

The Carolina Indian Voice

Dedicated to Service

"Building Communicative Bridges In A Tri-racial Setting."

The Carolina Indian Voice, a weekly newspaper published each Thursday in Pembroke, N.C., began January 18, 1973

The Carolina Indian Voice wants to serve you, the staff of The Carolina Indian Voice must impose a 5 p.m. Tuesday deadline that is to appear in the Thursday edition. Advertisers are asked to please add same deadline (Tuesday at 5 p.m.). To subscribe to The Carolina Indian Voice please call (919) 521-2826. Or drop by located on High School Street in a cross from Old Main in College Plaza two doors down from the Pantry. SUBSCRIPTION RATES: 1 Year (In N.C.) 1 Year (Outside N.C.)

Navajo Comm. Coll., Library
Phyllis Henrich Post Office
Cherokee, N.C. 28503

Published each Thursday in Pembroke, N.C.

VOLUME 13 NUMBER 52 THURSDAY, DECEMBER 26, 1985

MAGNOLIA SCHOOL HOMECOMING QUEENS

Shown are the Homecoming Queens of Magnolia High School.

Magnolia School concluded a weeklong celebration of homecoming and annual fund raising activities on Friday, December 6, 1985 with the coronation of various kings and queens from the many grade levels found at Magnolia School. The activities which were generated by these activities are earmarked to help fund the many educational programs at Magnolia School and to supplement the school's instructional program through purchases of additional supplies and materials.

The homecoming undertaking was a joint school-community effort dedicated to the idea that only through the total involvement of everyone could meaningful improvement of the classroom experience at Magnolia School be attained. Mr. Noah Woods, Magnolia Principal, termed this the most successful and rewarding effort of this kind in his five years' tenure at Magnolia School. "It was a resounding success," he added.

Each school day of Homecoming Week was given over to special types of attire and everyone was encouraged to participate. Each day afforded a real delight for everyone-administrators, students, and faculty members- because of the strangely attired individuals seen on Magnolia's campus during the week of homecoming. The primary source of fund raising was a highly successful plate sale, but the real highlight of the week was the coronation of the respective kings and queens at the ball game on Friday night.

The winners were: Queen Melissa Hunt and King Timothy Carter who represented the 12th grade. Melissa is the daughter of Mrs. Alice Hunt and Timothy, the son of Mrs. Carol S. Carter. Melissa was sponsored by Mrs. Fannie Oxendine's class and Timothy by Mr. David Evans' class.

In the 7-8 category Michaela Oxendine and Grant Locklear were crowned queen and king respectively. The queen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Welton Oxendine and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Locklear are parents of king.

Michaela is in Mrs. Linda Emanuel's class and Grant is Panthia Locklear's class.

The winners in grades 4-6 were Lynette Blackburn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Blackburn, and Timothy Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Jones. Lynette represented the class of Mrs. Peggy Chavis and Timothy represented Mrs. Odum's class.

The queen and king in the k-3 category were Latasha Hardin and Eric Chavis, respectively. Latasha is the daughter of Annie Gail Hardin and is in Mrs. Doris Locklear's class. Eric, son of Mr. and Ms. J.W. Chavis, is in Mrs. Regenia Brayboy's class.

Bertha Smith, daughter of Mrs. Patricia Smith and a student of Ms. Shelia Locklear was declared queen in the special category.

Mr. Noah Woods, Magnolia Principal, extends his gratitude to everyone concerned-parents, community volunteers, faculty, and students-for their individual contributions to his most successful fundraising.

AREA RESIDENT TO LEAD TRAVEL GROUP ABROAD

Patsy Locklear of Pembroke, NC, a teacher at Pembroke Junior High School, has been selected to lead an exciting travel adventure abroad. The trip has been organized by the American Institute for Foreign Study (AIFS) of Greenwich, Connecticut, and is open to students and adults. Over 350,000 students, teachers, and other adults have participated in international educational travel programs sponsored by AIFS since it was founded in 1964.

Group members of London, Paris and Madrid spend ten vacation days enjoying the pageantry of London, the splendor of Paris, and the treasures of Madrid and Toledo. AIFS guide lecturers accompany the group throughout, providing expert commentary at the museums, cathedrals, and other points of interest visited. The schedule is full, but there is still plenty of time for individual exploring and shopping.

