Hunt Announces His Candidacy For Re-Election

Mayor Milton R. Hunt

Milton R. Hunt, Mayor of the Town of Pembroke has announced his candidacy for re-election to that office. He is a former three term councilman who also served as Mayor Pro-Tem during that time. Hunt, a life long resident of Pembroke resides at the corner of Fifth and Breece streets. A successful business man, Hunt owns Hunts Dry-wall. He has been engaged in the construction industry for the past twenty-two years.

For many years Hunt has been active in various civic and governmental public service positions. He is a former member and Vice-Chairman of Robeson Technical College Board of Trustees and a former member of Cardinal Health Agency. In 1982 he was awarded the prestigious "Freedom Guard" Award by the North Carolina Jaycees. The award was one of three presented statewide for government and civic service.

Hunt, an avid sportsman, is founder and President of the Big Buck Hunting Club. He is married to the former Polly Deese. They have two school age children, Anthony age 17, and Kimberly age 14.

In making his announcement for re-election, Hunt cited several accomplishments and on-going projects of which he is proud to have played a part in. "The Town of Pembroke has received 2.4 million dollars in Community Development grants during my tenure as Councilman and Mayor," said Hunt. According to Hunt Pembroke has "doubled" its worth in the past ten years. He contributes this unprecedented growth in part to good solid long range growth plans that he has seen adopted during his service as Councilman and Mayor. "One of the major responsibilities of the leadership of a municipality is to promote its growth. Quality controlled growth promotes the economic well being of all our citizens and helps to distribute the burden of paying for services provided on a more equitable basis. Projects such as our 201 Sewer Expansion Program ($611,000) now under construction, a new Water Treatment Plant ($175,000) now in operation and sewer plant modifications which have increased the town's treatment capacity by 30% have helped foster good growth. The fact that the Town of Pembroke has enjoyed over two million dollars worth of new construction in the last two years alone is very much evidence of this.

"These are the type programs I've worked for and want to continue working for," said Hunt. "They are vital to our survival and growth as a municipality. I earnestly solicit your vote for my re-election as your Mayor on Tuesday, November 5, 1985."

Rev. John Robinson Named PSU Social Work Department's "Supervisor of of the Year."

Rev. Robinson (left), director of the Pembroke Area Presbyterian Ministry, is presented a plaque as PSU's Department of Sociology and Social Work's "Supervisor of the Year." Making the presentation is Dr. Frank Schmallegger, chairman of the department.

Rev. John A. Robinson, Jr., director of the Pembroke Area Presbyterian Ministry, has been named the PSU Department of Sociology and Social Work's "Supervisor of the Year."

He was presented a plaque about that honor recently by Dr. Frank Schmallegger, chairman of the department.

Robinson has been a field supervisor of PSU social work students since 1978 and has supervised 15 since 1979.

He recalled the night after the tornadoes struck Red Springs and Maxton in 1984. "I remember telephoning Frank Schmallegger asking for help for the Red Cross. I asked him for the entire PSU senior social work class, suggesting they help with case work for two weeks. Dr. Schmallegger didn't hesitate.

He said he would see if the professors would excuse the students to help. Over 30 students responded and were crucial in the assistance provided by the Red Cross," said Robinson.

In his remarks, Robinson recalled that the first student whom he supervised was Marla Lopes of Fayetteville. "She was a very talented student who went on to graduate school at Ohio State University," he said.

He thanked all of those who made the award possible. "It is really delightful to be recognized in this way," he said. "I have taken the supervision of field students as a serious task and have tried to share with them some of the experiences we have had over the year in the ministry."

Sam Dial Bids For Another Term on Pembroke Town Council

Sam Dial

Sam Dial today announced his candidacy for another term on the Pembroke Town Council. Dial served his last term ending 1983. A fervent good-will ambassador for the town, Dial is probably best remembered for his efforts to secure public housing for the town. Dial Terrace, the first public housing unit in Pembroke, is named in his honor.

Dial, a long time resident of Pembroke, resides on Jones Street with his wife, Marcella, and daughter, Jolene, a student at Robeson Technical College. He is employed by the N.C. Department of Corrections, and works at the local prison unit at Wagram in Scotland County. Dial was elected the first time in 1966, and served under the tutelage of three mayors--Earlie Maynor, Reggie Strickland and Pete Jacobs. Dial feels that the town profited from all three administrations, and sees a lot of their planning and development coming to fruition. Dial remembers being involved with erecting additional stop lights in town, as well as curbing and guttering, and was instrumental in a number of grants coming to the town.

Dial issued a statement in which he said, "I will appreciate the vote and support of the town's citizenry...and will do everything I can possibly do to see that Pembroke continues to grow and prosper." Sam Dial also promised to be "a people-orientated councilman as I have always been."

The deadline for purchasing discount tickets to the Billy Graham film, "Cry From The Mountain," is Tuesday, October 15.

Discount tickets are available at the Christian Book Store, now located in the new Lumber River Shopping Center on West Fifth Street, or at local churches.

The movie will be shown for a week at Cinema II in Lumberton, beginning Friday night, Oct. 18. There will also be matinee showings on Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 19-20. Discount tickets are $3 for adults, whereas at the theatre they will sell for $4. Tickets for children will be $2 at all times.

Russ Williams of the Christian Book Store, who is church director of the local Billy Graham film committee, says that "discount ticket sales are going well and more people are coming in to pick up additional packets of discount tickets."

Cash from sales of the discount tickets provided to churches must be turned into Williams by 5 p.m. on Oct. 15 or before. Any remaining tickets at the churches must also be turned in at the same time.

It was reported that 112 local persons took the "Christian Life and Witness Course" provided by the Billy Graham organization in coordination with the movie. Of these, 22 signed up to be counselors. A meeting of all counselors--those who signed up or wish to volunteer--will be held Monday night, Oct. 14, from 7 until 8:30 p.m. at the Chestnut Street United Methodist Church parlor. Mrs. Alice Gibson is counseling director of the local Billy Graham film committee. After each film showing, Billy Graham on the screen will give an invitation to those who wish to make any public decision in their lives. Counselors will be needed to assist these new Christians.

"Cry From The Mountain" is the story of an Alaskan family reached with the Gospel through the recent Billy Graham Crusade in Anchorage. The outdoor scenery filmed in Alaska is especially beautiful. Almost 400 persons saw the special preview showing in Lumberton Sept. 13.

Mr. Cummings released the following statement.

"As a farmer and a businessman, I am very very concerned about spiraling inflation. It is my belief that members of a rural cooperative should be represented by people who have a concern and knowledge of their problems and life style.

"During my years of service, I have tried to represent the member-consumers' interests honestly to the best of my ability. I believe with my experience I am an effective board member. For continued cuts in cost, and good leadership, vote for experience.

"If you are still concerned about your co-op, please come to the PSU Performing Arts Center on Tuesday night, October 15 and cast your vote for capable, concerned leadership. Vote for Lacy L. Cummings, member at large."

Ronald Hammonds Seeks Re-Election to EMC Board

Ronald Hammonds

In the past three years I have represented you the LREMC consumers with sound decision making. My nine years of employment with a utility company has enabled me to determine where costs could be cut and by what means. Cost cutting measures have been implemented that allowed your co-op to absorb CP & L rate hikes, decrease the number of employees while continuing to provide quality service and other numerous benefits you have read about in the Co-op newsletters.

I hope you will continue to allow me to represent you by voting for Ronald Hammonds October 15. My past record proves that I am a servant to the consumer with no expectation of being served by the consumer. My future record will reflect the same.

Thank You,
Ronald Hammonds
