

INDIAN WEEK CONTINUES
Cont.'d From Page 1

of Hollister, NC. Everyone is invited to attend. Haliwa School, near Hollister, NC. If interested contact 586-4017.

name of the club was the Lumbee Student Association.

As the enrollment at PSU increased, more than one tribe

ARMED FORCES

JOHN L. SHAMBLIN JR.
Navy Aviation Support Equipment Technician 1st Class John L. Shamblyn Jr whose wife Doris, is the daughter of Rev. J.C. Huggins of Lumberton, has returned from an employment in Antarctica.

He is a member of Antarctic Development Squadron Six based at the Naval Air Station, Point Mugu, Calif.

While in Antarctica, his unit operated from McMurdo Station providing logistical and life sustaining support for scientists conducting research projects sponsored by the National Science Foundation. This is the 25th consecutive year the Navy has provided such support in operations known as "Deep Freeze." His unit also participated in the disaster recovery effort of the Air New Zealand flight which crashed in the Antarctic mountains.

Shamblyn joined the Navy in May 1969.

Warriors Roll Over Tornadoes

PEMBROKE-The Pembroke Warriors rolled over the Fairmont Golden Tornadoes Tuesday night 10-2. Leading the Warriors was Glenn Thomas who finished with a double, single and four RBIs.

striking out 12 along the way and scattering five hits.

The Warriors return to action Friday night when they host the Whiteville Wolfpack. Gametime is 7:30 p.m. The game will be played on the modern Pembroke State University Diamond.

The Warriors hope that the momentum of winning the Lumberton Invitational continues during the baseball season.

The win raises the Warrior record to 8-5, and 2-1 in the tough Three Rivers Conference.

Allen Oxendine went the distance for the Warriors was represented. In 1973 the name was changed to the American Indian Student Association. The purpose of the organization is to make known a pride in the American Indian heritage, the economic, political, and educational goals of the American Indians, and the unification of the Indian people. The activities planned are an attempt to stimulate Indian awareness in the community as well as on campus. The AISA strongly encourages all community members to attend!

GOSPEL SINGING

Thursday, April 17, at 7:30 p.m. at PSU in the Performing Arts Center. Featured groups will be the D & L Singers, Maxton; The Glory Bound Singers, Raeford; McNeil Trio, Lumberton; Deep Branch Young Adults Choir; Sycamore Young Adults Choir; Lamari Mitchell; Gospel Singing Quartet, Fairmont; Freewill Gospel Singers- Maxton; The Lowry Family, Raeford; The Simpson Quarter of Lumberton and many more.

Sponsored by the American Indian Student Association of Pembroke State University.

EMERY 5478
IN 1905 THE FIRST CRYPTOGRAPHY (SECRET CODE) BOOK WAS PUBLISHED IN THE U.S. DESCRIBED AS A DICTIONARY TO ENABLE ANY TWO PERSONS TO MAINTAIN A CORRESPONDENCE WITH SECURITY, WHICH IS IMPOSSIBLE FOR ANY OTHER PERSON TO DISCOVER.

THE CAROLINA INDIAN VOICE
A Weekly Newspaper
Established 1973
and Published Each Thursday

Second class postage paid at Pembroke, NC. Postmaster: Send form 3579 to The Carolina Indian Voice, P.O. Box 1075, Pembroke, NC 28372. USPS #978 380.

News From Barker Ten Mile

Mrs. Nora Lee Hardin

Chucky Blanks celebrated his 11th birthday April 13th.

Everybody enjoyed themselves, closing the Revival at Ten Mile Center Church Sunday morning.

Mr. Robert G. Jolly came to visit his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jolly of Saddletree, Mr. Robert Jolly is from Thomasville.

Mr. and Mrs. A.P. Browns, from St. Pauls, N.C. came to see Mr. and Mrs. Jolly Sunday.

Mr. Willie A. Bell had a birthday Saturday, April 12. He was 52.

Miss Bonnie Lee Bell from Habrook, New Jersey, came down to Lumberton and spent a week with her mother, Mrs. Fannie Bell.

EDITORIAL AND OPINION PAGE...

We Cannot Know Where We Are Going If We Don't Know Where We've Been...

So fittingly we honor our Pioneer Fathers

As I See It

by Bruce Barton

Another Warrior falls...

