New House Members To Be Honored January 24th

The Public is invited to join Superior Court Judge Dexter Brooks as he conducts a ceremony honoring the new members of the North Carolina House of Representatives from this area. The ceremony will be held at 3:00 P.M., Sunday afternoon, January 24, 1993, in Courtroom #1, Robeson County Courthouse in Lumberton.

Most people are aware that Rep-Elect Ronnie Sutton, District 85 and Rep-Elect Frances Cummings, District 87 will be joining incumbent Rep. Danny DeVane, District 16, as they represent their individual Districts in Robeson, Hoke and Scotland Counties. However, few people realize that incumbent Rep. David Redwine will be joined by Rep-Elect Dewey Hill in District 14. Redwine and Hill will be representing two precincts in Robeson County, Orrum and Sterlings. These precincts were recently added to District 14 from District 16.

All Legislative delegation members present will be recognized, but the primary purpose is to honor new House members, Ron Sutton, Frances Cummings and Dewey Hill.

The activities will begin promptly at 3:00 P.M. in Courtroom #1, second floor, Robeson County Courthouse in Lumberton. Judge Dexter Brooks will be presiding and the event is open to the public. Citizens throughout Robeson, Hoke and Scotland Counties are encouraged to attend. Seating will be limited and on a first come basis.

Methodist Women's Group to Hold Bid for Henry Berry Lowery Painting

A valuable painting depicting the life of Henry Berry Lowery will be auctioned off with the highest bid by the First United Methodist Church Women's Organization of Pembroke. The famous painting, "Farewell", revealing Henry Berry Lowery with his wife, Rhoda, standing beside him, will be auctioned by the Methodist Women's group as a fundraiser to be used in various missions, the church, and assisting where needs are requested.

In the painting, Lowery is pictured with a sense of tension and fear as he prepares to depart with a reluctant good-bye to Rhoda in fear of his life. The painting is an oil painting of July 1991 and is a limited edition print of 100 which is signed and number printed 24 sealed with a certificate of authenticity. Previously, the painting was auctioned at $10,000 with Mr. Adolph Dial as the buyer. It also hangs in Pembroke State University Museum.

Ellie Sampson, the artist, is self taught in art has a degree in education from PSU and has a full time art career in Maryland. The lowest bid for the painting is $1,000 to place your bid, you may stop by First Methodist Church of Pembroke or contact Mrs. Cattie Mae Hunt at 521-4329 or Rev Jerry Lowry at 521-8197 for more information. Bids will be received through February 28.

Lumbee Women Being Recruited for Cancer Study

Ronny Bell, a native of Pembroke, is currently recruiting adult Lumbee Indian Women (ages 21-60 years) to participate in a diet and cancer study to be conducted this spring. The study involves attending six weekly nutrition education sessions on the campus of Pembroke State University, and providing information about dietary habits. Each session will be held at night, and will last approximately 1 hour. Participation is limited to Lumbee Women who are not pregnant, have been residents of the county for at least two years, are not on a medically prescribed diet, and do not have a chronic disease such as cancer, diabetes, high blood pressure, or heart disease.

In addition to the nutrition information provided in each session, participants will also receive a free dietary analysis as well as other incentives. If interested, or for more information, please call 521-4622 between 9:00 am and 9:00 P.M.

Pembroke Kiwanis Report

by Ken Johnson

Program Chairman Garth Locklear presented Town Manager McDuffie Cummings who in turn presented his brother Dr. Robin Cummings, Open Heart Surgeon of Moore County Hospital. The weekly meeting was held at the Town and Country Restaurant on Tuesday evening. Dr.

The stopping smoking, hypertension control and diet modification decreases the risk of heart attack. Bypassed grafting of collateral vessels is done by two surgeons with a complete team of highly competent nurses and Mr. David Christaldi who is in charge of highly technical machines that keep the blood circulating while the heart is completely stopped, the temperature lowered to prevent complications.

Mr. Christaldi also spoke showing slides of the operating room and the work of each machine. Open heart surgery has advanced greatly over the past few years. The average age of patients is 63.8, the risk does go up with advancing years. Dr. Cummings graphical showings were truly enlightening, the "state of the art" of medical science of open heart surgery is surely phenomenal. Dr. Cummings also stressed prevention of heart attacks with exercise and diet control.

