dropped their second straight game, this one a 49-42 loss to the Magnolia Trojans.

The Warriors led at the half, 28-25, and again at the end of the third quarter 38-36, but hit a cold spell which saw them go scoreless for over five and a half minutes in the fourth quarter. The Trojans took advantage of Warrior misfortune to outscore the Warriors 13-4 in the final period.

Tim Hardin led Magnolia and all scorers with 22 points while Eugene Emanuel tossed in 16 for the losers.

The loss lowers Pembroke's overall mark to 5-2.

The Warrior J.V.'s fortunes were much better as they trounced the Magnolia J.V.'s 62-33.

Magnolia could manage only 8 points per period for the first three quarters while the Warriors scored 47, taking a commanding lead at the end of three stanzas of play.

Howard Jacobs, Telford Locklear, and Ricky Monroe accounted for almost all of Pembroke's points as they scored 22, 18, and 16 points respectively. B. Jones was high for Magnolia with 12.

The Warrior J.V.'s now sport a 4-3 record.

Some people believed it good luck for a butterfly to fly through their coat sleeves.

MT. AIRY NEWS Violet Locklear

Rev. Percell Locklear delivered the message on Sunday morning at Mt. Airy Church. Visitors were Mrs. Edna Hammonds and son William of Lumberton.

The Brotherhood visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louie Locklear last Friday night and held a fellowship hour with Mrs. Locklear who has been shut in now for over a year.

Mr. Eutie Wilkins was able to be in church Sunday after being out quite awhile due to illness.

Mr. James Lee Lowery of Pembroke visited Harper's Ferry Baptist Church on Sunday, along with Rev. Kelly Sanderson.

Mr. James B. Locklear, also Bill Buck Locklear went last Friday for a medical check up.

The Brotherhood of Mt. Airy participated in the monthly singing on Sunday night at the Oak Grove Holiness Church where Rev. Grover Oxendine is the pastor.

Those participating in our singing Sunday night other than the church choirs were Union Chapel Choir, the Gospel Singing Quartet of Pleasant View from Fairmont, also Miss Cathy Jacobs of Fairmont who sang, "Touching Jesus." Mr. R.D. Locklear II closed with a solo.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Mr. Mitchel Jones of Kingston, NC came down here Monday and celebrated his 18th birthday visiting his great grandmother, Mrs. Rockie J. Locklear. His grandmother, Mrs. Nancy Jones, his grandfather, Mr. Fencie Locklear and family. Along with him were his mother and a friend, Mr. Neil French.

Miss Connie Graham of Lumberton was a dinner guest in the home of Violet Locklear Tuesday night. She is loved very much by Mrs. Locklear as she is one of her favorite beauticians.

Miss Willie Mae Locklear returned home Monday from Chapel Hill Hospital. She was visited Tuesday evening by Violet and Miss Lizzie Bell Locklear. She will be returning to the hospital at a later date for more surgery.

Mrs. Stella Oxendine and her two sons visited in the home of Violet Locklear Friday night. They live below Lumberton in the Burnt Islands.

Mr. Anderson Locklear who is home convalescing from a stroke is slowly improving. Everyone remember him in prayer. My desire is to see him up again. Remember his family.

THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Prayer makes the darkest cloud withdraw. Prayer climbs the ladder Jacob saw. Gives exercise to faith and love, brings every blessing from above. And Satan trembles when he sees the weakest saint upon his knees."

To the family of Miss Betty Sampson, we extend our deepest sympathy. I know your hearts are heavily burdened for I have been down that same road. But Christ says leave all your worries with him because he cares for you. 1 Peter 5:7.

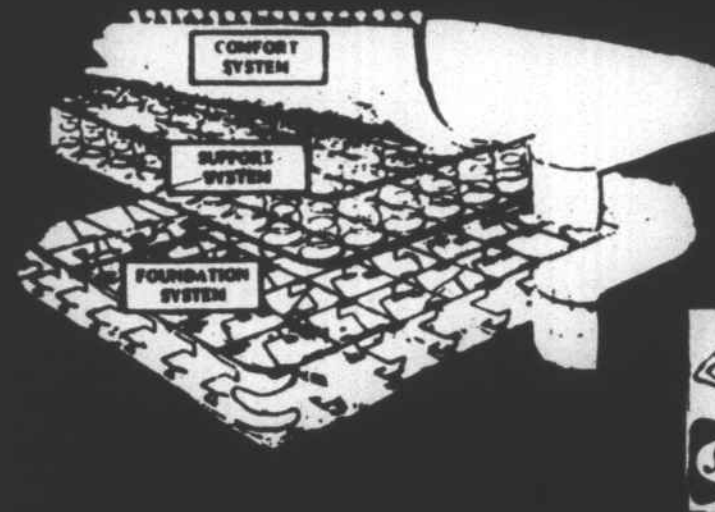

In 1783, Noah Webster published his "American Spelling Book." Its estimated sales in the next 100 years were 70 million.

Some people believed that emeralds quickened the intellect.
