COUNTY STUDENTS RECEIVE SCHOLARSHIPS

Four Robeson County students are among 400 seniors selected statewide as recipients of the North Carolina Teaching Fellows Award which provides $20,000 for the educational training of future classroom teachers.

Fellow recipients representing Robeson County include George Rodney Stackhouse, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Brisco Stackhouse of Fairmont and a senior at South Robeson High; Montique Anne Cayton, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Cayton of Maxton and a senior at West Robeson Senior High; Cheryl Lynn Chavis, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Zeak Chavis of Maxton and a senior at West Robeson Senior High; and Deirdre Alicia Nicholson, the daughter of Shirley N. Rodgers of Pembroke and a senior at West Robeson High School.

The Teaching Fellows award winners will receive $5,000 per year for each of their four years in college, which amounts to a $20,000 scholarship that will be awarded through a "loan forgiveness" program.

For each year that a Teaching Fellows recipient teaches in a North Carolina public school after graduating from college, one-fourth of the Teaching Fellows award will be forgiven by the state. At the end of four years of teaching, the $20,000 Teaching Fellows award will be fully repaid.

The North Carolina Teaching Fellows Program was established by the General Assembly. Currently, piloting campuses for the Fellows Award include Appalachian State University, North Carolina A & T University, North Carolina State University, the University of North Carolina at Greensboro, Western Carolina Central University, the University of North Carolina at Charlotte, and the University of North Carolina at Wilmington.

This is the first year of implementation of the North Carolina Teaching Fellows Award program.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS MOVE CLOSER TO ACCREDITATION

Four county elementary schools have completed the major steps for receiving accreditation by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.

Each of the four elementary schools: Piney Grove, Union Chapel, Union Elementary, and Southside/Ashpole, have completed written educational and facility self studies and have received written evaluations of the individual self studies from a group of independent visiting teams who specialize in the various aspects of the educational programs and who are employed outside the educational system.

Official notification of accreditation by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools will be announced by the Association at the end of May.

Parents and community citizenry are assured of accountability and of value for their tax dollars through the process of setting standards and the regular re-evaluation of Southern Association of Colleges and Schools member institutions.

Founded in 1895, the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools is one of six regional accrediting bodies in the United States.

ORRUM SCHOOL SEEKS CONTINUING ACCREDITATION
A sixteen member visiting committee conducted two days of formal observation and evaluation of Orrum High School during May 7 and 8 as a result of a ten year re-accreditation policy established by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.

As a member of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, faculty, students and parents benefit by knowing that conditions for teaching and learning meet high standards established by the Association and that efforts are continuously made for school improvement.

Communities with accredited schools can be confident that their schools compare favorably with others in the region and nation.