Rev. C.E. Locklear was buried yesterday after a lengthy illness. He was a very independent and proud man: he did his own thinking, based, of course, on his communion with his God.

It seems that all our Warriors are falling. My concern is that we are not developing anyone to take their places. Men like Rev. Locklear were tough, in part, because of the depression and their spirited fight against overt racism. They worked hard for a living. And they relied heavily on God for deliverance in times of difficulty.

Many of us do not know anything about what they went through. But we know that they stood for something of merit over a long period of time. We shall miss Rev. Locklear, as will all his family and friends and admirers.

We extend our sincere condolences to the family.

No censorship, please...

Folks in nearby Columbus County are experiencing shockwaves about censorship. Some say "yes," while a few say "no."

The furor has to do with a book, "Wife," that was recently banned by the county commissioners from Columbus County's Public Library. The book, written by Judy Blume, reportedly is about a woman who exorcises her frustrations through extramarital affairs. It contains sexually explicit material.

The library's board of directors agreed with the librarian that the book should not be removed from the shelves and that parents should exercise control over what their children read.

And Amanda Bible, the librarian, in a news report in the News and Observer bravely said, "It's not off the shelf... neither has it been nor will it be taken off the shelf until we are forced to take it off." Mrs. Bible contends that the library's copies of the book have simply been withdrawn so that members of the library's board of directors may read the book.

Censorship is a dangerous thing; too much of it will destroy a republic and make shambles of democracy. Most times I would sign up on the side of those who say one should not dictate what people can and cannot read. It's a dangerous thing to tell people what they can and cannot read.

The children? That's up to we parents. We ought to go with them to the library and get involved with what's happening. And if the book doesn't seem right then censor it for your own child...but do not attempt to place that censorship on anyone else's child. That's the danger.

According to Diana Tope, the librarian of the Robeson County Library, April 20-26 is being celebrated as National Library Week.

A good way to celebrate National Library Week is to leave the books alone. We are thankful that no one has complained yet about Robeson County Library's copies of "Wife." Now please...don't.

And, before I am accused of advocating trashy literature etc., please note that I recommend reading of the Bible as an antidote to the ill of the world.

Dr. English E. Jones relying on God during difficult times...

Dr. and Mrs. Gerald Maynor and I, following the Retired Teacher's Banquet at Town and Country Restaurant Wednesday night, decided to go see Dr. English E. Jones.

We found him in good spirits, relying heavily on God for his every need. We were glad to see him.

When he retired as chancellor of Pembroke State University last June he said, "If I've had any success in life it is because I have always kept my priorities in order. My God comes first; then my family and then my job."

WE SAY "NO" TO W. EARL BRITT AS A FEDERAL DISTRICT JUDGE

President Jimmy Carter has made it official: he has nominated W. Earl Britt for a U.S. District Court judgeship, based on another recommendation by Senator Robert Morgan. Morgan recently was denied approval by his peers in the United States Senate for another of his recommendations for a district judge, Charles Winberry. He is trying again with Britt.

If nominated Britt would sit in the Eastern District of North Carolina where two vacancies now exist.

Britt was raised in the McDonald section of Robeson County and is a former chairman of the Pembroke State University board of trustees as well as a past chairman of the Robeson County Democratic party. He is considered close to Morgan politically. He practices law in Lumberton.

But, in spite of President Carter, Senator Morgan, and sundry others, we say "no" to W. Earl Britt as a federal judge, especially because many constitutional questions like double voting begin their legal journey at the district level in the federal judiciary.

In times past W. Earl Britt fought the minorities of Robeson County on a number of

He is still maintaining the same priorities, especially since his recent illness. He said, "Bruce, God wants me exactly where I am. He is always right." I agree.

It was good to see "Doc" again. I hope his recovery continues although he seems to be taking things in stride. He says that whatever happens is o.k. because it is the way God has willed it.

He has a marvelous testimony and is looking forward to becoming a more effective worker for Christ. He noted: "...that's more important than being chancellor or anything else."

constitutional questions like double voting and participated in questionable legislative annexations that seem to defy the voting rights act and other civil rights legislation.

While serving as chairman of the PSU Board of Trustees he made a motion to proceed with the demolition of Old Main. If he had received a second Old Main, more likely than not, would be a distant memory rather than a thriving and exciting Native American Resource Center and a beehive of activity on the PSU campus.

