ceremonics at the Bill of Rights exhibit in Raleigh on Sunday. Tony and his father are members of the Lumbee Tribe in Pembroke. Six busloads of Lumbee school children came to see the 50-state Bill of Rights exhibit presented by Phillip Morris Companies, Inc.

The Pembroke Kiwanis Report by Ken Johnson

President Mitchell Lowry presented Dr. Martin Brooks who spoke on the long range effects of alcoholism or addiction. The Tuesday meeting was held at the Town and Country Restaurant. Dr. Brooks said the disease starts out lightly at first but develops into heavy drinking as is indicated by the Chinese proverb, "Man takes a drink, drink takes a drink and the drink takes the man." This is the sadness of drinking alcohol in it's habit forming, many times fatal. It's long time consequence leads to auto accidents, to job losses, break up of families, diseases of the liver and other mental break downs. It is a terrible, losing habit for anyone to get into. Dr. Brooks' brother discussed the work of the local Alcoholics Anonymous Club in helping people to overcome the disease. Their meetings are four times a week with discussions by recovered alcoholics. Many tell how far the habit had taken them and how they were able to lick the "living in the ditch" habit. President Lowry presented Dr. Brooks with a framed Kiwanis First President Citation. Presiding-Mitch Lowry; Invocation Pete Jacobs; Song leader- Ed Teets; Program-Mitch Lowry; Reporter-Ken Johnson.

PSU WORKING TO IMPROVE SAT FOR BLADEN COUNTY SCHOOLS

In an effort to improve the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) scores of Bladen County Schools, PSU has been designated by the N.C. Task Force on Excellence in Education to serve Bladen County Schools. A team from PSU recently traveled to the Bladen County Schools' Administrative Center Office in Elizabethtown to conduct an improvement workshop for mathematics and English teachers. The PSU team included: Dr. Kathy Sullivan, director of teacher education; Dr. Clifford Tremblay, associate professor of mathematics; Dr. Bob Reising, professor of communicative arts; and Dr. Pat Cabe, associate professor of psychology.

GREATER ROBESON COUNTY CRUSADE PLANNED FOR FIRST WEEK IN MAY

The meeting room was filled to capacity as excited ministers and lay people from different parts of Robeson County gathered in Lumberton for a luncheon on Jan. 10 to plan for a Greater Robeson County Crusade May 5-9 at Lumberton Senior High School Stadium. The enthusiasm at the meeting was contagious. It was announced that the crusade speaker will be Rick Gage of Atlanta, who has spoken to thousands of teenagers from Alaska to Florida. Gage, a former college athlete and coach, is recommended highly by such sports notables as Tom Landry, Terry Bradshaw, Steve Sloan and Steve Bartkowski. Landry, former coach of the Dallas Cowboys and an outstanding Christian layman says: "Rick Gage was an outstanding collegiate athlete and coach at the major college level. It has always been said of Rick that he exemplified the integrity and Christian character we all strive for. Rick's presentation will have a definite impact on reaching the youth in our schools, athletic programs and youth organizations across America." The crusade will be the most ambitious planned for Robeson County in the past two decades. Other meetings of this nature have been held in Lumberton Senior High School's auditorium, which has a capacity of approximately 1,000 but never in the stadium, which seats approximately 3,000 on the home side. A dinner rally to spur interest in the crusade is scheduled Jan. 29 at 6:30 p.m. at Purnell Swett High School. Tickets are $5 per person, and crusade officials have a goal of 600 in attendance. "There will be no cultural, racial or denominational barriers at this crusade," said Dr. C.J. Bordeaux, pastor of the 800-member Antioch Baptist Church on the Old Whiteville Road 4 1/2 miles southeast of Lumberton who is chairing this crusade.

Dyess Budget officer is Strategic Air Command's best

By SSgt. Stephen C. Bailey EDITOR

Nobody has ever believed in a sure thing. But the Strategic Air Command was right when they put their money on 1st Lt. Karla Miller, Dyess budget officer, naming her the Best Budget Officer in the command.

Notified of her award by the Assistant Deputy Commander for Resource Management, Lt. Col. Nick Drobot, Lieutenant Miller thought at first it was a joke. "When Colonel Drobot told me I had won, I asked 'okay who put you up to this?' After finally convincing me, I was...excited to say the least." Working with the funds for the 96th Bombardment