The AIFS travel program has been granted listing by the Council on Standards for International Educational Travel, a nonprofit organization committed to establishing standards for international educational travel and monitoring compliance with those standards on behalf of schools, communities and educational groups in the United States.

There are still places available on this program. For more information, parents and students, as well as interested adults, may contact: Patsy Locklear, 919-521-4460.

'You Have No Excuses,' Says Health Manpower Director Concerning Financial Aid, SAT Scores

Dr. E. Lavonia Allison, director of the N.C. Health Manpower Development Program, speaks to high school students in a special conference at Pembroke State University.

Information/Academic Skills Enrichment Conference was held to inform the students of their opportunities.

"Today you have no excuses,"

This was the theme emphasized again and again by Dr. E. Lavonia Allison, director of the N.C. Health Manpower Development Program of Chapel Hill, in speaking to some 100 high school students and eight high school counselors at Pembroke State University Thursday.

She was speaking about excuses for not having enough money or not doing well on scholastic aptitude tests in "getting into college."

"Money is available through the Pell Grant and other means," said Dr. Allison, who supplied each student and counselor a handful of information concerning financial aid sources.

In pointing out the sources, she asked defiantly: "Do you have any excuses about money?" And the students said in chorus: "No!"

As she displayed book after book about financial aid, she asked: "How many of you have ever heard about this?" The audience was silent.

"There have been student aid programs since 1945, but many are just learning about them," she said.

This is one reason why the three-hour Health Careers

Dr. Allison urged any students who haven't started practicing to start today. "Get a couple of these books-and your SAT score will go up. The books include the kinds of questions asked."

She compared doing well on the SAT to getting one's driver's license. "You don't go in to get your driver's license without reading the book, do you? If you make some mistakes, you take it again and again until you pass, studying the book each time before taking the test. The same should be true of taking the SAT in preparing yourself for college."

She than asked everyone who hadn't scored 1,000 on the SAT to listen closely. "Remember the Lord passed out good brains. Don't say: 'I can't do it.' That signifies failure. Remember what a coach says when his team goes into battle: 'You can win!' And you can in the same way."

"It was an inspirational conference for high school students who walked away as did their counselors with a wealth of information about how to succeed in health careers-or any careers."

GOSPEL SING PLANNED

The Hoke County Children's Center, Raeford, NC will sponsor a gospel sing on January 11, 1986, 7:30 p.m. at Upchurch School.

The featured singers will be the Jacobs Family, the Pierce Family, the Henderson Family and the Locklear Family of Pembroke. Tickets may be purchased for $3 in advance from any staff member of the Center or any member of the Board of Directors. Tickets will also be available at the door for $4.

Proceeds will go to the Hoke County Children's Center. The Center provides services to physically or mentally handicapped children between the ages of 18 months and five years.

Ross Swimmer Is Confirmed And Sworn In As Assistant Secretary For Indian Affairs

Ross O. Swimmer, principal chief of the Cherokee Nation of Oklahoma, was privately sworn into office December 5 as Assistant Secretary for Indian Affairs in the Department of the Interior. A public swearing-in ceremony with Interior Secretary Donald Hodel scheduled to be held in the Interior Department auditorium at 9:30 a.m. Friday December 13. Swimmer's nomination by President Reagan was announced by the White House September 26. Confirmation hearings were held October 16 before the Senate Select Committee on Indian Affairs. The full Senate voted December 4 by voice vote to confirm the nomination. The resignation of Swimmer's predecessor, Kenneth L. Smith, was effective December 7, 1984. Swimmer is the fourth person-all of them Indian-to be appointed to the position. The Assistant Secretary is generally considered the top Indian official in the executive branch. He is expected to be a leader in the shaping of the nation's Indian policies and is responsible for the overall administration and direction of the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

Revelation Seminar Sponsored By Pembroke Seventh Day Adventist Church Graduates 27 Students

On Nov. 17, 1985 graduation ceremonies were held for 27 of the more than 50 people who started the Revelation Seminar recently sponsored by the Pembroke Seventh-day Adventist Church. The graduation speaker was Pastor Harry Robinson, author of the seminar. The local pastor, Charles W. Godfrey, was the instructor and participated in the awarding of the diplomas and special awards for attendance and for those who had high scores on their quiz envelopes.

