READY FOR DISTRIBUTION

State Premium List Shows Many Good Features.

(Special to Daily News.) Raleigh, April 6.—The field and garden products premium list for the fifth annual state fair and home-coming jubilee here October 17 to 23 is just from the printers, and will be distributed at once into every part of the state. There is a first prize of $250 for the best collective county exhibit open to every county in the state, with second, third and fourth prizes of respectively $500, $150 and $100. There are prizes of $25, $15 and $10 for the best displays of methods of teaching agriculture in the schools. There will be $6000 in special premiums offered jointly by the state board of agriculture and the North Carolina Agricultural society. There is offered $400 for the best collective agricultural individual exhibit and $200 for the second best. For the most prolific and best exhibit of corn by men prizes of $100, $50 and $25 are offered. And similar prizes are offered for the same crops by boys. In cotton the best prizes are $50, $25 and $10, with extra special prizes of like amounts by W. A. Simpkins for greatest number of open bolls of his special cotton. Trucking comes in also for attractive prizes for best displays, the premiums being $25, $15 and $10. There is the usual long list of premiums from $1 to $5 for cotton, wheat, corn, oats, rye, clover, rice, peas, peanuts, barley, tobacco, grapes and an endless variety of vegetables and other garden and field products.

A SIMPLE AND QUIET HOME WEDDING AT DURHAM

(Special to Daily News.) Durham, April 6.—A wedding of local interest in this and Person counties took place this morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Mesley, when Miss Made, their daughter, became the bride of J. Ohio Lunford. Everything that had pertinency to the ceremony was simple and quiet. There was no music; there were no attendants. The couple approached the altar at 9:30 and stood in the parlor for the admission, read from the Methodist ritual by the Rev. N. C. Yearby, a brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

The bride was attired in a fawn colored going-away gown of cloth, with corresponding hat and gloves. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley, and stood during the betrothal surrounded by the simple decorations of smilax and wisteria. Only friends of the couple attended, the recent death of Miss Mesley's aunt causing the ceremony to be very quiet. Immediately after the marriage the couple took the westbound train for Asheville, and from there to the western part of the country, where they will spend some time upon their bridal trip. Returning they will live in the city.

CELEBRATED BIRTHDAY BY DINING BASEBALL TEAM

(Special to Daily News.) Durham, April 6.—Upon the occasion of his 21st birthday last night, Catober Claude Flowers, of the Trinity team, dined the "whole team" at the home of his father, Col. G. W. Flowers. A course luncheon was served the baseball boys, whose honor in the affair was shared only by the three brothers of the young catcher. Mr. Flowers began his work behind the bat when but 18, and after all of his baseball experience had been elsewhere on the field. He has made the college team a man who could not have been spared at any time, and this year goes into fast company with the Winston-Salem team.

N. C. N. G. CONVENTION

After Short Session Meeting Adjourned For Ball Game.

(Special to Daily News.) Raleigh, April 6.—The North Carolina National Guard association was convened at 11 o'clock this morning with President F. A. Mason, Henderson, in the chair and Major C. T. Weldon, secretary, and more than 50 members here and numbers of others to arrive this evening and tomorrow. Major B. F. Dixon, state auditor, welcomed the association in a characteristically pleasing address that was responded to in behalf of the association by Lieutenant Colonel Minor, of Oxford. One of the first and most pleasing features of the morning session was the reading of a paper by Lieutenant Col. Thomas R. Orrell, Wilmington, that has been prepared by Lieutenant-Colonel J. Van B. State, of Wilmington, who found it impossible to attend the meeting and read the paper assigned to him. The subject of Colonel Matthe's paper was "The Relation of the Business Men and the National Guard." In it he urged closer cooperation between the business men and the local military companies. He reviewed the important relation that the military company has with the community in being ready at any and all times to respond to any emergency call and the invaluable service often rendered. He called on the guardsmen and the newspapers to cooperate in bringing about a more complete cooperation on the part of business men. Many, he said, already responded heartily to all calls made on them, but there are still many who will not let their men off for encampments or other service without docking them for their time or taking it out of the vacations. And there are many other obstacles raised to the well-being of the companies through this lack of cooperation, he added. The paper was heartily received and ordered published.

There was a motion by Col. R. L. Leister for a committee to be appointed to draft resolutions endorsing a bill pending in Congress to make it a misdemeanor for officers of the army and navy to be prohibited from entering theatres or other public places with their uniforms, or rather for them to be refused admission because of their uniforms.

On motion of Lieutenant-Colonel J. A. Turner, of Louisville, Gen. H. A. Royster, Oxford, was made chairman of the committee. The association took a recess to see the A. and M. Gullford ball game this afternoon; the reading of other important papers to be deferred until there is a fuller attendance of the guardsmen.

SOFT YARN SPINNERS HOLD AN IMPORTANT MEETING

(Special to Daily News.) Charlotte, April 6.—To wrestle with the question of prices, curtailment, and a uniform selling contract, members of the committee of the Southern Soft Yarn Spinners' association met at the Selwyn assembly room today to see what can be done for the relief of the existing conditions in soft yarns, and to improve the business of the soft yarn men as far as possible.