Too, Britt represented the county in opposition to the double voting law suit initiated by some concerned Indian parents. Britt upheld a nefarious practice whereby voters residing within the then five city units in Robeson County voted on their own respective boards of education as well as on the makeup of the Robeson County Board of Education (where most of the Indian parents reside). He was a hearty foe of those who chafed under the feudal chains of double voting. Thank God he was over ruled in federal court, at the appeals level.

For these reasons and more we say "no" to W. Earl Britt as a federal district judge.

Women's Conference Continued From Page 1

for increasing and maximizing opportunities for leadership by women.

The Robeson County Conference was co-sponsored by the Office of the Governor and the NC Council on the Status of Women. Local coordination of the conference was effected by a Conference Planning Committee comprised of Ruth Dial Woods, Chairperson, Frances Cummings, Margaret Krabill, Molly Briley, Elvera Locklear, Dr. James B. Chavis, Vice Chancellor of Student Affairs at PSU, and Dr. Sylvester Wooten, Director of Continuing Education of PSU. The Pembroke Jayettes served as the Conference Hospitality Committee. Exhibits were coordinated by Jean Becker and Karen Brown of the Robeson County Public Library. The Conference Invitation Committee included Adelaide G. Behan (Robeson County League of Women Voters); Ruth H. Mundy (Meals on Wheels Volunteers); Dencie Page (Lumberton Junior Service League); Marie S. Gibson (Lumberton Civettes); Lorraine Von Hofen (Lumberton Jayettes); Mary Ann Walker (Pembroke State University Chapter-American Association of University Professors); Larue Jones (Pioneer Club); Doris Cummings (Pembroke Jayettes); Deborah Sampson (Pembroke Business and Professional Women's Club); Eleanor Ebert (Colonel Thomas Robeson Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution); Cletus Hamilton (Lumberton Business and Professional Women's Club); and the Robeson County Democratic Women's Club.

WIN $1,000 TODAY!

PIGGLY WIGGLY

CASH KING

OVER 34,700 TOTAL PRIZES!

PIGGLY WIGGLY

PLUS YOU COULD WIN $25.00 IN GROCERIES!

PLAY CASH KING OVER $101,800 IN CASH AND GROCERY PRIZES!

IT'S FUN, FREE, EASY!

● Pick up your FREE Collector Card at any of our participating stores. No purchase necessary. Each card contains five games where you can win $5, $10, $25 in FREE GROCERIES, $100, or $1,000! Plus, you could win $1 or $2 INSTANTLY!

● Each time you visit our store pick up a FREE Game Ticket. Punch out the perforated sections to reveal four game markers. Simply match each marker to the corresponding square on your Collector Card. Just follow the easy rules on the back of your Collector Card... you could be the next BIG WINNER!

W I N N I N G

1,000 100

1010 1010

9 9 9 9

6 6 3 3

A A 3 3

8 8 8 8

7 7 7 7

J J 5 5

4 4 2 2

Take advantage of our everyday low prices AND a chance to win cash prizes. Play Cash King today!

ODDS CHART

ODDS CHART EFFECTIVE 30 DAYS FROM ANNOUNCEMENT DATE

PRIZE	NUMBER OF PRIZES	ODDS FOR ONE GAME TICKET	ODDS FOR 10 GAME TICKETS	ODDS FOR 25 GAME TICKETS
$1,000	20	1 in 107,200	1 in 10,720	1 in 4,288
$250	200	1 in 10,720	1 in 1,072	1 in 428.8
$100	400	1 in 5,360	1 in 536	1 in 214.4
$50	800	1 in 2,680	1 in 268	1 in 107.2
$25	1,600	1 in 1,340	1 in 134	1 in 53.6
$10	3,200	1 in 670	1 in 67	1 in 26.8
$5	6,400	1 in 335	1 in 33.5	1 in 13.4
$2	12,800	1 in 167.5	1 in 16.75	1 in 6.7

Cash King #99116 is being played in all participating stores. Prizes are awarded on a random basis. Prizes are awarded on a random basis. Prizes are awarded on a random basis.

SHOP PIGGLY WIGGLY, WHERE YOU ALWAYS GET A WINNING DEAL!