POSTER PRESENTATIONS MADE BY PSU PROFESSORS

Dr. Daniel Barbee (administrative studies) and Dr. Gary Willis (criminal justice) developed poster presentations for the third annual N.C. Conference on Injury Control held recently at Chapel Hill.

The two presentations-- "Coalition Building in Community Violence Reduce" and "A Homicide Study of Robeson County"--were developed as part of the project on violence reduction in Robeson County, co-directed by Barbee and Willis.

The presentations were actually made by Willis and Dr. Ann Faireloth, who's research associate with the project. Dr. Tom McAninch of the PSU Department of Sociology, Social Work, and Criminal Justice developed the statistical graphics for the homicide study presentation.

1992 WISHES NOT A PIPE DREAM

"Forget about the Sat Scores and concentrate on why the 601 drop outs in Robeson County Schools." No. 1. Their needs are not being met. No. 2 Their interests are not being met. No. 3. Their ability to comprehend is not being met. Diagnostic tests are needed to determine each individual's needs, interests and his ability to comprehend. The next thing needed is the wisdom to provide industrial arts starting in the junior high school and continuing all through high school. Include home making, plus family raising responsibilities, music, physical education.

This means vocational education should be at each school and not just a single unit as at Dark Branch. It will take millions to teach these needs, interests and ability to comprehend but business should help after all these students are their future. The philosophy is the practical imperative but economics should not deter the long range objective of preventing the 600 drop out rate. The only way is to adopt the "education is for all and not the select few" as the barrage on education is doing. Sat scores don't mean a thing for the kids that need a job.

So my 1992 wish is for the Sat scores to be eliminated and to meet the interests, needs and ability of all U.S. students not just the select few, brainy students. And take care of the health, ethical character through sports for all, vocational efficiency, social efficiency and citizenship. To eliminate the poverty cycle vocational education should be the top priority, not Sat scores.
