INDIAN HERITAGE WEEK

Sept. 20-26 has been proclaimed Indian Heritage Week in North Carolina.

Statewide and local activities, which will call attention to the history and contributions of N.C. Indians, are planned for the week, according to A. Bruce Jones, executive director of the N.C. Commission of Indian Affairs, which is coordinating the week's activities.

Unlike in the nursery rhyme, today the Indian "chief" may also be a doctor, lawyer or merchant, a productive member of society contributing to the welfare of all American citizens, according to Jones. Some 65,000 Indians live and work in North Carolina today.

North Carolina Indians comprise five tribes...Cherokee, Coharie, Haliwa-Saponi, Lumbee and Waccamaw-Siouan...and three major urban organizations...in Fayetteville, Greensboro and Charlotte.

The second annual Indian Heritage Week will officially begin with activities at the state Capitol on Sunday, Sept. 20, beginning at 3 p.m. Featured speaker will be Dr. Lindy Martin, chief executive for the Society for the Preservation of American Indian Culture. Activities will include traditional tribal dancing, demonstrations, displays, crafts, slide presentations and a public reception. In addition, art by Lumbee women is on display at the N.C. Council on the Status of Women, 526 N. Wilmington St., Raleigh, throughout September during regular business hours and will be on exhibit from 3 to 6 p.m. Sept. 20.

PEMBROKE--Reggle Strickland, a resident of Pembroke for the past twenty-three years, today announced his candidacy for the office of Mayor of Pembroke.

Strickland said, "Today I am announcing my candidacy for mayor with a feeling of humility, and also a willingness to work with the citizens of Pembroke for the betterment of the town."

Strickland, 44, previously served four and one-half years as a councilman and was mayor from 1975 until 1979.

He and his wife, Edith, are the proud parents of four children. In making his announcement Strickland was very careful to announce proudly that he and his wife also have one grandson.

Glenn Maynor reappointed to RTC Board

Glenn Maynor

Lumberton-Glenn Maynor has been reappointed to the board of trustees of Robeson Technical College by Governor Jim Hunt, filling the unexpired term of the late J. Mark Brooks which expires June 30, 1985.

There has been some speculation that Maynor would not be reappointed to the board because John Willie Oxendine of the Saddletree community had been named to the full term of Maynor's original appointment to the board. Oxendine's appointment expires in June 1989.

Maynor, a member of the Lumberton City Council, is executive director of the Robeson County Housing Authority.

Maynor attends West End Baptist Church and is active in the West Lumberton PTA. He is a past member of the Save Old Main Commission, precinct chairman for West Lumberton and a member of the Democratic Executive Committee of the 7th Congressional District. Maynor, who has served on RTC's board for the last eight years, is also a member of the Lumber River Council of Government and a member of the Indian Education Parent Committee for the Lumberton School System.

Maynor said, "I thank all those who petitioned the governor in my behalf. I have enjoyed serving on RTC's board of trustees and I promise to continue to represent all the people who are served by Robeson Technical College."

INCUMBENTS BROOKS & HUNT

FILE FOR ANOTHER TERM

Milton Hunt

PEMBROKE--The Robeson County Board of Elections officially opened its books for candidates to file in the upcoming municipal elections Friday, Sept. 11.

Incumbent Councilman Milton Hunt wasted no time in registering his intent to seek another term to the Pembroke Town Council. Hunt, a life-long resident of Pembroke, was the first candidate to file in the Pembroke race which will decide on a mayor and two council seats.

In announcing his candidacy, Hunt stated: "I would like to express my sincere appreciation to the citizens of Pembroke for allowing me this privilege and honor of serving them for the past six years. In spite of the economic crunch we have been experiencing nationally and locally, I feel that Pembroke has made significant progress socially, economically and politically over the last several years." Hunt pointed to tighter management of existing resources, and the bringing in of federal dollars to fund community improvement programs as some of the key elements of holding the Pembroke budget at a stable level.

He cited Pembroke's community development grant, received from H.U.D. in 1981, as the most notable accomplishment in the area of economic development and community improvement in the history of the town. Said he, "I'm committed to the concept of bringing back to Pembroke its fair share of federal and state monies. I'm confident that with our good track record of program performance our efforts in this area will continue to be fruitful, bringing about a higher standard of living for our citizens."

Hunt, while stressing the need for federal and state grants, made it clear that the brunt of municipal operations must be carried locally. Says Hunt, "By instituting tight budget controls and with fiscal constraint, we have been able to accomplish more with less money as inflation has eaten into the value of our dollar. These monetary constraints have helped us to hold the line on the cost of services and the level of taxes to our citizens, while at the same time we have completed many improvements with local dollars, in the areas of streets, new street signs, reorganization of the recreation department (Little League), Town Park, cable T.V., a new courthouse, water and sewer improvements and a new public works building which is saving the taxpayer money."

Hunt, who is married to the former Polly Deese, has two children--Anthony, 13 and Kimberly, 10. A drywall contractor by trade, Hunt and his family reside at the corner of 5th and Breese Streets.

Larry T. Brooks

Councilman Larry T. Brooks has announced his candidacy for re-election to the Pembroke Town Council in Pembroke's upcoming municipal election. Brooks is employed at Pembroke State University as a counselor and has served in that capacity for the past six years.

He is a 1971 graduate of Pembroke State University with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Mathematics and earned his master's degree in administration from Appalachian State University in 1976.

Prior to accepting this present position at the University in 1975, Brooks taught

GARAGE

SERVICE

If a tie is like kissing your sister, the first taste of victory must be pure sweetness for the Pembroke Warriors after shutting out the Red Springs Red Devils 15-0 last Friday night. Following 2 consecutive ties with South Robeson and Orrum, the Varsity Warriors put it all together behind an offensive unit that rolled up 240 yards and a defensive unit that held the Red Devils to just 9 first downs and forced four turnovers.

Pembroke wasted no time as they stopped Red Springs' opening drive on four plays and then drove 60 yards on 14 plays to score on Greg Smith's two yard plunge. On the extra point attempt, the Warriors faked the kick with holder Devy Bell tossing a strike to Steve Jacobs for a two point conversion.

In the second half after the first drive stalled, the Pembroke defense forced the Red Devils to fumble near the Red Springs 40 yard line. Five plays later quarterback Anthony Locklear ran it in from the 10 yard line. Dwayne Locklear's extra point brought the score to 15-0 and it was all over for the Red Devils. Their remaining three possessions ended with a fumble, an incomplete pass on fourth down, and an interception as the Warrior defense again proved themselves.

The one spur in the Warriors' side all night was the scrambling style of the Red Springs' quarterback who rushed for better than 80 yards. Other than this the defensive unit time and time again managed to stop the Red Devils' drives.

Statistically, the Warrior offense had a balanced attack. Running backs Michael McCartney and Greg Smith ran for 64 and 77 yards, respectively, with Smith scoring one touchdown. Quarterback Anthony Locklear rushed seven times for 28 yards and one touchdown while passing eight times with four completions and 42 yards.

STATISTICS

Pembroke: Total yards--240, Rushing--198, passing--42, first downs--14 and penalties--45.
Red Springs: Total yards--133, rushing--100, passing--33, first downs--9, and penalties--30.

Pembroke's "Warrior of the Week" for the Red Springs game is quarterback Anthony Locklear. Anthony rushed for 28 yards and one touchdown. He passed eight times, completed four for 42 yards, and had one interception.

Anthony is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Locklear of Pembroke, and is a senior.
