

Hammer Down Racing News

Racing continues at Hammer Down Speedway each Saturday night with the Midget Racing point system beginning April 6 and 4-Wheeler Racing point system beginning April 20. Points will be awarded for each position and the season champion will be announced in the fall at the annual banquet.

A large crowd was on hand Saturday night to watch the Adult and Pee-Wee 4-wheelers and the Midget races.

Hammer Down Speedway is located on Old Lowry Road in Red Springs between Highways 211 and 71, next to Thunder Valley. Gates open for racing each Saturday night at 5 p.m. with racing beginning at 7 p.m. A concession stand and clean restrooms are located on the premises and no alcoholic beverages are allowed.

Racing fans are encouraged to come out and enjoy a night of racing under the stars. For information call (919)521-4712, (919)843-2714 or (919)276-6192.

Cory Gorham, 2, of Lumberton is shown with winners in the Pee-Wee 4-Wheeler racing division: (left to right) Brandon Gorham, 6, of Lumberton-first place; Chris McFayden, 12, of Fayetteville-second place; Brian McFayden, 11, of Fayetteville-third place; and Troy Kokoruda, 8, of Lumber Bridge-fourth place.

Winners in the Midget Racing series were Roosevelt Locklear of Maxton, left, who finished in second place and Rosemary Ehrenfeld of Wilmington, right, who won the Main Event and the Trophy Dash.

"He's got to have the very best care...
the best doctors...
no matter what."

This is a family in crisis. A family facing an emergency situation and searching for confidence and reassurance in their choice of hospitals. A family who wants to make sure their decision will give their loved one the best care possible. They will find it here at Southeastern General Hospital. Our regional health care center attracts the best and brightest from the country's finest medical schools: Tulane, Vanderbilt, UCLA, The Medical College of Virginia, The Medical College of Georgia, Cornell and Johns Hopkins, just to name a few. And when you add to that list the many physicians who come to us from our own Bowman Gray, UNC and Duke medical schools, the credentials are impressive. And they're all backed by state-of-the-art facilities and equipment, from our Emergency Center to our Neo-Natal Intensive Care Unit. And should a situation arise which requires capabilities beyond what our facilities offer, these doctors will be right there to guide you in selecting the best alternative.

So whether you're faced with an emergency, or are simply looking for the very best medical care for yourself or someone you love, you need look no further than Southeastern General Hospital. Because when illness strikes, home can absolutely be the best place to be.

SUMMER YOUTH PROGRAM PEMBROKE STATE UNIVERSITY THE PROGRAM DESIGNS FOR THINKING CONNECTIVELY

FIRST SESSION: June 16 - 28
Grades 4 - 8

SECOND SESSION: July 7 - 19
Grades 4 - 8

Graphic Organizers - such as flow charts for sequencing and cause-effect reasoning, and classification trees for finding the main idea, are the concrete tools that will be used for applying Thinking Skills.

Graphic organization of words provides a visual crossroads of the content being taught and the thinking processes used to pattern the content. When used during the teaching-learning process these visual maps can be openings to the use of an expanded repertoire of communication tools.

Staff Training - Workshops, prior to summer, guide instructional personnel through the integration of "Thinking Maps" into classroom practice: (1) Connecting Thinking Maps to Content and Basic Skills instruction (2) Cooperative Learning (3) Discipline through Conflict Mapping and (4) Content Lesson Design.

Consultant - David Hyerle is a nationally known consultant and author. He has trained teachers using graphic organizers - and has authored Building Blocks of Thinking with Jack Glade and Expand Your Thinking.
