

Purnell Swett High News

The PSHS faculty and staff participated in a staff development workshop titled "Catch the Wave" at Myrtle Beach, S.C. February 22-23. Emphasis was placed upon team building which was presented by assistant principal, Susan Blackman.

Mrs. Felicia Hunt's business management and marketing classes attended a field trip February 26th at the Robeson County detention center. The tour was conducted by captain Terry Harris. Sheriff Glenn Maynor also spoke with students regarding the operations of the new detention center.

Amanda Oxendine won first place in the FHA competitive events. She will advance to the state competition in April.

"TEACHER INDUSTRY TOUR"

Campbell Soup hosted an industry for 11 Purnell Swett teachers and 1 Workforce Development Central Office Coordinator on Thursday, March 13. The tour was coordinated by Mr. Ernest Parker - Manufacturing Systems Manager at Campbell Soup in Maxton.

Teachers were given an extensive tour of the entire facility. The tour was divided into groups of four each having their own guide. An explanation was given for all phase of the production cycle.

The tour was an enlightening experience for all in attendance. Teachers were exposed to true modern technology. The Maxton plant has capacity to fill 4 million cans of soup daily. Campbell Soup is the third largest can manufacturer in the world.

"PURNELL SWETT JOB SHADOWING"

Aaron Locklear, a student in Ms. Lynn Sanderson's Teen Living class, participated in a job shadowing activity on Wednesday, March 12. Aaron is interested in becoming a Mortician so he chose to job shadow with Thompson's Funeral Home. Gary and Patsy Thompson are the owners of this establishment.

Aaron was advised of both the business and practical side of running a funeral home. Mr. Thompson has been in this business for 32 years. He and his wife have owned their own business for 9 years. Aaron learned that it is now becoming easier for individuals to break into this career area. In the past, funeral homes were considered a closed career area since they were owned and operated primarily by families.

Aaron received a tour and explanation of each aspect of the business: Funeral Direction and Family Counseling, Casket Area, Embalming, Etc. Mr. Thompson also advised Aaron of the educational requirements such as: Degree from accredited school, 1 yr. Internship and state board exam. Aaron advised that this experience definitely had an impact on confirming his future career choice. Aaron now plans to pursue a career as a mortician.

"PARENTING AND CHILD DEVELOPMENT"

Mrs. Janice Fields' parenting and child development classes are participating in a job shadowing activity at 5-G's daycare. They plan to follow up with future visits to the daycare's.

Dr. Diane Jones, Assistant vice-chancellor of Student Affairs-UNC-P, presented a program entitled "Self Esteem Being Your Own Best Friend" to 20 students on Tuesday, March 11. Dr. Jones stressed the importance of self-esteem in the workplace. She involved the students in various hands on activities that emphasized the importance of team work and feeling good about your achievements. In addition to self esteem, students were able to learn about topics such as: avoiding excesses in food and drink, problem solving with a UNC-P keepsake.

Sgt. Terry Deese and Sgt. Quincy McCoy, U.S. Army Recruiters, presented a speaker/video presentation to Ms. Felicia Hunt's marketing class on Wed., March 5. The presentation covered various topics such as: enlistment programs, salary info, college programs, skill training, etc. Sgt. Deese also advised students that they should take the army entrance exam if they were not interested in enlisting. This exam provides excellent practice for the SAT.

H&R Block presented an income tax work session for students on Thursday, March 6th. Ms. Linda Coe, office supervisor and Mrs. Janice Coe of H&R Block - Lumberton, Fayetteville road office, gave a very informative look at Tax Preparation. Students first prepared forms using a created scenario. They were then able to use these forms as guides to prepare their own individual state and federal forms. Students who participated now feel confident that they have learned a valuable skill that will not only save them money but will also enable them to consider the long term effects of paying taxes. We would like to extend many thanks to H&R Block for allowing Linda Coe and Janice Coe to work with our students.

The arts department sponsored a dinner theatre March 21. The theme was "A Night of Mystery", band and orchestra students performed as guests entered and waited for the dinner theatre to begin. Drama teacher, Steve Tyner and drama students performed a play involving a murder. Ellen Jackson, Chorus teacher, along with several chorus students sang several selections. Arts department teachers include: Steve Tyner, theatre arts; Ellen Jackson, chorus; Deloria Cummings, visual arts; Carla Ringer, fine crafts; Jamie Palo, band; and Karen Paape, dance.

The Rho Alpha Omega Chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc. will present its fourth Debutante Cotillion. This year's theme is "Elegant Ladies Poised For the Challenge of the Future".

Activities leading up to this event have included: Mother/Daughter Tea; college visitation and basketball game at A & T State University, Greensboro, NC; Etiquette Clinic and Career Workshop. Following Girls' Night Out, the debutantes and escorts breakfasted at Quincy's and then worshipped at Bright Hopewell Baptist Church.

Mr. Sam Wynn-1990
Ms. Bernice Oxendine-1994
Mr. Roy Maynor-1996-Present.
The Official representative for CCAIP is the Chairperson of the Board. In his absence, the Vice Chairperson would represent the organization accordingly.

The CCAIP is a private, non-profit organization located in an Urban community to represent Native Americans who reside in the Fayetteville/Cumberland County area.

We do not and never have had a chief as we are not a tribal government. However, we do have and have had a Chairperson who presides over the Board of Directors and their meeting.

Thank you for your time and your publication of this letter.
If we can be of further assistance to you, please do not hesitate to call me at (910) 483-8442.

Sincerely,
Gladys Hunt

Carolina Indian Voice to Celebrate 24 Years of Publication

Friends and supporters of the Carolina Indian Voice will gather at Pembroke Middle School on Saturday night, April 26, 1997 to celebrate 24 years of continuous publication of the Indian owned newspaper. The celebration will include a banquet and special entertainment by Carnell Locklear. The event begins at 7:30 p.m. and tickets are available for $30 per couple and $15 single.

Madie Rae Locklear, LREMC Board member, is chairing the event. For more information and tickets, please contact her at 843-5092 or call the Carolina Indian Voice at 521-2826.

The Carolina Indian Voice is Indian owned and operated and has the distinction of having the longest continuing publication of any newspaper in the Lumbee community. For a short time in the early 40's the Pembroke Progressive was published in Pembroke. It was not Indian owned. The next Indian newspaper attempt was in the 1060s when the Lumbee newspaper was published for about two years. Neither newspaper was owned totally by Indians.

County Democrats to Hold Annual Convention April 19
