

Road Death Toll Reaches 7

From Staff And Wire Reports
A Hoke County died Monday night in a head-on crash, bringing to seven the number of people killed in North Carolina traffic accidents during the long Fourth of July weekend, according to the state Highway Patrol.
The victim was identified as George Maynor, 56, of Route 1, Raeford. Trooper A.J. Beason, who investigated the accident was also a witness.
Maynor was heading north on U.S. 401 about 5 1/2 miles north of Raeford when his car crossed the centerline and struck a tractor-trailer rig head-on. The truck driver was not injured.
In other accidents, a Harnett County man died Sunday night in a motorcycle accident.

Six of the victims died on roads and highways in the Cape Fear Region.
Leonard Elton Tripp, 11, of Dunn, died Sunday when he entered a curve at a high rate of speed and lost control of his motorcycle about 8:40 p.m., troopers said. The bike and rider crashed down an embankment on Rural Paved Road 1779, a mile south of Erwin.
Dierdra Long Thweatt, 39, of Route 3, Cameron, died when the car she was driving left a rural road 6 miles north of Southern Pines and struck a tree about 7:30 a.m. Sunday, the patrol said.
Three of the fatalities occurred earlier in Robeson County.
Connie Hayes Smith, 24, of Lumberton, was killed at 11:50 p.m. Saturday when the car she was driving along a rural road 10 miles south of her hometown hit a tree.

David Taylor Zekonis, 20, and Paul William Zekonis, 63, both of Monroe, died Saturday morning on U.S. 74 in Robeson County when the car they were riding in was struck by another car driving left of the center line, state troopers said. Three people were injured in the accident eight miles west of Lumberton.
Elsewhere, a motorcycle accident claimed the life of Howard Wayne Burkhart, 24, of Statesville. The cycle he was riding Sunday afternoon on Allen Ford Road 6 miles west of Statesville went out of control and overturned several times.

Record Attendance at Union Chapel Community Church Vacation Bible School

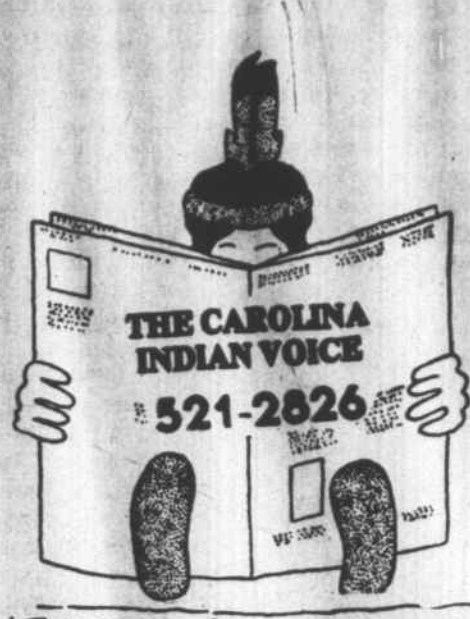

Vacation Bible School was held at Union Chapel Community Church with an all time attendance record set. The enrollment was 299 with an average attendance of 287.

Archie Oxendine, Director of VBS, expressed his appreciation and gratitude for the tremendous team work and spirit of cooperation. "This was just a beautiful occasion at our church," he said.
To observe the youth of this community, as they came and joined in a very strong, well planned Vacation Bible School was a time of joy and pride. To visit a classroom and observe thirty two young people in attendance and walk next door to an adult class with nine being enrolled was just outstanding, said Oxendine.
A team of 40 adults made up the staff and faculty. The honor class at VBS was the Junior Girls Class with an enrollment of forty-four.
The title of VBS Mother went to Ms. Sue Betty Locklear.
Bro. Jason Baker, Supt. of Sunday School and the teacher of the young people at VBS, spoke to the VBS at the commencement service. Certificates of attendance were presented to students and staff.

Can't get ketchup out of a new bottle? Insert a drinking straw, push to bottom and then remove. Enough air will be admitted to start the ketchup flowing.

...A FINALIST IN MISS UNITED TEENAGER PAGEANT

Wanda Gail Jones has been selected as a finalist in the State Miss United Teenager Pageant.
The Miss United Teenager Pageant is designed to recognize and honor outstanding young ladies from their respective communities for civic and scholastic achievements. The sponsors who make possible the participation in this constructive program has designed the program to help develop the youth of our community, state and nation and will help them become outstanding citizens of the future.
The winner of the state pageant receives a trip to Hollywood, Calif. and Waikiki Beach, Hawaii to include air fare, lodging and pageant chaperones. She will compete in the national finals for $1500 in scholarships, $2000 in wardrobe, a new automobile for the reigning year, $3000 appearance contract and many other prizes.
Anyone interested in sponsoring Wanda should call her at 843-3293. Wanda is the daughter of Emma Gail Jones of Shannon, NC and is a senior at Magnolia High School. The pageant will be held Sept. 2, 3, and 4 in Fayetteville.
