Indian Youth Singers Perform in Capitol

The Title IV Part A Indian Education Project has sponsored instruction in choral music for Indian students in several schools for the past three years. Under the direction of Ms. Patrisse Locklear, Cultural Enrichment Specialist for the Title IV Part A project, advanced choral students have attended summer choral clinics at Pembroke State University, the Lumbee River Center for the Performing Arts, and continued to study choral music during the school year.

On Friday, May 15th, the Robeson County Indian Youth Choral participated in the 1981 Capitol Square Arts Festival sponsored by the N.C. State Department of Public Instruction, Division of
