

The Carolina Indian Voice

Published each Thursday in Pembroke, N.C.

Dedicated to Service
Building Communicative Bridges
In A Tri-racial Setting."

The Carolina Indian Voice, a weekly newspaper published each Thursday in Pembroke, N.C., began January 18, 1973.

The Carolina Indian Voice wants to serve you by printing your news. However, in order to better serve you, the staff of The Carolina Indian Voice must impose a 5 p.m. Tuesday deadline for news that is to appear in the Thursday edition. Advertisers are asked to please adhere to the same deadline (Tuesday at 5 p.m.). To subscribe to The Carolina Indian Voice, please call (919) 521-2826. Or drop by the office located on High School Street in Pembroke, across from Old Main in College two doors down from the Pantry.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:
1 Year (In N.C.)
1 Year (Outside N.C.)

VOLUME 13 NUMBER 44 THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1985

LITTLE MISS LUMBEE WINS NINE ADDITIONAL TROPHIES

Little Miss Lumbee Shelly Denyale Scott

Little Miss Lumbee Shelly Denyale Scott participated in the Miss America Rainbow Pageant and captured three titles recently. Shelly won the titles of Little Miss America Rainbow, Miss America Rainbow Overall Photogenic Queen and Miss America Rainbow High Point Queen.

The pageant was held Saturday, Oct. 25 in Gastonia, NC. Shelly competed in seven categories in her age division and was the winner in each. She competed in Beauty, Most Beautiful, Sportswear Modeling, Country-Western Wear, Swimsuit Competition, Photogenic and Talent.

Shelly won nine trophies, two crowns, two gold medals and a pair of 14 kt gold earrings.

She was awarded a medal for the prettiest smile of all the contestants. She was chosen overall photogenic from among all the contestants. She received the highest honor in the pageant, the coveted title of High Point Queen. This award went to the contestant with the highest total scores in each category, excluding talent. The contestants ranged in age from 10 mos. to 19 yrs.

Shelly is five years old and is the daughter of Randy and Sandra Scott of Route 4, Lumberton. She attends Deep Branch Elementary School and is the reigning Miss Lumbee and the Tiny Miss Deep Branch.

She will represent the southeastern part of North Carolina in Spruce Pine, NC November 23rd where she will compete for the state title of N.C.'s Little Miss America Rainbow. The winners of this pageant will compete with other winners from all over the United States for the coveted title of Little Miss America. This will be the first time in the pageant's history that the entire pageant will be held in North Carolina.

A special thank you goes to Jamestown Enterprises, Thomas Insurance Services, Stallion Paint Co., and Oxendine Tire Center for their support in helping to make the above possible.

38 PSU STUDENTS NAMED TO "WHO'S WHO"

PEMBROKE 38 PSU students have been named to the 1985-86 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

These students have been selected as being among the nation's most outstanding campus leaders.

Campus nominating committees and editors of the annual directory have included the names of students based on their academic achievements, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and future potential.

They join an elite group of students selected from more than 1,400 institutions of higher learning in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and several foreign nations. They will be included in the annual directory which has been published each year since 1934.

21 fields of study are represented, led by biology with five and social work, accounting/management and business administration with three each.

"Who's Who" students at PSU hail from 22 different towns or cities. Leading the list of cities are Fayetteville with six, Pembroke with five and Rowland with four.

Of the 38 students chosen, 23 are seniors, and 15 are juniors.

Students selected, the student's residence, year in school and major are as follows:

Elizabeth Baldwin, Fayetteville, senior, Political Science; Steve Barber, Charlotte, senior, drama; Bruce Barton, Pembroke, junior, history; Robert Brantley, Fayetteville, senior, mathematics; Lynda Bryant, Bladenboro, senior, social work; Lacie Burton, Stedman, senior, Language Literature; Laura Callahan, Laurel Hill, junior, Special Education;

William Campbell, Rowland, junior, Accounting Management.