The Basic Course was 24 lessons long, and covered many of the basic areas that needed to be understood before the Advanced Course could be taken. The class was excited about learning the things written in Revelation. Many of the class members stated their amazement and appreciation at what they had learned and were taught in such a short time.

From the beginning, the class was told that nearly half of the Book of Revelation is borrowed from other parts of the Bible, not only in symbols used, but in actual quotations used. This meant that the class members had to use all the Scriptures in determining the answers to the seminar lessons that they were required to have completed each evening prior to the class study.

Many of the students found new meaning in the things of God as a result of taking and completing the course of study. Certainly the words of one religious author are true when she wrote:

"In the Revelation are portrayed the deep things of God. The very name given to its inspired pages. 'The Revelation,' contradicts the statement that this is a sealed book. A Revelation is something revealed. The Lord Himself revealed to His servant the mysteries contained in this book, and He designs that they shall be open to the study of all. Its truths are addressed to those living in the last days of this earth's history...

"Those whose hearts are open to the reception of truth will be enabled to understand its teachings, and will be granted the blessing promised to those who 'hear the words of this prophecy, and keep those things which are written therein.'"

Those graduating from the Basic Course are as follows: Eric Austin, Anna Blue, Dan Blue, Maniv Bray, Emma Jan Bullard, Don Cummings, Carolyn Daniel, Eddie Dorton, Mary Davis, Roy Lee Davis, Myrtle Deese, Prentice Floyd, Marie Hallendorfer, Ruth Hallendorfer, Vida Johnson, Ren Jones, Barie Locklear, Emma Lee Locklear, Lara-Sue Lowry, Mackampa

Ma-Nyekudi, James Warford Maynor, Jeanette McKoy, Thedasin McMillin, Annie Louise McQueen, Mary Shipman, Lorraine Tuck, Teresa Walters.

Our sincerest congratulations go out to these graduates. Many of them understand not only the Book of Revelation better, but now have a new respect, love and appreciation for the whole Bible.

If you are interested in taking a Revelation Seminar or if you would like to talk about the Bible and better understand its meaning and concepts and how they relate to your life, Pastor Godfrey would be delighted to talk to you. You may write at P.O. Box 745, Pembroke, NC 28372 or call him at 1-423-1246.

Awarded Washington, D.C. Legislative Internship

Curtis Holloman

Curtis Holloman, a Pembroke State University junior from Ahoskie majoring in political science with a concentration in public administration, has been awarded a 1986 Washington, D.C., Legislative Internship.

This internship is sponsored jointly by the PSU Department of Political Science and the office of Congressman Charlie Rose, D-Seventh Congressional District.

"The internship is awarded annually on a competitive basis," said Dr. Robert Schneider of the PSU Political Science Department. "With it, Holloman will spend the spring semester in Washington working in Congressman Rose's office. He will be performing research on legislative issues and working on constituency problems."

Holloman will depart Jan. 6 for the nation's capital and remain there until the first weekend in May.

"I'm very excited about this opportunity," Holloman said. "I'm looking forward to the experience of learning about the legislative process by participating in the activities of Congressman Rose's office."

Holloman, 20, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Holloman of Ahoskie, plans to attend law school after graduation or go to graduate school in the area of public administration, public policy, or research.

At Pembroke State University, he is a Dean's List student, a University marshal, a member of the Baptist Student Union council, and has served on the Governor's Advocacy Council.

A New Beginning!
Our thanks for your kind support in the past. We're looking forward to continuing knowing and serving you in the New Year ahead.

THE CAROLINA INDIAN VOICE
Bruce Barton
Connee Brayboy
Louise Hayes
Stephanie D. Locklear
Lisa Miller

Due to the upcoming holiday season, the Carolina Indian Voice will adhere to the following advertising and copy deadlines:

Issue	Deadline
Dec. 19	Tues., Dec. 17, 5 p.m.
Dec. 26	Fri., Dec. 20, 12 noon
Jan. 2, 1986	Fri., Dec. 27, 1985, 12 noon

THE CAROLINA INDIAN VOICE
Pembroke, N.C. 28372

To subscribe, Call 521-2826