found success as a University of North bunch of guys on scholarships and they Carolina at Chapel Hill "Tar Heel" baseball player, after making the varsity squad this year as a walk on even though he was offered full scholarships elsewhere, including Eastern Kentucky and Campbell.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry T. (Elizabeth) Brooks of Pembroke, Devv was a three letter star at then Pembroke Senior High School where he starred in baseball, basketball and football. But Devy wanted to go to Carolina and play

He made the Tar Heel varsity baseball team as a walk on and hopes for an athletic scholarship after a successful freshman season in which he hit .307 with four homeruns and 22 runs batted in and played three positions--1st base, left field and right field--and as designated hitter on occasion.

Devy said he would never forget how tough things were at the beginning of fall. baseball skills. Osterneck lives in nearby

Guilford Native American Association to host Awards Banquet

Guilford Native American Association has scheduled the Eighth Annual Awards Banquet to take place on Saturday, May 19, 1984 at 7 p.m. at the Blue Room of the Coliseum Complex, 1921 West Lee Street, Greensboro, N.C. Everyone is invited to attend this very special event. Tickets are $10 per person and can be reserved by calling (919) 273-8686 or sending a check to GNAA.

P.O. Box 5623, Greensboro, NC 27403. The speaker for the Banquet will be Lynn Engles, the Commissioner for the Administration for Native Americans, Washington, D.C. Mr. Engles, a member of the Oneida Tribe of Wisconsin, was a featured speaker at the Ninth Annual N.C. Indian Unity Conference and was enthusiastically received by the audience. He has been very responsive to the Indian people of North Carolina since he was appointed Commissioner of ANA, an administration within the Office Department of Health and Human Services, January 2, 1984.

Mr. Engles is a native of Montana and received his B.A. degree in Communications from Evergreen State College in Olympia, Washington. He has had many years of experience in Native American Affairs at both the State and National levels. From 1975 to 1980, he was director of the Office of Public Affairs for the Bureau of Indian Affairs in Washington, D.C. In this position, he directed the Bureau's public affairs program and

The Board of Directors and Staff of the explained the responsibilities and programs of the Bureau to members of Congress, the national media and Federal agencies. He worked with tribal leaders throughout the United States to clarify Bureau policies, activities and

Mr. Engles is a member of the Wire Service Guild and the American Newspaper Guild.

The GNAA Annual Awards Banquet is highlight of the agency's yearly activities as it is a time to pay special tribute and recognition to 6 people from the Guilford Indian Community who have made outstanding contributions in some way to the agency and community. The 6 awards include Indian of the Year, Youth of the Year, Indian Businessperson of the Year, Volunteer of the Year, Senior Citizen of the Year, and Distinguished Service Award.

Other special features of the Awards of Human Development Services in the Program will include special entertainment, a chicken dinner, a drawing on a beautiful handmade Indian shawl and lots of good visiting and fun. An average of 150 people attend this Banquet each year, including various elected officials in the Greensboro/Guilford County area, many out-of-town Indian leaders and friends. Past speakers have been Mr. Adolph Dial, Dr. H. Lindy Martin, Dr. Helen M. Schierbeck, Congressman Richardson Preyer, Dr. Dean Chavers, Mr. Ray Oxendine, Mr. Ron Andrade and Ms. Ruth D. Woods.

Devy is the second Lumbee Indian to star as a Tar Heel, following in the steps of Dwight Lowry who earned All Atlantic Coast Conference honors there in 1980 as an all star catcher. Dwight is now in his first season with the Detroit Tigers:

The Carolina 1984 brochure notes of Devy, "... Good contact hitter that sprays the ball around...also has some power ... ' The brochure called him, "the biggest surprise of the fall."

Devy played shortstop for Coach Ronnie Chavis (now head baseball coach at West Robeson) and was all conference and most valuable in baseball. Devy was also all conference as a quarterback, and played point guard in basketball.

Devy Bell played shortstop and only shortstop at Pembroke High School, hitting .390 his senior year. "I had never played any other position," Bell said.

But UNC already had Walt Weiss, 'All-ACC in 1983 as a freshman. Bell was not recruited, but came to Chapel Hill after being assured a chance at the varsity team by UNC assistant coach Howard Mc-Cullough. So how did Bell become the Tar Heels' jack-of-all-trades, starting games at designated hitter, first base, or either of two outfield positions?

"Devy's a very confident young man who is very positive that he can get the job done," Coach Mike Roberts said. 'We've always had walk-on players who have been a major part of our program.

Roberts was impressed with Bell's desire to improve.

"He took advantage of every opportunity he had to play, particularly offensively," Roberts said. "He's a quality individual on and off the field - very coachable. He spent the winter working (to improve) and impressed both the coaches and teammates with his Devy's immediate goal is the College World Series in Omaha but they have to get through the NCAA regionals slated for late May, tentatively May 23 although opponents and field have not been chosen yet.

In the meantime, the Tar Heels are scrimmaging and waiting for the rest of the post season field to be selected, and left today for Arizona where three regular season games are left with Arizona State tonight, Friday and Saturday.

Coach Roberts said concerning Devy, He's relaxed and when you are relaxed you tend to do better...the coaching staff has confidence in him."

Devy was recently quoted in a campus publication, "My dream is to be a success and an example to people. I'm a pretty religious guy and I asked God to help me a lot. I also pray for our togetherness as a team."

The above remarks are evidence that Devy Bell has found success as a Tar Devy was obviously a talented player Heel... And as a young man too.

Ms. Helen Locklear from the New Hope Presbyterian Chapel in Pembroke, who also lives near Pembroke, was one of the twenty-five women. The American women traveled throughout South Africa and returned home February 25, 1984.

> After the journey, the women wrote . "Throughout our journey we were challenged by the depth and caring of the South African people who take risks, who use untold energy and who are truly dedicating their lives fo the sake of social justice in a land of extremes, with extreme punishments for violations of the laws. To speak in favor of disinvestment is treason. To simply assemble, which we take for granted, one must have a permit. The courage of so many touched and moved us in ways we can never forget. The struggle for all is so tremendously complex. There are no easy answers. But from most of the voices we heard that the hope is within the witnessing chur
