NINE CHANCELLOR'S SCHOLARS ANNOUNCED FOR FALL SEMESTER

PSU's Chancellor's Scholars Program, from which five graduate May 8, will have 30 students involved in the program this fall. Fifteen are ones continuing the program, and 15 are in-coming freshmen.

All of the newcomers, who include among their ranks two valedictorians and two Morehead Scholarship nominees, will have their full tuitions paid to PSU.

Unlike regular undergraduate students, PSU's Chancellor's Scholars are required to do special research and write a thesis. They take part in special classes and seminars and go on special trips. At graduation, they are specially designated as Chancellor's Scholars in commencement exercises.

The 10 new Chancellor's Scholars for this year are: Sarah Louise Davis of Fayetteville, a graduate of South View High; Pam Edwards of Fayetteville, a graduate of Douglas Byrd Senior High; Lee Anne Hester of Bladenboro, a graduate of Bladenboro High; Carla Hobbs of Fayetteville, a graduate of South View High; Jeanne

Jacobs of Fairmont, a graduate of Fairmont High; Eugene Johnson of Fayetteville, a graduate of Douglas Byrd Senior High; Tony Jones of Orrum, a graduate of Orrum High; Venita Lilly of Fayetteville, a graduate of Douglas Byrd Senior High; Susan Powers of Lumberton, a graduate of Lumberton Senior High; and Denise Willoughby of Lumberton, a graduate of Lumberton Senior High. Miss Davis of South View High who received the English, French and Speech awards in her senior year, was her school's Morehead nominee and was chosen to speak at graduation.

Miss Hester, who was valedictorian at Bladenboro High, was also "Who's Who in American High Schools," chief marshal, and winner of the Physical Science, Geometry, and French I and II awards.

Miss Jacobs of Fairmont High School was a nominee for the Morehead Scholarship and has served as president of the student council. This year she has served as treasurer of the school's Native American Student Association.

Jones of Orrum High School was valedictorian of his class and plans to go into medicine. During this year he was president of the Student Council and attended the Minority Leadership Conference at UNC-Chapel Hill.

This is a very fine program, administered by Dr. Charles Jenkins, PSU academic dean. It is certain to continue growing and adding greater prestige to PSU.

STUDENTS URGED TO APPLY EARLY FOR STUDENT LOANS

The American Association of State Colleges and Universities (AASCU) is urging all students who expect to need a federal Guaranteed Student Loan (GSL) for this fall to apply as soon as possible—and well before Oct. 1 in any case.

AASCU also urges students to apply for Pell Grants and other student aid as soon as possible.

"We hope that Congress will not support the Administration's plan or the Senate Budget Committee's plan to limit the GSL program, greatly increase students' debts, and make loans impossible for many students," said Allan Ostar, president of AASCU. "But," he added, "in any case Congress does, it is especially important for students to get their loan applications in early."

Contrary to some published reports, says the AASCU, many students who apply to public colleges and universities this fall will be eligible for some federal student aid.

ROBERT KEBER ELECTED TO VICE CHAIRMAN'S POST

Robert Keber, instructor of geography and geology at PSU, has been elected vice chairman of the Lumber River Basin Committee. The purpose of the committee is to protect water quality of the Lumber River and improve its use as a recreational resource.

Other committee officers elected were: chairman—L.D. Hunnings, Lumberton, and secretary-treasurer—Donna Scott, Fiar Bluff.

DR. ROBERT HERSCH TO BE CHANCELLOR'S RADIO GUEST

Dr. Robert Hersch, who is completing his second year as director of library services at PSU, will be the radio guest of Chancellor Paul Givens for his weekly radio program, "From The Chancellor's Office," to be aired at 10:45 p.m. Sunday over WAGR in Lumberton.

Hersch has been involved in a number of innovations at PSU, including the recent book binding and microfilming of all issues of the Carolina Indian Voice from 1973 through 1980. He believes this weekly newspaper, especially devoted to Indians, has a great deal of material worth preserving as historical references.

COLOR PORTRAIT OF DR. NADEAU COMPLETED

A color portrait of Dr. Andre Nadeau, professor of health and physical education who died in January of 1981 after 11 1/2 years of service to PSU, has been completed by Doris Nance of Lumberton. It will hang in the Dr. Andre Nadeau Lecture Hall in the Jones Health and Physical Education Center. Money to pay for the painting was raised by students in the Physical Education Department.

"Jean [Mrs. Nadeau] was thrilled by the painting," said Dr. Ray Pennington, department chairman.

REMINDER ABOUT SPORTS CAMPS BEGINNING AT PSU

A reminder that the first of four summer sports camps at PSU will begin Monday. This first one is the eighth annual All-Sports Camp for boys and girls ages 6-15. Directed by Dr. Ray Pennington, the camp includes swimming, gymnastics, tennis and diving. Cost is $55 per camper. Applications will be taken through June 7.

Following it will be the Wrestling Camp from June 13-18, the junior high boys' basketball camp from July 11-16, and the senior boys' basketball camp from July 18-23.

Miss Lee Pam Oxendine Lumberton Sr. High School

Some people say, "Here today, gone tomorrow." This statement holds true to so many circumstances. Take for example; the span of one day is twenty-four hours and after that time period, that day is never seen again to any man or woman. I believe that one should put his utmost ambitions in that day for he might not live to see the next. The ways of the Indian people have been cherished from one generation to another, and through these generations they have grown to see that one can never accomplish one goal if he or she doesn't strive for many. I feel that we are a very prosperous race of people and can do anything we set our minds to. In this time and age people are down on everything from politics to the movie that is playing at the theatre. One thing that I think that we should not do is be down on one another. With this one of the goals that one proud man or woman has set can be accomplished. Indians in Robeson County are heard often times saying, "He or she is Indian and they cannot do this or that." What people often fail to recognize is that without the Indian people standing up before us there would have never been such projects as LRDA or IEA. I am very proud of my people and I feel that we have come a long way. My challenge is this: "For the younger generations to reach for a higher standard than those that may have already been set and the goals will be unlimited."
