SPECIAL FEATURES BEING OFFERED IN SUMMER SESSION

Eight special features will be offered in PSU's summer session—with four being offered each session.

The names of the courses, their professor, the dates offered and times are as follows:

ART 108-02: Art Education in Grades K-6-Dr. Alice Arnold, June 11-July 1, from 10 a.m.-1 p.m. This course focuses on the creative abilities of the elementary school child, exploring the graphic abilities of the child. The philosophy of sequential learning and various production techniques and processes are appropriate for elementary school. This is designed for public school teachers.

Art 205-02: Art History and Ms. Soni Martin, July 11-July 1, from 10 a.m.-1 p.m. This course is designed to establish an understanding of art, to develop an appreciation for the relation between art and man, and to study art in a cultural environment. It is designed for public school teachers.

ART 461-01: Problems Seminar IV-Paul Van Zandt, June 11-July 1, from 1:30-4:30 p.m. This course is designed to afford the talented student the opportunity to explore in-depth an area of study not traditionally emphasized in the art curriculum. Credit is obtained by fulfillment of a contractual agreement between the student, supervising faculty and department chairman. This course is designed for public school teachers.

SPECIAL EDUCATION 340-01: Children with Learning Disabilities-Dr. Zoe Locklear, June 11-July 1, from 8-11 a.m. This course concerns definition, description and educational remediation of childhood learning disabilities.

SPECIAL EDUCATION 301-01: Special Education Curriculum/ Students with Mental Handicaps-Dr. Lawrence Schultz, July 2-Aug. 6, from 10-11:50 a.m. This is a study of the development of a compensatory curriculum for the individual who is mentally handicapped. Emphasis will be placed on the scope and sequence as well as the uniqueness of the curriculum for individuals.

SPECIAL EDUCATION 302-01: Special Education Curriculum/ Students With Learning Disabilities-Dr. Lawrence Schultz, July 2-Aug. 6, from 11-11:50 a.m. This is a study of the development of curriculum for the student with a learning disability and its relationship to the regular curriculum. Emphasis will be placed on the scope and sequence as well as the uniqueness of the curriculum for the individual.

EDUCATION 472-01: Diagnostic And Remedial Mathematics Methods-Dr. Lawrence Schultz, July 2-Aug. 6, from 10-11:50 a.m. Students will learn techniques for diagnosis and remediation of mathematical skill problems of children in grades K-9. Students will also demonstrate competency in using resources and research related to mathematics (in education).

EDUCATION 539-01: Reading Clinic-Dr. Don Little, July 2-Aug. 6 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. This course is designed to provide the reading teacher with practical experiences remediating students' reading difficulties. The reading teacher will work one-on-one with small groups of children in a supervised laboratory setting.

DR. JESSE LAMM NAMED LAY PERSON OF THE YEAR

Dr. Jesse Lamm, 66, who retired four years ago as professor of education at PSU and head of its special education program, was recently chosen "Lay Person of the Year" for the Rockingham District of the United Methodist Church. This covers an area from Rockingham to Robeson County.

The award is based on ministry both inside and outside the United States.

Lamm has helped to build a church in Fairmont and is working on one in Bolton. He traveled to Panama and Haiti last year on mission projects.

Locally, he rebuilt 17 bicycles and gave them to the Robeson Church and Community Center to give away at Christmas. He not only serves on the Board of the Church and Community Center, he is active as a member of the Chestnut Street United Methodist Church in Lumberton, serving as a member of the Board of Trustees, the Methodist Men and the Nominating Committee. He is also a member of the church choir.

Lamm recently attended the second annual dinner of PSU's Retirement/ 25-Year Club.

TO MAKE A MOVE LIKE THIS, YOU NEED A LITTLE BOOST.

There's always a catch. Either you can't pull together enough for a down payment, or your income is too low to qualify for a home loan.

Not to worry. If your household income is less than $27,500, you may qualify for our special Home Ownership Program. It makes you eligible for everything from lower interest rates to 95% financing to lower closing costs. You can even deduct up to 100% of the interest on your taxes.

But you'll never know if you qualify unless you apply. It's one small step that could turn into one giant leap toward home ownership.

During the 1980's, Indian budgets for all programs at the Federal level shrank sharply. Programs were eliminated. It is time to reverse these cuts, and preserve tribal sovereignty.

The Coalition for Indian Education, formed in 1987, is setting out to reverse the federal cuts. We now have 700+ Members, including 75 Institutional Members, and plan to have 1,000 by the end of 1992.

At our First Annual Tribal Budget Summit on January 10-11, 1992, we developed a budget request of $9.9 billion for the 16 federal Indian agencies. This compares to $4.0 that the Bush administration is requesting. We seek your support in this effort, whether you are in social services, education, housing, economic development, or law enforcement. Please join us today!
