

The Carolina Indian Voice

Robeson County

"Building Communicative Bridges In A Tri-Racial Setting"

Robeson County

NUMBER 6

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1990

25¢ PER COPY

GIBSON, GREGORY HEADEN TO BE HONORED WITH TOP ALUMNI AWARDS

M. Carr Gibson of Lumberton, chairman of the board of Canal Industries, Inc., a business enterprise of land and timber, and Dr. Gregory T. Headen of Raleigh, provost-dean of Shaw Divinity School, will be presented the top awards by the Pembroke State University Alumni Association at its Alumni Awards Homecoming Banquet Saturday at 5:30 p.m. in PSU's Chavis University Center.

Gibson will receive the "Distinguished Service Award," and Headen will receive the "Outstanding Alumnus Award."

Gibson has served two full terms as a member of the PSU Board of Trustees and was a charter member of the PSU Chancellor's Club, organized in 1975. He established an academic scholarship for PSU Chancellor's Scholars and has helped hundreds of PSU students. He is a staunch supporter of PSU, whether it be a kickoff fundraising banquet, scholarship golf tournament or a concert series. He has been a close friend of three chancellors of PSU: Drs. English E. Jones, Paul R. Givens and now Joseph B. Oxendine.

M. Carr Gibson

Headen, a native of Goldston who graduated from PSU cum laude in 1973 with a Bachelor of Arts degree, majored in sociology and minored in psychology. At PSU, he was vice-president of the Student Government Association, chief marshal, a member of "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities," and a Dean's List student. He went on to earn his Master of Divinity degree at Duke Divinity School, his Certificate in Clinical Pastoral Education at UNC-Chapel Hill, and his Doctor of Ministry at Southeastern Theological Seminary. He was dean of academic affairs and professor of practical theology at Shaw Divinity School for three years before being named president of the school in 1987. Shaw Divinity School has since been placed under the auspices of Shaw University, and Headen's title as its chief academic officer has been changed to provost-dean.

Gibson, originally from Tallahassee, Fla., earned his Bachelor's Degree at the University of Florida at Gainesville. Gibson was commissioned a second lieutenant in World War II, seeing active duty from 1941-46 and rising to the rank of major while serving in the South Pacific Theatre of Operations. He continued in the Army Reserves and retired after 18 years of service with the rank of lieutenant colonel.

Gibson is a trustee of Methodist Retirement Homes and is on the Board of Directors for Southern National Bank of North Carolina. He is also a trustee of Southeastern General Hospital, a member of the Board of Trustees and Stewards of Chestnut Street United Methodist Church, and a Master Mason, Third Degree.

Headen is a member of the Raleigh Area Ministerial Alliance, pastor of Shaw Community Church in Raleigh, a member of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, a member of the Mid-Atlantic Accrediting Committee of the American Association of Clinical Pastoral Education, and a member of the National Council for the Development of a Black Economic Agenda.

Dr. Gregory T. Headen

Headen's father is a disabled veteran of World War II, having served in Europe, and it was because of his father's service to America that his son was granted a special scholarship to attend college.

Headen is married to the former Doretha Taylor of Sanford, and they are parents of two children, ages 12 and 10.

Gibson is married to the former Alice Rose Gibson of Jacksonville, Fla. They are parents of five children and nine grandchildren with two more expected this year.

Admission to both the Alumni Awards Banquet and the semiformal dance to follow is $30 per person or $20 for either one. Telephone the PSU Alumni Office at 421-4214, Ext. 213, for more information.

PSU TO ADD TWO TO ATHLETIC HALL OF FAME

Donna Moody Quigley, the first female All-American basketball player in 1983 and Joseph Sampson, a three-sport star in football, basketball and baseball during the 1930's are the 1990 additions to the Pembroke State University Athletic Hall of Fame.

Announcement was made recently by PSU Chancellor Joseph B. Oxendine.

They now bring the total in the elite Hall of Fame to 33.

The new inductees will be inducted during ceremonies at the PSU Alumni Awards Banquet on Saturday, Feb. 10th in the Chavis University Center. The banquet begins at 5:30 p.m. prior to the women's and men's homecoming basketball doubleheader against Pfeiffer College which begins at 6:00 p.m. at Jones P.E. Center.

