Winston NASCAR Racing

BY THE ROVER
Talk about being hot, folks, Tim Richmond is hot. Of his last twelve races he has won half of them and finished second four times, and in the same number of races has gone from tenth place in the Winston Cup Points Standings to third. Now any way you look at it that is some mean racing.
It wasn't an easy race cause there were a few other people there that wanted to take the Wrangler 400 trophy home from Richmond, VA and they gave him a run for his money. 19 lead changes between 12 drivers with Rudd, Gant, King Richard, Geoff Bodine, Rusty Wallace and Dale Earnhardt all leading for over 25 laps, with Ricky Rudd leading most with 112 but a blown tire left him in 24th place.

Still haven't all the particulars about who is going where yet. We do know that Waltrip is moving from his stable of the Johnson clan to start a stable of his own and taking Cale Yarborough's crew chief Wilson with him. Don't know where Waltrip's teammate Neil Bonnett (who finished fifth Sunday) will be going. Cale Yarborough is starting his own team also. Terry Labonte will be leaving the Piedmont Olds to drive for Junior Johnson. Morgan Shepard is moving on. Ken Schrader has a new contract with the Red Baron Pizza and is getting a crew chief. Maybe that will help him next year.
We will try to get the rest of the news next week.

Until 1752, the British and their American colonies celebrated New Years on March 24th. That is, March 24, 1750 was followed by March 25, 1751.

The NCAA in Nebraska
The NCAA has a continuing dilemma. They cannot stop or even come close to enforcing their rules. Today's paper says, "NCAA suspends 60; Huskies may forfeit opener." The rules they can never enforce are the ones about football passes. The rules do not allow football players to give their four allotted passes to anyone they wish, they must give them to family members only. They wish to give them to girl friends and close friends. So the players are using the selective ethic whether they know it or not as contrasted with the situational ethic the NCAA uses. These two ethics were used by labor analysts in solving labor disputes. The selective ethic in labor disputes has both parties place the industry first as it should be in the main concern for jobs and the successes of the industry. Not the benefit to one party or the other in a strike. The NCAA, because it does not know the players or the individuals, knows only its side of the problem, thus making it a "situational ethic." The situational ethic simply puts down rules expecting everyone to obey no matter what or why or how they are to be used. It discounts the desire the players have to give tickets to their friends. The love or friendships constitute the selective ethic. Love is stronger than any fast arbitrary rules the NCAA can put in their rule books, and this is why the NCAA cannot enforce its recruiting rules, its ticket rules, its rules on meals, visitations in recruiting or any other rules because of the selective ethic. People choose friendships over arbitrary rules, you might call it politics or favoritism. The only solution I can see is for the NCAA to turn the tables on the offenders and have each college or university president be responsible for all situational and selective ethics choices. The NCAA is paying the price for responsibility that properly belongs in the hands of the presidents, all have police and security departments and they are closer to athletics and the President's Council should be in charge of athletics and not the NCAA. The NCAA should run tournaments and make game rules only.

In Loving Memory

In loving memory of Mr. Willie Stencil Chavis, born February 17, 1928, departed this life September 7, 1981. I will always remember the sorrow my family and I shared on this day five years ago. God took our father for his purpose. God was ready for him and took him. But we, the family, will always have his memories in our hearts, where they will never go away.
We miss you Daddy. I miss you Daddy!
Ruth Ann Chavis Revels
THERE'S A REASON
For every pain that we must bear...For every burden, every care...There's a reason.

For every grief that bows the head...For every tear-drop that is shed...There's a reason.
For every hurt, for every plight...For every lonely pain-wrecked night...There is a reason.
But if we trust God as we should. It all will work out for our good...He knows the reason.
"And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are called according to his purpose." Romans 8:28.
