The National Federation Business and Professional Women's Clubs of the United States (BPW/USA) began National Business Women's Week in 1982 "to dramatize women's contributions to the economic, social and political life of the community, state, nation and the world." For 48 years, special activities have been supported by the federation and its local organizations to honor the working women. Over the years National Business Women's Week has become an event widely recognized by public and private institutions and local communities. Pembroke Business and Professional Women's Club is celebrating National Business

Women's Week with these scheduled events:

Sunday, Oct. 19, 11 a.m. Attend worship service at First United Methodist Church, Rev. James Oliver pastor.

Tuesday, Oct. 21, 6 p.m. Visit Sampson Rest Home; take fruit basket and gifts for each patient.

7 p.m. Dinner meeting at Sheff's Restaurant; Woman of the Year award will be presented plus a special recognition award.

Wednesday, Oct. 22, 12 noon Serve cake and ice cream to Senior Citizens at Maynor Manor.

Saturday, Oct. 25, 10 a.m. Emblem Breakfast at Town and Country Restaurant. 7:30-1 a.m. Fall dance at Pembroke Javcee Clubhouse.

Tree Giveaway Sign Up Is Here

There has been quite a bit of interest expressed recently regarding the Robeson County Beautification Council tree distribution program. "Although the tree giveaway program will not be held until February 7, 1987, it is very important people understand and know that in order to receive trees they must register and pay $1," according to Eddie L. Locklear, Extension agent, 4-H.

The tree distribution program—offering two red maples, two white dogwoods, two redbuds, and four Lombardy poplars for $1 per bundle—will be held in seven locations in the county. In order to receive trees in February, it is necessary to pre-register between October 20 and November 28, 1986. Following is a listing of locations, tree coordinators, and telephone numbers to use to register for trees. Maxton's tree distribution is being coordinated by Barry Richards, 844-5231 (8:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m.). In Rowland, citizens should call Dr. Mary A. Masters, 422-3276, during the day. The Red Springs Chamber of Commerce is helping sponsor the tree distribution program in Red Springs. Citizens of the Red Springs community can call the Chamber of Commerce Office at 843-5441 during regular office hours. Eddie Mac Locklear, 521-4710, is coordinating the Pembroke tree distribution program. Eddie Mac Locklear encourages citizens to call between 7:00 p.m. and 9:00 p.m. to register for trees. People living in or near the St. Pauls area may call 865-4288 between 8:00 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. to register for trees. Tommy Belch is serving as the St. Pauls tree coordinator. Citizens in Fairmont will have several numbers to call. Coordinators for the Fairmont area are: Ada Ruth Evans, 628-6547; Olivia Barnes, 739-2990, and Marilyn Bryan, 628-8814. Fairmont residents are encouraged to call these numbers from 5:00 p.m. until 9:00 p.m. to register for trees. The Lumberton Chamber of Commerce is co-sponsoring the tree distribution program in Lumberton. Citizens who would like to register for trees in the Lumberton area may call 739-4750 or 739-5925 between 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m.

"The tree distribution program is sponsored by the Robeson County Beautification Council and the N.C. Agricultural Extension Service with financial support from the Robeson County Board of Commissioners, the Lumberton City Council, and the various townships participating in the tree distribution program," according to Locklear. Individuals receiving trees are requested to pay $1 and provide their name, address, and telephone number. All county citizens are requested to pre-register for trees.

For more information contact the Agricultural Extension Office at 738-8111 or visit the office located on Highway 72 west of Lumberton. The tree distribution program, like all programs offered through the N.C. Agricultural Extension Service, is available to all citizens regardless of age, race, creed, national origin, sex, or handicap.

Some Facts About the Seventh-day Adventist Church

Dear editor:

Media mention this week of World's End Day has associated Seventh-day Adventists with William Miller and the Millerites who didn't even harvest their potatoes that fall day in 1844, believing there would be a second advent of Christ.

You will want to know that there was no Seventh-day Adventist Church in 1844. The Millerites were made up of second-advent believers from a score and more of churches, Miller himself being a Baptist minister. Miller had determined from his Bible study of Daniel's 2300-day prophecy that the second coming would be between March 21, 1843 and March 21, 1844.

Not the first to proclaim a second advent, and thus become known as an Adventist, Miller had been preceded by Petri in Germany, Gaussein in Switzerland, Muller in England, and Joseph Wolff (Christian Jew) in Asia. Wolff had even been invited to proclaim the message before the US Congress.

"At the last minute," Miller subscribed to the October 22 date. However, he and others like him were all asked to leave their denomination which did not entirely support that interpretation of Daniel's prophecy.

Out of the "Great Disappointment" which followed came two groups, one of which added a seventh-day Sabbath to their belief in a second advent. Out of that group of Methodists, Baptists, Congregationalists (to name a few) in 1863 came the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

We thought you'd like to know.

In Christian love,
Charles W. Godfrey, Pastor
Pembroke Seventh-day Adventist Church

Proctorville Students Present Play Celebrating The Bicentennial Of The U.S. Constitution

The upcoming year of 1987 will afford a very special meaning to citizens throughout our nation. On September 17, 1787, the signing of the Constitution of the United States took place at Independence Hall in Philadelphia. That was two-hundred years ago. To initiate the celebration of the Bicentennial of our constitution, Mrs. Lewis' sixth grade class at Proctorville School, presented a play entitled "A Lesson in Freedom." The primary goal of the play was to inform students of the significance of the Constitution, which was written to protect the rights of every United States citizen, and the importance of the Bill of Rights, which guarantees individual freedoms for citizens.

All students participated in program which commemorated the heritage of freedom of speech, freedom of the press, freedom to worship as we please, the right to assemble, the right to petition, the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, the right to equality and security and the right to live without undue duress, the right to labor, to suffer, and the right to fight for 'freedom's cause'.

Kelli Wallace, the reigning Little Miss Lumbee recently [10-15-86] won the Halloween Costume Contest at the Robeson County Public Library for ages 3-7. The costumes at the Halloween party included movies, treats, and a costume contest.

Kelli appeared in a "Rainbow Brite" costume designed by Ms. Jean Locklear of Lumberton. The winner received a child's book entitled "Three Wise Kings."

Kelli is also the reigning "Little Miss North Carolina Charm."

"My only injury was a mild stiff neck."

Should I see a Chiropractor?

No accidental neck or "Whiplash" injury should be dismissed as minor without a thorough chiropractic examination. Complications, such as severe pain, from whiplash or other sudden spinal traumas may not appear until weeks later. Gentle, painless Chiropractic treatment is covered by most health insurance plans (including Medicare), and may prevent complications from developing.

Warn a snuff-user...

As your pharmacist, I encourage healthy habits. I never promote careless self-medication, or endorse repeated "frizzling" of your body under the sun in the name of "body beautiful."

In this light, the unwise habit of using snuff should be reported. As use increases, so do risks from oral cancer.

So, be warned. Nicotine and the addictive properties of one tin of snuff represents four times the amount of just one pack of cigarettes. Practice good health habits and play safe.
