Strike at the Wind Begins 12th Season

BY VINITA CLARK

In their newly remodeled amphitheatre the cast of the outdoor drama Strike at the Wind prepare for opening night.

With over twenty returning cast members from seasons past, and a variety of new comers loaded with new and exciting talent. This promises to be one of the most exciting years ever in the history of the drama.

Special events are planned during the performance nights that will be of interest to people from 9 to 99.

Strike at the Wind will be held Thursday-Saturday, July 4-September 7 at the Lakeside Amphitheatre. Tickets and information is available by calling the business office at 621-2489 from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Happy Homecoming!

Art Exhibit Planned

by Bruce Barton

Harvey Godwin, Jr. doubles as manager of the local Hill's Food Store and as Henry Berry Lowrie in the exciting outdoor drama "Strike at the Wind." And he works hard at both, no doubt about it.

For the second year in a row, Harvey, along with Julian Pierce, the chairman of Strike at the Wind's board are sponsoring a dinner and art exhibit at the Ramada Inn in Lumberton. The rest of the board is involved too, of course. As usual, they are raising monies for another season of Strike at the Wind. Last year the event was very successful, and featured Gene Locklear as artist and Senator Hector McLean as banquet speaker. Monies raised go to support Strike at the Wind.

This year painters Ellis Sampson and Shelia Godwin are being featured with an exhibit of their works, and the unveiling of a special painting of Rhoda Strong Lowrie by Sampson. 250 Limited Edition Lithographs of the painting are now available for sale, and the painting will be auctioned off the night of the banquet by local Legislator Danny DeVane.

Senator Tony Rand will be the guest speaker. Senator Rand is a powerful legislator from nearby Cumberland County, and is a strong