Truly an outstanding program, tops of the many fine programs Kiwanis have put on. Presiding: Buddy Bell, Invocation; Garth Locklear, Song leader, Ed Teets; K. J. Reporter.

"Tuscarora Lacrosse Team To Organize"

The Eastern Carolina Tuscarora Nation and the Tuscarora Cultural Survival School, are sponsoring an all-Tuscarora/Iroquois Lacrosse Team. Lacrosse is the national game of the Tuscarora and the other five nations that comprise the six nations. We believe that Lacrosse is the Creators Game and that He gave it to us.

The team will be organized to promote the game of Lacrosse among the Tuscarora Indians in this area. The Long range goal is to develop a team that will be able to go North to New York and Canada to compete against the teams from all the six nations.

All practices will take place on the Sovereign Territory of the Eastern Carolina Tuscarora Nation located about 4 miles south of Red Springs in the Prospect Community. All enrolled members of the Eastern Carolina Tuscarora Nation that would like to play Lacrosse, needs to come to the Tuscarora Cultural Survival school on Jan. 30, 1993 at 12:00 noon, on the Eastern Carolina Tuscarora Nations Sovereign Territory.

Practice will begin at this time. Nyaw-Weh. "Tuscarora Cultural Survival School to begin classes"

The Eastern Carolina Tuscarora Nation will begin classes of the "Tuscarora Cultural Survival School" on January 30, 1993 (Saturday) beginning at 12:00 P.M. (noon) and last until.

The school will be held on the Sovereign Territory of the Eastern Carolina Tuscarora Nation located 4 miles out of Red Springs in the Prospect Community. The purpose of the school is to enlighten our Tuscarora youth on their own history, culture, and traditions as well as teaching them to be self-sufficient in survival off the land.

There will be classes in the Tuscarora language, Iroquois arts and crafts, Iroquois Social dancing and singing, Iroquois and Tuscarora history, and the game of Lacrosse, the national sport of the Iroquois, as well as learning ways to survive off the land using the old survival techniques.

We believe that it is very important and a must on the survival of the nation, that we teach our youth their own culture and traditions and not adopt other Indian cultures from out west as other Indian groups of this area have chosen to do. Eastern Indians did not use a large hide drum, did not use the fancy dance bustles, did not use customs and traditions of the Oklahoma and Western Nations of Indians. We have just as beautiful a culture and traditions as they. When we adopt these other cultures we are only putting down and denying our own and saying that our own is inferior to theirs.

The more we do this the more we are losing our own culture. In reality Pan-Indianism is detrimental to the individualism of the culture and traditions of each Indian Nation. Each Indian Nation has its own individual culture and traditions and the preservation of each one of these is decided whether or not each Nation is willing to hold on to what they have, learn what they have, and guard what they have against any type of genocide that might try to change this.

Adopting other Indian traditions and incorporating them into your own is genocide to your own Indian Nation. We have a saying that we use in our Tuscarora Nation and it is "Without your culture you have no Identity."

We are inviting all Tuscarora that are enrolled in the Eastern Carolina Tuscarora Nation and would like to learn your own culture and traditions to come to the Survival School on January 30 and get away from these genocide backed Indian organizations that are teaching you that western Indian culture is your culture.

The Tuscarora Cultural Survival School is not funded by any state or federal program, grant, or loan, but by total self-help. This article is written and supported by the Clan Mothers, Clan Chiefs, and survival school teachers. NYAW-WEH Eastern Carolina Tuscarora Nation and Tuscarora Cultural Survival School.

News of St. Pauls Holliness Church

by Cathy Smith

Last Thursday Night Rev. Kenneth Bryant preached a wonderful message taken from Luke 19: 16, 17, 15: 11-32 using as his subject "Being Found Faithful". A good faith building message about the Prodigal Son. Our singing was this past Sunday Night we had a wonderful singing. We appreciate Outreach Holliness Church for coming and being a part of our singing. Also Sis. Lorene Caulder and several others that came. The Fourth Sunday we will be looking forward for Rev. Erdie B. Cummings to be preaching for us. Also every Saturday at 2:30 P.M. listen to Rev. Cummings on WKKE radio station. Also this Sunday the 24th our revival will be starting with Rev. Kenneth Locklear preaching each night.