Also Mabel L. Capel, Pembroke, senior, art education; Thomas Cluchey, Sheperdstown, W. VA, senior, business administration; David Cummings, Pembroke, junior, chemistry; Louise Davis, Fayetteville, senior, social work; Margaret Belinda Davis, Fayetteville, junior, social work; William Davis, Gainesville, Ga., junior, criminal justice; Maresa Dutton, Wadesboro, senior, early childhood education; Catherine Fischbach, Pembroke, senior, biology; Melissa Gates, Chapel Hill, junior, communicative arts; Polly Anna Gorman, Fayetteville, junior, music education; Lesia James, Wallace, junior, special education.

And Luanne Kennedy, Bath, junior, biology; Ruth King, Chadbourn, senior, accounting/management; David Leek, Pembroke, senior, journalism; Cynthia Rene Locklear, Lumberton, junior, art; Tonya Lynam, Wake Forest, senior, biology; Owen Martin, Warsaw, junior, biology; Marie Miller, Tabor City, senior, business/management; Cammie Neill, Raleigh, senior, physical education; Shanna Osborn, Laurinburg, senior, accounting/management; George Scott Pate, Rowland, senior, business administration; Christy Sue Richardson, Bladenboro, senior, early childhood education; Manfred Riley, Fayetteville, junior, political science; Pandora Sampson, Rowland, junior, mathematics; Scott Shelton, Stokesdale, senior, physical education; Shelia Shipmon, Rowland, senior, biology; Lisa Ann Stanley, Lumberton, senior, communicative arts; Gregory Steele, Rockingham, senior, English Education (9-12); Melissa Talbert, Laurinburg, senior, public relations; and Martha Terry, Lumberton, senior, social work.

Community Responds To Unsolved Murder of St. Pauls Woman

On November 11, 1985, over 125 citizens attended a meeting in St. Pauls, NC to organize a community response to the unsolved murder of Mrs. Joyce H. Sinclair. The group voted to form the "Concerned Citizens for Justice" and has planned two important programs to generate community involvement in the effort. Mr. Willie Washington of St. Pauls was elected as Chairperson of the organization.

Churches of all races are being asked to hold a special offering to raise monies for a reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible for the murder.

Secondly, a tri-racial Thanksgiving Day Service has been scheduled for 11 a.m. at Pleasant Grove Baptist Church on Tolarsville Road in St. Pauls. Churches are requested to send representatives to the service and to present their offerings during the service. All monies collected will be used solely for the reward.

The next meeting of Concerned Citizens for Justice will be announced at the Thanksgiving Day Service. All churches and community organizations willing to collect a special offering and present it on Thanksgiving Day need to immediately contact: Mr. Willie Washington at 865-463

Faye Lewis Ostrom Named To PSU Board of Trustees

Faye Lewis Ostrom

Pembroke-Faye Lewis Ostrom of Lumberton, a magna cum laude graduate of PSU who in 1984 received the PSU Alumni Association's "Distinguished Service Award," has been appointed by the UNC Board of Governors to the PSU Board of Trustees for a four year term.

Mrs. Ostrom is a member of the Chancellor's Club and has served as a member of the PSU Endowment Board and PSU Alumni Association Board of Directors.

She graduated from PSU in 1965, earning a double major in English and Spanish. "I am delighted to be a member of the Board of Trustees," Mrs. Ostrom said. "I love PSU and love being associated with it. I see this as an opportunity to serve a school which did so much for me."

Mrs. Ostrom received her high school diploma from Red Springs High School in 1941, but did not go to college until years later. As the oldest of five children, she said she was not able to attend college at that time because of the expenses involved for her parents. However, she went some 20 years later and said, "A college degree opened a whole new world for me."

After graduation from PSU, Mrs. Ostrom taught at Carolina Military Academy at Maxton for two years from 1965-67. For 14 months she was an employment counselor for the Employment Security Commission in Lumberton. In June of '68 she started working the Social Security Commission, being a claims representative from '68 to '75, then becoming field representative for two counties. She retires from this position Dec. 23.

She was married recently to Herbert N. Ostrom, a retired U.S. Army colonel who is a native of New York City. They will reside in Greensboro and Spruce Pine, which is near Mt. Mitchell. "We will be living in Greensboro except during the summer months when we'll be at Spruce Pine," she said. Mrs. Ostrom is in the process of selling her home in Lumberton.

A life member of the PSU Alumni Association, Mrs. Ostrom is looking forward to her new role of serving on the PSU Board of Trustees.

