Cummings-Orndorff Exchange Vows

Joan Marie Cummings of Crownsville, Md., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Cummings and granddaughter of Mrs. Berie Brooks and the late M.D. Cummings, became the bride of Martin E. Orndorff of Crownsville, Md., son of Mr. and Mrs. George Orndorff. The Rev. James Mitchell performed the ceremony at South Shore Baptist Church.

Joan Marie Cummings of Crownsville, Md. became the bride of Martin E. Orndorff of Crownsville, Md. recently. The Rev. James Mitchell performed the ceremony at South Shore Baptist Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Cummings and the granddaughter of Mrs. Berie Brooks and the late M.D. Cummings. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Orndorff.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride's Matron of honor was Rose Billhimer. Bridesmaids were Sherry Snodgrass, Gloria Smith, Donna Burrus. Junior bridesmaids were Linda Dorr and Kendra Orndorff, sister of the groom. George Orndorff, III, brother of the groom served as best man. Ushers were Larry Eller, John Burrus, and Barry Orndorff, brother of the groom. Junior ushers were Steve Lowry, cousin of the bride and Glenn Cummings, brother of the bride.

The wedding reception was held at Herald Harbor Fire Department. Following a trip to Pocono Mountains, the couple are residing in Glen Burnie, Md.

Those attending the wedding from Rowland, NC were Mrs. Berie Brooks, Mrs. Arminis Locklear, Mrs. Eleven Lowry, Flynnette Brewington, Pembroke, NC were Mrs. Debbie Collins and Cristie Cary, NC were Ms. Lucy Lowry and Steve Lowry. Sanford, NC were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bullard, Kent and Alison Bullard.

Eight Family Members Attend Church Services

A special event took place in the Adult Class of Ever Green Church on Sunday, Sept. 10. The teacher, Mrs. Leale Brooks, wishes to share it with the readers of The Carolina Indian Voice because she has worked with the class for six years and has never experienced anything like it. There were eight members of one family present. They were the children of the late Mr. Eranest and Mrs. Roberta Ozendine. Four of the children are regular attendants of the class. On Sunday, Sept. 10 they were joined by four more members of the family. Those regular members are Mr. Luke Ozendine, Mr. Ferdie Ray Ozendine, Mr. James E. Ozendine and Mrs. Ila Mae Locklear. Visiting the class were Mrs. Ethel Bine of Pembroke, Mrs. Gertrude Bell of Parkton, Mrs. Mattie Franklin and Mrs. Evie Lee McFarlin, both of California. Another daughter was present in the Bible Class. She was Mrs. Loretta Locklear of Pembroke.

Indian Museum Hosting Saturday Morning Programs

This fall, the Indian Museum of the Carolinas, Laurinburg, will be hosting a series of Saturday morning programs about the American Indian.

According to Michael R. Sellon, the museum's associate director, the series is funded in-part by a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities; and in-part by the Indian Museum. The programs are free of charge and are open to persons of all ages from North and South Carolina.

The series, which will be held in the museum building at 607 Turnpike Road, will take place according to the following schedule:

Saturday, Sept. 23: Background on the American Indian from 9 until 11:30 a.m. Michael R. Sellon: Instructor, Pembroke State University & St. Andrews College: "Man in the New World before 100 BC." Dr. David A. McLean: Professor, St. Andrews College, and director, Indian Museum; and author of First on the Land: The North Carolina Indian; "North Carolina Indian Ethnohistories."

Saturday, Sept. 30: The Lumbee Indians at 9 until 12 noon. Adolph Dial: Professor, Pembroke State University; "History of the Lumbee." Dr. Dalton P. Brooks, Director of Institutional Research at Pembroke State University; "PSU and Lumbee Education in Historical Perspective." Dr. Robert W. Reising: Professor, Pembroke State University; "Language and Literature of the Lumbee." Dr. James B. Chavis: Dean of Student Affairs, Pembroke State University; "The Lumbee Today."

Saturday, October 14: Native American Arts and Crafts in North Carolina, 10:00-12:00 Artists and craftsmen representing the Cherokee, Catawba, Lumbee and other groups will be making and displaying their works. Participants will also see films and have an opportunity to make their own pottery and arrowheads. This event is co-sponsored by the Scotland County Arts Council. Also between the hours of 1-3 p.m.

Saturday, October 28: Collectors' Day: 9-12 noon. Several Indian artifact collectors will display and discuss their collections. Professional archeologists Dr. David A. McLean and Michael R. Sellon will discuss proper recording techniques. Films will also be shown.

Saturday, November 11: Film Presentation on the American Indian: 9-12 noon. Films will be shown, documenting American Indian history, arts and crafts, religion, reservation conditions, etc. Participants will be given a movie resource list.

Saturday, December 2: Native American Lore, 9-12 noon. American Indian folklore, myths, and legends will be presented. We are arranging for a colorful and dynamic speaker to breathe life and color into the day's topic. This could be the most exciting morning of all. Noted author Ruth Wetmore will head the presentation.

According to Sellon, these programs should be colorful, exciting, interesting, entertaining, and educational for everybody. Interested persons may come to all, or any, of the programs.

For further information, call or write: Michael R. Sellon, Associate Director or Ruth Y. Wetmore, Curator, Indian Museum of the Carolinas, Inc. 607 Turnpike Road, Laurinburg, NC 28352. (919) 276-8800.

Pembroke Kiwanis Enjoy Program Of Gospel Music

Club President James A. Sampson presided at the Tuesday evening meeting of Pembroke Kiwanis at Sims Restaurant. The invocation was given by Eddie Mae Locklear.

Bernard Lowry, program chairman for the evening, introduced Mr. and Mrs. Lanford Godwin who presented a program of gospel songs. Mrs. Godwin accompanied her husband's solos. His program included "When I Hear Jesus Say Come Home;" "I Just Came to Talk to You Lord;" "He Never Once Stopped Loving Me;" "Loved Thou Me." His closing song was "Jesus Have Mercy on Me," in which he was joined by the audience.

Another son was unable to attend, Mr. Marlie Ozendine of Pembroke. Said Mrs. Brooks: "I am proud of this family. Their parents raised them to attend Ever Green. This class is one of the sweetest and loving classes on earth. We share all our joys and griefs together. Please pray for us as a group to be able to help each other to understand God's word."
