DR. STANLEY HAUERWAS OF DUKE DIVINITY SCHOOL TO BE SPEAKER FOR PSU'S STALEY LECTURE SERIES

Dr. Stanley Hauerwas, professor of theological ethics for Duke University's Divinity School, will be the speaker for this year's Pembroke State University Staley Lecture Series Monday and Tuesday, Jan. 29-30, in PSU's Educational Center Room 223.

The PSU Philosophy and Religion Department presents this annual lecture series which is funded by the Thomas Staley Foundation of Del Ray Beach, Fla. Some of the top religious scholars and lecturers in the nation have spoken in this yearly feature at PSU.

The theme of this year's lectures is "Christian Ethics in a Troubled World."

Dr. Hauerwas will speak three times with the following schedule and topics:

Monday, Jan. 29, 9 a.m. - "What is Christian Ethics."

Monday, Jan. 29, 12:30 p.m. - "Why Christian Ethics Can't Solve the World's Problems."

Tuesday, Jan. 30, 9:30 a.m. - "Reflections on Medical Ethics."

The public is invited free to attend all of these lectures.

Some of the past lecturers have been Dr. James Charlesworth, Princeton University; Dr. Walter Harrelson, Vanderbilt University; Dr. Donald Shriver, Union Seminary on New York; Dr. George Schweitzer, University of Tennessee; Dr. Dennis Campbell, Duke University; and Dr. Robert Perkins, Stetson University.

Dr. Hauerwas is an ethicist who is concerned primarily with the basic methodological issues in theological ethics. He has published on such issues as situation ethics, abortion, euthanasia and the care of the retarded and political theory.

A graduate of Yale Divinity School (B.D.) and Yale University Graduate School (M.A., M.Phil., Ph.D.), Hauerwas did his undergraduate work at Southwestern University in Georgetown, Tex. He taught for two years at Augustana College in Rock Island, Ill., before joining the faculty of the University of Notre Dame where he taught from 1970-84. He joined the faculty of Duke University in 1984 and has been appointed director of graduate studies.

He has many publications and has given testimony before the Committee on Research in Human Subjects and the Ethics Committee of the U.S. Department of Health and Welfare.

PSU TO HAVE FOOTBALL REUNION AT HOME

PSU's homecoming is only a couple of weeks away on Saturday, Feb. 10, and this year's activities will have an extra feature.

PSU, which fielded football teams in the late 1940's and early 1950's, is having a football reunion Feb. 10 at 4:30 p.m. in the Chavis University Center.

This is the first time a football reunion as part of PSU homecoming has been held in at least the last 20 years.

Coordinating this effort are Lindy Martin, PSU class of '52 who is a minister at First Baptist Church in Vincent, Ala., and Jesse Oxendine, a pharmacist now in Charlotte who attended PSU from 1946-48. Oxendine is former chairman of the PSU Board of Trustees.

Old PSU gridders should plan on being at the reunion.

TWELVE PSU EMPLOYEES TO BE HONORED WITH SERVICE AWARDS

PSU classified employees with 10, 20 or 30 years of service to the institution will be honored at a special banquet Thursday, Jan. 25, at noon in the Chancellor's Dining Room. Each will receive handsome plaques.

Those being honored at their years of services are: 30 years-Alex Strickland; 20 years-Jeanette Cummings, Ed Jacobs, Horace Ransom; 10 years-Sharon Bien, Grace Britt, Paulette Dial, James Hunt, Donald Jones, Annie Locklear, Vertie Locklear, and Christine Perry.

PSU BOARD OF TRUSTEES TO MEET FRIDAY, JAN. 26

The PSU Board of Trustees will hold its regular meeting at 2 p.m. Friday, Jan. 26.

Various trustee committee meetings will be held at 10:30 a.m.

82ND AIRBORNE DIVISION CHORUS TO BE VIDEOTAPE BY WPSU-TV

The 82nd Airborne Division Chorus, which has performed at such functions as the Robeson County Bicentennial, will be featured on WPSU-TV's production of "Ft. Bragg Focus," to be videotaped Jan. 30 at 1 p.m. in the WPSU-TV studios behind PSU's Old Main building.

Their performance will be shown on PSU's network of cablevision stations at a later date.

PSU PUBLIC INFORMATION OFFICE RENOVATION BEING COMPLETED

The PSU Public Information Office has been renovated with an extra office added and new carpeting put down.

The office staff, which has been operating from the Economic Development Office, has returned to its handsome new quarters. It is happy to be going into 1990 with these attractive new facilities.

TRAGIC AUTO WRECK INVOLVING ED SMITH'S STRIKES HOME AT PSU

The tragic automobile accident which occurred last Friday when Rev. and Mrs. Ed Smith of Lumberton were innocent victims of an apparently intoxicated driver who crossed the median of Interstate 95 at Lumberton and crashed into their car was felt deeply at PSU.

Rev. Smith was killed in the accident, and his wife, the former Janet Wellons, reportedly suffered a fractured neck and was taken to Duke Medical Center where she was expected to be for at least 10 days, according to reports. The driver causing the accident was also hospitalized.

Mrs. Smith is the daughter of Dr. Ralph D. Wellons, the first full-time president (1942-56) of what is now Pembroke State University. She and Ed Smith were married in a small, frame house which used to be the president's home along Faculty Row at Pembroke State.

The Smiths have frequently visited the PSU campus, and Janet Smith took part in PSU centennial activities in October, 1986, when portraits of all chief executives of the institution were dedicated.

The Smiths were a delightful couple, and PSU expresses its deepest sympathy to Janet and the family.

We Take Care Of Life And Limb 24 Hours A Day

EMERGENCY CARE

When Larry fell and broke his arm, his parents knew it wasn't a life-threatening situation, but they wanted him to get the best care possible...quickly. They took him to the same place that pulled his grandfather through the trauma of a heart attack—The Emergency Department of Southeastern General Hospital.

From life-threatening trauma to everyday illnesses and accidents, Southeastern's Emergency Department staff is specially trained to handle any medical need any time of the day or night. And the hospital's recently-renovated emergency facility supports the staff with ultra-modern diagnostic technology, a 19-bed, private treatment area, and on-call specialists from our 65-member medical staff.

Every year, Southeastern General Hospital takes care of more than 35,000 emergency-care patients, treating them for everything from bee stings to auto accident injuries. So when a crisis occurs in your life, whether it imperils life or limb, you can look to one medical facility for responsive urgent care... 24 hours a day: The Emergency Department of Southeastern General Hospital.
