

Stephen B. Hardy Awarded Scholarship

London-The American College announced today that Mr. Stephen B. Hardy of Pembroke has been awarded the Emilio Pucci International Scholarship to study fashion merchandising at The American College in London.

A graduate of Pembroke Senior High, Mr. Hardy was recommended for the $1000 scholarship by his high school on the basis of his record of achievement, qualities of character and potential for success in his career field.

Mr. Hardy will begin his studies at The American College in London and may take a portion of his college work at the sister college in London. The American College offers the experience of studying abroad and select students have the opportunity to participate in internship programs with prestigious firms like The House of Hermes in Paris, Emilio Pucci in Florence, Simpson (Picadilly) Ltd., in London or Bill Gibb of London.

The American College in London and Atlanta attracts students internationally and offers two and four year programs in fashion merchandising, fashion design and interior design.

The American College for the Applied Arts in Atlanta is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools and the American College in London offers Associate and Bachelor of Arts Degrees. U.S. offices of The American College are at 5801 Peachtree Dunwoody Road, N.E., Atlanta, Georgia 30342.

Mt. Airy News by Violet Locklear

The regular monthly singing was held Sunday night at Mt. Airy Church. Participants included the Mt. Airy Young Adult Ladies, The Ladies Chorus, The Spiritualettes, The Evergreen Ladies, The Victory Singers, The Good News Singers, and Mrs. Adelaide Locklear of Detroit, Michigan. It was the first time we had heard her in years. It is so nice for her to be back with us for a while. Mrs. Cummings, the pastor's mother, dismissed us with a closing prayer.

Mrs. Rockie Jane Locklear has returned home from McCain Hospital where she was a patient for over three weeks. Visiting her Sunday evening were Mr. Proctor Locklear, Mrs. Winnie Jones, Mrs. Bernice Oxendine and daughter, Mrs. Beulah Oxendine and daughter, Mrs. Julie Mae Jacobs, Mr. R.D. Locklear II and others. She is still in a weak condition.

Mr. Robert Locklear has returned home from Durham Hospital where he underwent surgery.

His condition remains unsatisfactory.

On Sunday morning at Evergreen Holiness Church Rev. Clester Carter delivered a wonderful message. The Young People's Meeting was held at 5:30 in the evening. Rev. Titus Locklear brought the message. It was wonderful.

The pastor, Rev. Joseph Locklear would like to remind everyone that the regular singing Sunday will be omitted due to a special memorial day at the Youth for Christ Church near Maxton, in honor of the Rev. Gold Carter. Everyone is invited.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Brooks were dinner guests Sunday in the home of their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Billie Oxendine and family. After dinner, Mrs. Brooks and daughter Linda visited Mrs. Brooks' mother, Mrs. Maggie C. Locklear who has been a shut-in due to illness. Please remember all these sick ones in your prayers.

Mr. Harold Tyler attended a business meeting Monday night in Fayetteville.

Mrs. Cora M. Jones remains a patient in McCain Hospital. Her condition is slowly improving.

Mrs. Mary F. Maynor is a patient at Southeastern General Hospital. Please remember all these sick ones.

Celebrates Birthday

Mrs. Mary E. Carter, along with her husband, Mr. John L. Carter, and some of her children spent Friday night at Ocean Isle Beach celebrating her birthday.

Mrs. Carter is a woman of great love for her family and fellowmen. Her words of kindness is a great influence on a lot of people's lives. So, let's all wish her many, many, more happy birthdays.

Mrs. (Foster) Lizzie Locklear is also a patient in Southeastern General Hospital.

Mr. J.H. Locklear was able to be in church Sunday. His condition remains serious.

Questions? Have you ever wondered what you would do if you had some portion of your life to live over again? Most of us have.

If I were beginning my family again I would try for more togetherness. It may sound strange, but many who live in the same house are worlds apart. One expression I've heard in family retreats and conferences over the years—more than any other—is that "If I had it to do over I would spend more time with my children."

