PEMBROKE--The battle lines are drawn, and the war will be decided November 3 when Pembroke voters go to the polls to elect a mayor and two city councilmen.

The campaign has spawned activity from at least two election committees; one, the Pembroke Citizens for Better Government, has sprung up around the campaign efforts of Henry Smith, Harry Oxendine and Sam Dial. Smith and Oxendine, newcomers to the political wars, are contesting incumbents Larry T. Brooks and Milton Hunt for two council seats up for grabs. Dial is vying with incumbent Mayor James A. "Pete" Jacobs and former mayor Reggie Strickland for the mayor's seat.

Reggie Strickland is seemingly running an independent campaign and is concentrating on "house to house" campaigning. He has not been identified publicly with either committee.

Incumbent Mayor James A. "Pete" Jacobs and incumbents Larry T. Brooks and Milton Hunt, seem to be unofficially paired. A number of campaign ads have been run heralding the progress of the incumbent administration, appearing under the auspices of Citizens for Continued Progress.

Although Brooks and Hunt seem to be favored in the jousting for the two council seats the mayor's race has most political observers baffled with few daring to place any bets about a winner.

The polls open Tuesday, November 3, at 6:30 a.m. and close at 7:30 p.m. Shortly thereafter Pembroke's questions for mayor and two council seats will be answered by the Pembroke electorate.

Miss N.C.A.I.

Chief W.R. Richardson, of the Hallwa/Saponi tribe is shown congratulating Mary Kim Titla, a San Carlos Apache from Arizona who was crowned "Miss NCAI."

The coronation was part of the grand banquet of the 38th annual convention of the National Congress of American Indians held at the Sheraton Anchorage Hotel in Anchorage, Alaska October 11-16, 1981.

In an awesome display of offensive and defensive power, the 10th ranked Pembroke Warriors defeated Pender County last Friday night 40-7, spoiling the Patriot homecoming and moving the Warriors into a tie for second place in the Three Rivers Conference.

The Warriors rolled up over 380 total yards and 21 first downs as the defense held the Patriots to 169 yards, seven first downs, and forced three turnovers.

The first turnover came with only 1:35 gone in the first quarter when defensive back Bobby Sampson stepped in front of a Patriot receiver and raced 38 yards for the first Warrior score.

However, as has happened on several occasions this season, the defense allowed the opposition a quick score. Following the Warrior kickoff, Patriot running back Terry Carr rambled 71 yards for a score. Butch Mantooth's extra point kick gave Pender a 7-6 lead.

That proved to be the only points Pender could muster as the potent Warriors put things in gear. At 8:39 of the second quarter, Michael McCartney plunged over from the two for the first of his three touchdowns. Then in a play that has worked exceptionally well this season, the Warriors threw for a two point conversion off of a faked kick bringing the score to 14-7.

In the second half, the Warriors picked up where they left off both offensively and defensively. Taking the kickoff, the Warriors marched 60 yards in 13 plays with McCartney going in for the score from the three. Then after the defense forced the Patriots to punt after only three plays, the Warriors drove for yet another score in nine plays including a 37 yard pass from Anthony Locklear to Ryan Tuck.

On the first play following the ensuing kickoff, the defense forced a fumble. However, this time the offense was unable to move the ball. It was not long before they had another chance. At 5:53 in the fourth quarter McCartney went in for his third touchdown. Dwayne Locklear's extra point kick brought the score to 33-7.

It then took the Warriors less than three minutes to score their final touchdown on a 6 yard pass from quarterback Locklear to Ryan Tuck.

Greg Smith rushed for 152 yards on 24 carries and one touchdown. McCartney had 75 yards and his three touchdowns brought his season total to eight. Quarterback Anthony Locklear was seven or seventeen passing for 144 yards and one touchdown. Ryan Tuck caught four passes for 63 yards and one touchdown.

The win brought the Warriors record for the season to 5-1-2 and 2-1 in the conference. Tomorrow night the Warriors travel to East Bladen where a win could give them sole possession of second place in the conference.

LUMBEE LEADERS ATTEND N.C.A.I. CONVENTION

A surprise visitor to the N.C.A.I. Convention were Sgt. Craig Sampson, Jr., his wife Emma Jane, and daughter. Sgt. Sampson is stationed in Alaska.

Chief W.R. Richardson shown conversing with Ken Maynor, Executive Director of LRDA, and Ms. Dorcas, Assistant Secretary of the Dept. of Health and Human Services.

Lumbee delegates at the 38th Annual Convention of the National Congress of American Indians (NCAI), held this year in Anchorage, Alaska, were James Sampson, Jr., member of LRDA's Board of Directors, and Kenneth R. Maynor, Executive Director of LRDA.

Theme of the Convention, which began October 11th and ran through October 16th, was "Spirit - Sovereignty - Survival."

Said Ronald P. Andrade, NCAI Executive Director: "We see this Convention as a time for setting new directions and policy for the NCAI staff to follow in the next year."

Continued Andrade: "The past year's activity has been dominated by NCAI's response to the new Reagan Administration's initiatives." He expressed concern that the budget cuts would be shouldered by Indian tribes and other groups. "At the same time," said he, "we have been vigilant of the efforts of the federal courts to take away inherent Indian rights." But, while the priorities of Stockman -- he's President Reagan's chief budget cutter -- are a cause for concern, NCAI executive director Andrade says the Reaganites at least listen better than the White House policy-makers under Jimmy Carter.

Within the first six months after Reagan assumed the White House, Indians leaders were called in for a conference with "major sub-Cabinet staff" members, according to Andrade.

Andrade said that that sort of recognition of Indian concerns "keys a new access" to other federal departments. Furthermore, according to Andrade, although it yet remains a promise, Reagan "has agreed to the creation of
