WARRIOR

SPOTLIGHT

by David Malcolm

DANNY LOCKLEAR

PSHS baseball coach Ronnie Chavis predicted in a pre-season interview that Danny Locklear would prove valuable to the Warrior cause this season and his prediction has come true. Evidence of this is in the 15-0 win the Pembroke Senior High team gained over conference foe East Bladen last week. Danny Locklear led his team in hitting, going 3-5 while collecting a double and two singles. He has played good defense for a team which has been plagued by errors this season. A leader on the team, he is well liked by his team mates and fellow students and will be hard to replace as was Chuck Canady, a hustling type of player. Like Chuck, who graduated in 1977, he did not get to play a great deal his first two years but has blossomed into a fine ball player. He will be counted on to give more fine performances like the one against East Bladen if the Warriors are to have a chance at taking the conference tournament championship which they have held for the past three years. The best of luck to Danny and his team mates.

Dr. English E. Jones

PEMBROKE--A banquet for all Indian teachers in Robeson County who retired at the end of last school year will be held at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the Pembroke State University cafeteria, sponsored by the PSU American Indian Students Association.

Dr. English E. Jones, chancellor of Pembroke State University, will be the featured speaker.

This is the second straight year that the banquet has been held. Funds for the banquet were raised by the Indian students at PSU. A gift of $200 was also donated to defray banquet expenses by Bill Oxendine, President of T.B.S. Services, and his brother Jim, an Atlanta attorney who is also Chairman of the Georgia Commission of Indian Affairs.

The PSU American Indian Students Association will also present a plaque at the banquet in honor of the late Walter Pinchbeck, a long-time employee of PSU, to Mrs. Pinchbeck. Pinchbeck was nationally famous for his work with the Boy Scouts of America.

This banquet is the climax of American Indians Students' Week at PSU.

Officers of the PSU American Indian Students Association are: president--William Sanderson, Fairmont; vice president--Flora Lowry, Pembroke; secretary--Elvera Locklear, Pembroke; and treasurer--Elaine Lowry, Pembroke. Advisor to the organization is Larry T. Brooks, counselor for special programs at PSU.

The retired Indian teachers being honored are as follows: Jessie Bell Chavis, Georgina Dial, Recee Dial, Luther Dimery, Wilma Graham, Parrel Jacobs, Steve Jones, Mary H. Locklear, Mary L.B. Locklear, Pearlie Locklear, Crida Mae Lowry, Theodore Lowry, Clara Neville and Raeford Samson.

The great Italian violin virtuoso Niccolò Paganini played so brilliantly, a legend grew up around him that he had made a pact with the Devil.