These times together, not the things done alone, are what we remember. In my childhood days my father and mother knew very grave hardship.

Yet, I recall how whole days of life in our home were glorified and even the hardships seemed light because of my father's graciousness. It cost only a few moments of time, and a heart full of love. To parents, the acts of kindness and love have a power that we must never underestimate. Just the touch of the hand, a loving smile, a careful compliment, a close caress, can work wonders. The little words "I love you" and "I'm sorry" enrich both the giver and receiver. When a child feels he belongs in the family and that he is of real worth there, he enters the world feeling loved and with the ability to love and accept others.

I'm Proud To Be Indian

Henry Berry I'm proud to be a Lumbee Indian. Because life is so much fun when you're really on the run. I find it amazing that you are never tired. But that you're always ready.

With your love of caring, and understanding. I'm proud to be a Lumbee Indian, oh yes. I'm really proud. Because life is never a chum. I'm proud to be a Lumbee Indian. Because we are so brave and strong. Because we had to work as slaves at Fort Fisher. Our Strength was sometimes gone.

But we still had our pride to believe in. When you, a few years later as a prisoner from Fort Fisher, escaped into the swamps of the Lumbee River. When you escaped into the swamps, and got together your band of warriors. The brave warriors went to fight for their constitutional rights. Our pride goes with Henry Berry Lowry for fighting for his beliefs and the deaths of his father and brother. Then, after a decade of fighting, you had killed the ten men responsible for the death of your loyal kin. After the fighting was almost over, your escape was made, during the night, through the swamps of Lumbee River. I'm proud to be a Lumbee Indian. for my life is filled with happy moments. It doesn't really matter what I'm doing, or what I'm feeling. For the love of joy is in my heart. I'm proud to be a Lumbee Indian knowing that Henry Berry Lowry risked his own life for the rights of the Indian people. Why talk until you have walked a mile in his moccasins.

BROADWAY IS MY BEAT

BY JOEY SASSO

Cast of Characters: Lauren Bacall's 90-year-old father has unleashed an astonishing attack on his superstar daughter. "She's ignored me for the past 49 years," he exclaimed. In an exclusive interview with me the father, William Perske, slammed Bacall's shocking autobiography "By Myself" as being "full of lies." And he angrily: Denied he turned his back on his daughter Lauren, who he nicknamed "Betty"; denied he exploited her fame to increase his business; and denied he "flew the coop" to keep from paying child support. "It's all a lie," Persky says. "Betty was only six when I last saw her," the retired Chevy Chase, MD, businessman said. "I had just taken her to summer camp. Three days later, my wife Natalie, her mother, left me for another man. She kept Betty from me but I sent my child support payments over the years. Her mother is dead now, so I'm the only one who knows the truth. And the truth is not in Betty's book." Plans are under way for the Bee Gees to be the first pop group from the West to perform in China. Sources close to the singing group are at odds as to what exactly is going on behind the scenes, but everyone agrees that if present arrangements are concluded, the Brothers Gibb — Barry, Maurice and Robin — could wind up performing at the International Club in Peking sometime early next year. Jane Fonda is worried about her Pa. Henry Fonda, 74, is about to open his play "The First Monday in October," for a run in L.A. and Jane fears the strenuous work will tax him too much. She pleaded with the old trouper to cancel the engagement, but he insists he'll be okay...

True, the house should present a favorable appearance—mowed lawn, trimmed shrubs, and no obvious indications of neglect, but it's rare when a large financial undertaking will bring more than its cost in the final selling price.
There is always the financial risk of miscalculation too. Home repairs costs frequently end up a lot higher than originally anticipated. You may end up with a faster sale and less inconvenience if you lower the selling price an equivalent amount.
Instead of guessing as to how much, if any, repair work to undertake, see a Realtor. He can tell you what to do to make your home more salable. And what not to do so you won't lose money.
