STATEMENT FROM
 THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT PEMBROKE
 CHANCELLOR JOSEPH B. OXENDINE
 FOR THE
 INDIAN HONORS ASSOCIATION
 July 1, 1997

For three-quarters of a century, Old Main has served as the symbol of opportunity for the citizens of our community. Since its founding in 1887, dedicated faculty at The University of North Carolina at Pembroke have prepared more than ten thousand men and women to meet life's challenges. Established to educate Native Americans, and accredited as a normal, or teacher education institution, UNC Pembroke is proud of the dedication and accomplishments of its graduates. Consequently, we are pleased to join with all citizens of this community in honoring 93 distinguished persons who served their region and nation. They are the elders and their families, spiritual leaders, educators, retired military persons, health care professionals, lawyers and judges, and elected Indian officials. As we celebrate Lumbee Homecoming, we recognize their contributions and thank them for enhancing the quality of life in this community and throughout the world.
