

Pembroke Kiwanis

The weekly Kiwanis meeting was held Tuesday evening at 7:00, at the Town and Country Restaurant with President Buddy Bell presiding.

Program Chairman Bob Lowry presented Mr. Jerry Owen, vice president of the Rowland Branch of Southern National Bank. Mr. Owen is chairman of the Board of the Robeson County Communities in Schools.

"We need volunteers to help with our children. The help may be in instruction, in labor, in all kinds of duties related to schools. It doesn't need to be in instruction, it can be where needed.

Mr. Owen presented a video depicting theological virtues of religious faith as a potent force of Society. The kids can't take it if we don't give. Faith must be transmitted to the young. Babe Ruth said he didn't know the difference between right and wrong, an incorrigible youth but Father Mathis straightened him out.

"The appeal of God since He had an eye out for." Knowledge of God was the hose for me. As he did not have respect for people but he recognized God's justice and mercy. Brother Mathis introduced him to baseball. Religious training was unfulfilling to him. Babe never forgot his church. Trying to ignore the rules just wouldn't get you there. Every successful person in life has to have someone else. Mr. Owen presented this film as it shows the need children have for some else in their lives so the Robeson County Communities in Schools came about. Mrs. Adienne Oxendine is the Executive Director and her office phone is 738-1734 if you wish to offer your services to the children in the Robeson Schools. Private industry helps to finance the Communities in Schools program.

You Don't Miss Your Water ... 'Til It's Gone

(NU) - Time and again after a disaster such as a hurricane in Florida or a flood along the Mississippi, residents talk about the one commodity they miss the most now that it's gone — clean, safe water.

Under the stress of a water shortage, the media promotes guidelines for conserving water, and for the most part, people follow them. But what about the rest of the time?

If you find yourself taking water for granted, try an experiment. Don't use any water for one day. You won't take it for granted again. According to the National Rural Water Association, water conservation habits are easy to develop and can actually improve the quality and quantity of water service in an area.

By following a few simple tips, you can develop water-saving habits that can preserve a commodity that only seems precious when it is not available.

Change your conservation habits by following these tips.

- Check for leaks.
- Use a rake or broom instead of a hose to remove leaves or cuttings from the driveway.
- Don't use your toilet as a wastebasket or an ashtray.
- Take a quick shower instead of a bath.
- Keep a chilled pitcher of water in the refrigerator for drinking.
- Wash vehicles with a bucket of water instead of running the hose.
- Only wash full loads in washing machines and dishwashers.

Helping One Another (Galatians 6:1-6)

In last week's lesson we learned how to serve one another. Remember: we were called to serve and love one another. This week we are challenged to love even when our brothers and sisters fail in their Christian life. We are instructed in verse 1 to help our brethren when they stumble or fall by the wayside. Too many times we turn people away from the House of God in the way that we treat people who stumble. Sometimes when Christians sin we withdraw fellowship from them before we ever make any attempt to restore the fallen brother. This must be done in the right spirit and with humility, not in harsh manner. When someone is down, it is not the time to kick them, but if we are to ever show brotherly love, it is then. We must remember that except for the grace of God, we could be fallen.

In verse 2 we are told to bear one another's burden. In last week's lesson the scripture said that the law is fulfilled in one word: thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. Therefore, when a brother or sister is burdened for whatever reason, financial, person, physical, etc., we are instructed to help the. When we have the kind of Christian love we ought to have, we will have a desire to bear the burdens of others. In verse 4 we are admonished to live a life that is pleasing to God. Then we can joy in the fact that our life speaks for itself. When we do our best to please God, we will not be critical of others. Verse 5 tells us that we have a responsibility as individuals to bear those loads that are ours alone to bear. There are some things in our Christian life that only we can do. Others cannot do them for us. Verse 6 instructs us to encourage those who teach us. Many times teachers or preachers need a word of encouragement from those they teach.

II. God's Law of the Harvest (v. 7-8)

Verses 7 and 8 simply state that there is a reckoning day for all. We will give an accounting of the kind of life we have lived. We need not deceive ourselves, god will not be deceived. We will reap from life what we have given. We can either reap of the spirit or reap of the flesh. Beware there will be a judgment day.

III. Doing Good to All (v. 9-10)

Do not be discouraged or give up in this Christian walk, we are told, because in due season we will be rewarded. Sometimes we seem to be in a struggle in our Christian lives whole others who are living ungodly breeze through life. This may cause us to want to give up, but the scripture reminds us that our labor will not be in vain. Verse 10 instructs us to do good to all. That means not only brethren in Christ but to lost people also. We are to do good, especially to those who are Christian believers.

IV. New Creatures in Christ (v. 14-16)

We are to glory in the cross of Jesus Christ, not in our works. The apostle Paul said "God forbid that I should glory in anything but the cross." We did nothing to acquire salvation, neither can we do anything to keep it. Through the blood of Jesus we have denied the world. Being Jew or Gentile makes no difference when we accept Christ we become new creatures. In verse 16 we find that the rule is that all be born again, it makes no different if they are Jew or Gentile. The spiritual status of a person is no longer measured by keeping the law but by regeneration through Jesus Christ.

Parting Words (v. 17-18)

Paul's parting words to the Galatians was that what people said about him would not bother him because the record of his faith spoke for itself. That should be the testimony of every Christian today. The grace of God will take us where the Spirit of God leads us. Those of you who are lost need God's grace. Please accept Jesus now as savior. God bless each of you. We invite you to come visit us at Salem Baptist Church.

Dinner Theater held at PSHS

by Yvonne Barnes Dial

With an atmosphere of Paris delight, the Purnell Sweet High School visual arts department held a french designed dinner theater in the school's common's area Friday, April 29 at 7 p.m.

Upon entrance of the French designed restaurant, guests were greeted by a lovely lady dressed with a dress of solid soft color and a flowered hat. A wall of scenes of shops and homes were created and designed with boxed windows cascaded with decorative flowers. To add to the scene and to make the atmosphere feel the romance of Paris, designs of the Eiffel Tower and the Arc de Triomphe gave a final taste to the scene.

"It was super! It's something I've looked forward to. For the students, it was educational and the event instilled within the students a sense of pride in their work and their contributions for the occasion," said Delora Cummings, visual arts instructor.

Steve Tyner, drama teacher, welcomed everyone with Bill Brewington, principal, sharing that the event was the first dinner theater that the school has had.

Nila Chamberlin, visual arts supervisor for Robeson County Schools, commended PSHS's fine arts department on their hard work the magnificent design and atmosphere created by the teachers and students.

Afterward, Ellen Jackson, chorus teacher sang "April in Paris."

As everyone enjoyed their dinner of beans almandine, buttered potatoes, ham, french bread, cake with chocolate syrup, chips and fresh strawberries, they were entertained by chorus, band and drama students.