Prospect UM Church Agers to Host Harvest

Shown above are the Keen Agers of Prospect United Methodist Church who are having a Harvest Sale in which there will be quilts, pies, cakes, hot dogs, barbecue sandwiches and chicken salad sandwiches to purchase. This special day will be November 22, 1985 from 11 a.m. til 6 p.m. Friday.

You are invited to come for lunch and/or supper and to buy these nice quilts that have been made by the Keen Agers of Prospect United Methodist Church. You will enjoy the day with Senior Citizens on Friday, Nov. 22.

Winner in Miss North Carolina Sweetheart Pageant

Terica Brook Lowry

Terica Brooke Lowry, 18-month old daughter of Ms. Wanda A. Lowry of Pembroke and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. W.G. Allen of Lumberton was recently in the Wee Baby Carolina Sweetheart Pageant held in Fayetteville.

Terica won Wee Baby Miss Photogenic and was first runner up in the Wee Baby Miss Carolina Sweetheart in her division (1-day-24 mos.).

Terica will compete in the State Wee Baby Miss Carolina Sweetheart Pageant to be held in Raleigh on December 6th and 7th.

(Photo by Hunt's Studio of Photography)

Six Indians With PSU Connections Are In Movie, "Roanoke"

PEMBROKE—Among the Indians having roles in the television movie, "Roanoke," now being filmed at Georgetown, S.C., are six persons who either graduated from or attended Pembroke State University.

The three-part mini series depicts the Indians' point of view concerning the efforts of the English to establish a settlement on Roanoke Island off the coast of North Carolina 400 years ago. Plans are to air the movie nationwide in May of 1986.

1986 is the "Year Of The Indian" across America.

The South Carolina locale was chosen because it more resembles the setting at the time of the Roanoke landings, said those connected with the film.

Producing the film is the Public Broadcasting System's American Playhouse.

David Oxendine of Pembroke, director of "Strike At The Wind!" the outdoor drama presented each summer near here since 1976, is in charge of obtaining Indian extras for the movie. "We want to use real Indians instead of white men painted red," said Oxendine, who sought a working list of 150 men, women, boys, girls and children to fit those Indian parts.

The six from Pembroke State University have been Eyrle Ransom, class of '54 who teaches at the Pembroke Middle School; Derek Lowry, a PSU graduate of '79 who was president of the student government and has had the leading roles of Henry Barry Lowrie and "The Leader" in "Strike At The Wind!"; Carol Oxendine, also a '79 PSU graduate who is a member of the Robeson County Educational Commission; Vernon Oxendine; Harvey Godwin; and Raymond (Cochise)

Clark. The latter three attended PSU.

Vernon Oxendine is the retired police chief of Pembroke; Godwin is manager of Hill's Store in Pembroke; and Clark appeared in the "Strike At The Wind!" outdoor drama.

Among the star actors in "Roanoke" is Will Sampson, the giant Indian who won accolades for his performance in "One Flew Over The Cuckoo's Nest," voted best picture of the year in 1975.

Ransom, who has taught dramatics and directed plays for 20 years, has enjoyed being in the movie although it has taken some shuffling to work his acting schedule in with his teaching responsibilities.

"I recently was down at Georgetown Monday and Tuesday—then hurried back here to Pembroke. As extras, we travel at this stage when we are needed," he said. Both Ransom and Vernon Oxendine are playing the roles of Indian elders.

During the early stages of the filming, Ransom said there were times he stayed in Georgetown for four weeks at a time. "They provided us all expenses, including food and lodging," he said.

As for going back and forth now, Ransom says it is no great driving distance. "I've clocked it enough. It is only 162 miles there," he said.

Like others, Ransom tried out for the movie in September. "I auditioned, they took pictures of us, and sent them to New York. That was how I got the part," he said.

Ransom said the movie is scheduled to be completed by mid-November with the last week being shot in Virginia.

Bruce Barton Mabel L. Capel

William Campbell Catherine Fischbach

Cynthia Rene Locklear David Cummings

Pandora Sampson

ISN'T THIS A Beautiful Day!

EXPECT SOMETHING WONDERFUL TO HAPPEN