Wing, the lieutenant describes her duties as hectic but always interesting — never a dull moment. Seen in the eyes of her teacher, Mary Anne Ray, Chief, Budget Officer, as an up and coming budget officer, Lieutenant Miller has been given the freedom to learn and experience many budget affairs duties. "I really appreciate Mrs. Ray for giving me the freedom to do things on my own. Never has she perched over my shoulder to see what I'm doing. She gives me a job, allows me to do it and then is there to answer questions or help if problems arise. I couldn't have asked for a better mentor to teach me." Growing up in Pembroke, N.C., the 26-year-old lieutenant never envisioned herself working as a budget officer controlling such a large monetary fund. "My degree is in business management. Money never really entered the picture, but as it turned out it has been a good three years." Some of the duties Lieutenant Miller is in charge of include handling the mission programs for the 96th Bombardment Wing's commander, deputy commander for operations and the deputy commander for maintenance. She works with the flying hour cost analysis funds, morale, wellness and readiness limitations, plus an array of other jobs. Lieutenant Miller also provides budget guidance to the wing commander when Mrs. Ray is unavailable. "This can be scary. I've got to always be prepared before going before the wing commander. To tell the truth, he never forgets anything — I've really got to be on my toes," she said. "What's the toughest part of the job? "I guess the end of the fiscal year can be tough. This is when we do close out. "It's really a lot of fun to be in budget. We've got a lot of great funds managers who do a great job. But of course working with the people in the budget office and with Mrs. Ray is an experience that my job and the SAC award will always be indicative of." Lieutenant Miller recently has been notified of her reassignment to Kunsan AB, Korea, working as chief, budget office.

Eastern Carolina Tuscarora Nation to Re-Enroll All Members

BY Mike Dunn

The Eastern Carolina Tuscarora Nation will begin to re-enroll all former members as well as anyone who would like to become a member. The enrollment process begins Friday night, Feb. 1, 1991 at 7:30 p.m. and will continue every Friday until March 3, 1991 in the Nation's meeting house, located between Island Grove Church on Highway 710 and the Old Red Springs-Maxton Road (State Road 1303) on the Nation's Sovereign Territory.

Each individual who is being re-enrolled or enrolled will receive not only an enrollment number on their card but also a clan number. They will receive a clan number through a genealogical process which traces them back to one of the seven Tuscarora Clans: Bear, Wolf, Turtle, Deer, Beaver, Snipe, and Eel.

The Eastern Carolina Tuscarora Nation through the "Great Law of Peace" which is the official Law of the Nation and through the "Longhouse" which has now been built and established on the Sovereign Territory is recalling all former enrollment cards. These cards are the ones which were certified by the Six Nations in New York and Canada back in the 70's. Everyone who has one of these cards and fails to come in and re-enroll will have their cards void and their names removed from the enrollment book.

This new system will clarify the confusion that exists in North Carolina on who represents the Tuscarora Nation in dealing with the Six Nations and the foreign governments of the United States and Canada.

The Eastern Carolina Tuscarora Nation will be using a screening system to screen each individual who comes in to enroll or re-enroll and the Nation has the right to reject or accept anyone who is enrolling.

The time limit for re-enrolling or enrolling will be 30 days from Feb. 1, 1991 and ending March 3, 1991. Those who live out of state and are unable to come in to re enroll or enroll can come in at a later time with proof of out of state residency status.

For additional information call 919-521-4955 or write the Eastern Carolina Tuscarora Nation, Route 3 Box 226, Maxton, NC 28364. This article is sanctioned by the Traditional Chiefs and Clan Mothers of the Eastern Carolina Tuscarora Nation and through the self help programs that exist and are sponsored through the nation.

News School

The Public Schools of Robeson County athletic teams recently received 300 water bottles from John Nicholson, Store Manager of Belk of Lumberton. Ronnie Chavis, left, Athletic Director of the public schools, is shown with Nicholson. The bottles are used during games and practices. "They are sanitary and our teams really needed them," stated Chavis.

BRAYBOY EMBARKS ON CAREER IN HOLLYWOOD

Cary Brayboy

Hollywood, CA—Lights! Camera! Action! That's the sound now being heard by Cary Brayboy as he embarks upon his new career in "Tinsel Town." Shortly after becoming a centerfold for an all-male calendar for The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, Brayboy accepted roles in such plays as "The Skin of Our Teeth" where he played Judge Moses; and in "The Tempest" where he performed as Adrien. He says it was after these experiences on stage at the University Theatre that the "Acting" bug bit him.

The tall, young Lumbee Indian with ties to Robeson County, NC was encouraged to pursue acting as a profession.

The doors to the stage began to open as Brayboy accepted various roles in television shows, including his daytime debut on "The Bold and Beautiful."

"I'm very excited about my new upcoming role in the movie "Hot Shots" with Michael Sheen," he commented in a recent interview. "This is a major movie in which I will play a key role as a gang member."

Brayboy says he feels he has an advantage in Hollywood because of his age. "Most young actors vying for these roles are 26 to 27 years old, and I'm only 21. The age advantage gives me time to polish my acting skills."

To do just that, Brayboy is studying under such teachers as Jeff Corey and Al Ruscio.

Brayboy is the son of Bobby D. Brayboy and Mary Elizabeth Brayboy of Alexandria, VA. He is the grandson of Eva H. Brayboy and the late Tecumseh B. Brayboy, Jr. of Pembroke, NC. He is also the grandson of the late MCKinley and Zelma Jones of the Wakulla area.