Donna Moody Quigley: Known as Donna Moody during her days at PSU, she was a Dean's List Student every semester at PSU and played basketball and softball from 1981-83.

Additionally, she was two-time all-conference, all-district, all-state, and was PSU's "Academic Athlete of the Year" in 1983 as well as team captain.

She graduated from Pembroke State in physical education with a 3.3 overall GPA and had a perfect 4.0 in graduate school at PSU.

Mrs. Quigley was a star also at Fayetteville's Douglas Byrd High School where she was an all-conference volleyball, basketball and softball player. She played in the 1979 North Carolina East-West game and excelled in all sports.

Currently she is a Disability Examiner for the State of South Carolina in Columbia, SC where she gathers medical and vocational information for Social Security Disability. She has held this position since 1987.

She is married to Keith R. Quigley and has a daughter Kealy, age 16 months. Her hobbies include fishing, reading, basketball and her daughter. They reside in Gaston, SC.

Former PSU Women's Basketball Coach Linda Robinson (79-84) now at Appalachian State says "Donna was a franchise player that initially put the program on the map. She consistently was a national leader in scoring, field goal percentage and free throw percentage. She mastered the inside game, had excellent touch from the outside and she was a model student/athlete."

Additionally, former PSU Coach Lalou Jones (1984-89).

now at UNC-Asheville, says, "She led PSU to its first ever Carolinas Conference Championship and the first NAIA District 26 Championship in 1983. That same year, Donna became the first basketball player, male or female, to be selected to the NAIA All-American First-Team. She exhibited leadership on and off the court and was an excellent student who managed to play two sports after transferring from East Carolina University and still graduate on time."

Mrs. Quigley turns 29 on February 10th, her birthday and induction date.

Joseph Sampson: A resident of Cleveland, Ohio, Sampson was a three-sport star in football, basketball and baseball from 1936-40. He graduated from PSU in 1940 with degrees in History and Math prior to earning his Master's from Kent State in 1964.

He was a teacher in Robeson County for 16 years and a civic leader in Pembroke for many years. He was a volunteer coach of athletics from 1938-56 for the Robeson County School System, for 10 years was scout master for the Boy Scouts of America in Pembroke, was President and Co-Founder of the Pembroke Civic Society, was President and Co-Founder of the Arrow Club, was a Sunday School teacher for Maxton's Harpers Ferry Baptist Church, and was on numerous other committees.

At PSU, he was a four-year football player where he was the leading pass receiver and punter in his junior and senior years, was a four-year varsity basketball player, was leading scorer four years and team captain in both his junior and senior seasons. He additionally played first base and was a relief pitcher in baseball.

Some of the letters of recommendation for Mr. Sampson illustrated his positive influence on young people.

Ray Oxendine, Principal of Pembroke's Purnell Swett High Schools says, "I know of no other person who has graduated from Pembroke State University who has had more of a positive influence on young people than Mr. Sampson."

PSU Hall of Famer John W. "Ned" Sampson says, "From 1956 to present Joseph Sampson has carried the name of Pembroke State University in respect and high esteem in his work as an educator in Cleveland, Ohio."

Sampson, age 70, and his wife Rosa are the proud parents of five children.

SAVE YOUR VISION WEEK MARCH 4-10

"Save Your Vision Week," which is being celebrated March 4-10, has been proclaimed by President Bush to remind Americans to take care of their eyes, say Dr. Mary Ann Masters and Dr. Sandra Locklear. Proper eye care is essential for everyone from young school children to older adults.

The eye chart test commonly used in schools checks only how clearly a child can see at a distance. However, there are many other vision problems that could affect a child's learning and enjoyment of recreational activities. Your child may show signs of problems, such as squinting, avoidance of close work, headaches, rubbing of eyes, placing his or her head close to the desk, etc. Vision problems, however, can exist without symptoms, so it pays to have children's eyes examined thoroughly every year.

As American Baby Boomers enter their 40's, they should prepare for subtle changes in their vision. Conditions to watch out for include:

*Presbyopia, which results from reduced flexibility of the eye's lens and begins to blur vision at age 40-50.

*Glaucoma, which occurs when fluid pressure in the eye rises above normal, causing a loss of vision if left untreated.

*Cataracts, a cloudiness in the eye's lens. Symptoms include blurred vision, spots, and double vision.

If you are experiencing any of these problems, you should schedule an examination to have your eyes checked by an optometrist.

If you wear extended wear or disposable contact lenses, follow the rules! Otherwise, you could be in for trouble. To avoid problems, contact lens wearers should:

--Start off with full-service care to insure proper prescription, lenses, and fit.

--Pay close attention to lens care instructions, and follow them to a letter.

--Keep office appointments during the adaptation period.

--See your optometrist whenever problems develop.

An eye examination can tell more if a person is nearsighted or farsighted. It can also detect signs of high blood pressure, cholesterol, or diabetes. That's just one more reason an annual optometric examination is so important to your overall good health.

FLEETWOOD HOMES OF PEMBROKE RECOGNIZES EMPLOYEES

Fleetwood Homes of Pembroke recently rewarded employees for their service in 1989.

Fifty dollar savings bonds were issued to 44 employees who had a perfect attendance record. A $100 bond was issued to Harry Jones for being recognized as "Employee of the Year."

The plant reached 150,000 man safe hours January 31, 1990. The safety committee sponsored a cook-out and raffle to celebrate the occasion. The raffle winner could choose from a hunting bow, 30.06 rifle, or a 25" remote color T.V. The winner, John F. Oxendine of the floor department, picked the rifle. After the raffle employees enjoyed grilled hamburgers and hot dogs.

Fleetwood Homes of Pembroke employees are shown left to right: Front Row--Anthony Smith, Robert Britt, Herold Bullard, Steve Chavis, Landis Brayboy, Julian Strickland.

Second Row--Garry Locklear, James S. Locklear, Jeffery Jacobs, Andy Oxendine, Darrell Oxendine.

Third Row--Vincent McCallum, Johnny Cummings, Roy Collins, Johnny Jacobs, Jr., Terry Chavis, Tommy Oxendine, James O. Locklear, Tommy Gist, James Brooks.

Fourth Row--Terry Hardin, Terry Locklear, Jeffery Cummings, N.A. Hunt, Johnny C. Jacobs, Ralph McGirt, Jeff Ellis, Roy Clark, Charlie Locklear, Austry Oxendine, Michael Hunt, Horace Bell, Junior Cummings.

Employees Not Pictured--Mickey Locklear, Rodney Oxendine, Ted Locklear and Gilbert Sanderson.

Office personnel honored for perfect attendance were: [Front Row Left to Right] Ellen Locklear, Janet Tyner and Peggy

Ivey [Second row, left to right] Neal Frazier, Dave McGirt and James Tyler.

DONNA MOODY QUIGLEY

Purdie Charis (left) and Harry Jones, Employee of the Year.

JOSEPH SAMPSON

Fleetwood Homes of Pembroke employees are (left to right) Michael Oxendine, John F. Oxendine (raffle winner), and Bobby Barnes.

Banking was Mr. Larry Chavis' topic for discussion at the Tuesday night meeting held at the Town and Country Restaurant.

The North Carolina banks are chartered by the State and regulated by the State's Banking Commission. The Lumbee Bank is a state-chartered bank. There are 70 in this State as contrasted by the older National Banks regulated by the federal government. Most national banks are older and larger. The Federal Depository Insurance Corporation covers each account up to $100,000. It is possible for a family to be covered up to one million dollars.

One should keep in mind that their deposits are insured. There have been no bank failures in North Carolina since 1934. Joint accounts of survivorships will be frozen until the estate is settled. There is a possibility that Savings and Loan banks will be joined in one banking system in North Carolina. In five or 10 years, there will be just one banking system governed by one set of rules.

President Ronnie Sutton spoke to the West Robeson Club last week. Also attending were Jim Paul, Buddy Bell, Grady Hunt and Mitchell Lowry.

Ed Teets have the Scout Report of Scouts working on ranks but are a younger group.

On Feb. 28th Buddy Bell will be taking a group of 10 10th graders to the Leadership Conference being held at the Sandhills Community College. The club voted $100 for the trip expenses.

Pres. Sutton announces the International Convention will be held in St. Louis June 24-28.

Presiding-Ronnie Sutton, invocation-Pete Jacobs, song leader-Ray Lowry, program-Larry Chavis, reporter-Ken Johnson.

BY KEN JOHNSON

MARY LIVERMORE LIBRARY
PEMBROKE STATE LIBRARY
PEMBROKE, NC 28372-1770