President J. F. Taylor, of the association, arrived from Kinston last night, and was busy throughout the morning perfecting arrangements for the meeting. The first meeting of the association took place at the Selwyn, convening shortly before noon, and was an open meeting, all spinners of soft yarns being invited to enter into the deliberations of the body.

During the afternoon an executive session was held, only members being admitted. That the present conditions existing in the soft yarn market require attention and that the market must be boosted up in some way is generally admitted by spinners, but the proper method of approaching this task is the real issue, and there are opinions that vary from one another considerably as to the best and proper plan to be followed.

The market for the product of the soft yarn spinners is not at all satisfactory to the members, though some of them are making money, and the real problem is to devise a method to improve this market and to stimulate prices of yarn.

President Taylor stated that there were numerous plans being offered for the relief of conditions, and that curtailment seemed to be a leading remedy that was being suggested.

In addition to this, the president declared that the uniform selling contract was another issue that is to receive a great part of the attention and occupy much of the time of the discussions. "We have no schedule of prices of course," said Mr. Taylor, "but there is a good deal of importance attaching to the form of contract under which the soft yarn spinner is to sell his product, and we hope at this meeting to go thoroughly into the uniform selling contract question, and if possible, to arrive at something of a definite nature."

The manner of disposing of their product is paramount with the soft yarn spinners, and if they are able to arrive at a generally acceptable method of selling, it will be of immense advantage to them in the prosecution of their business.

Much interest attaches just now to the question of curtailment among the soft yarn mills, and there is considerable speculation as to whether or not the Southern Soft Yarn association will adopt the curtailment resolution.

Among those who are in the city for the meeting are President Taylor, of Kinston; Secretary W. L. Myrick, of Charlotte; Vice-President McRae, chapman, of McCall, S. C.; J. P. McRae, president of the Dickson and Scotland cotton mills, Laurinburg, and others.

BOOSTING THE SOUTH

Southern Railway Publication Is Doing Good Work in That Line.

Atlanta, Ga., April 6.—"The South as a Profitable Field for Stock Raising" is the theme of the April issue of the Southern Field, the official organ of the land and industrial departments of the Southern railway, the Mobile and Ohio, the Georgia Southern and Florida, the Alabama Great Southern, and the Cincinnati New Orleans and Texas Pacific railroads. Advance proofs which have just come from the press indicate that this issue, thousands of copies of which will be placed in the hands of desirable settlers now living in the north and west, will preach a great sermon on the opportunities for profit in the stock business in the south.

The leading article tells of the great awakening of interest in this industry in the south and the opening of a mammoth packing house in Atlanta is pointed out as an indication of the movement for the south to raise its food at home is now under way. Well written articles fully illustrated tell of how the northern or western farmer is assured that by coming south he can procure cheaper land with a climate giving practically twice as much time for work in the year and still pursue the kind of agricultural industry to which he is accustomed, instead of having to give up his home and go to a new country.

Wiregrass Georgia and the section along the line of the Augusta Southern railroad come in for a considerable share of attention, but no section of the south is neglected and though the raising of live stock is given chief attention, all branches of southern agriculture and industry are touched upon.

This magazine, which is published under the direction of Land Industrial Agent M. V. Richards, is a great booster for the south and all readers are assured that anyone interested in the south will be given the fullest information on application to the department's headquarters in Washington, where facts and figures concerning any section of the south are to be had at a moment's notice and a permanent exposition of the south's resources is maintained, open to the investigation of anyone.

BOY KILLED BY TRAIN NEAR REIDSVILLE STATION

(Special to Daily News.) Reidsville, April 6.—Burke Balesy Stewart, 13 years old, son of Mrs. G. W. Stewart, met with an accident on the Southern railway, near the depot last night, which caused his death. One of his legs was mashed at the knee and broken above the hip, and Dr. McGhee and Jett amputated the leg. A coroner's inquest was held and the verdict stated that the boy came to his death by being struck by a freight train near the passenger station, where his mangled body was found.

The child's father is in a hospital in the western part of the state, having dangerously wounded himself with an axe about the head a few years ago while insane.

H. H. GRANGER TO SUCCEED HIS FATHER IN DIRECTORATE

(Special to Daily News.) Raleigh, April 6.—A commission went today from the executive office of Governor Kitchin, to H. H. Granger, Kinston, designating him as a director of the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad company to succeed his father, the late J. W. Granger.

There was also a commission today to Dr. Charles Lee Smith to succeed himself as a member of the North Carolina library commission for a term of three years.

Rev. Wooten's Revival

(Special to Daily News.) Durham, April 6.—The congregation of Carr church, East Durham, is passing through a great revival, conducted by Rev. J. C. Wooten, of Trinity College. The preaching of Mr. Wooten caused the church machinery to come up last night and promise greater effort in the work of the future. The pastor, Rev. J. A. Dailly, is assisting, and thinks he is receiving the greatest spiritual assistance in Mr. Wooten. The revival includes two notable ones that ended last week.

ONE CONDUCTOR WHO WAS CURED

Mr. Wilford Adams is his name, and he writes about it—"Some time ago I was confined to my bed with chronic rheumatism. I used two bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy with good effect, and I resumed work as conductor on the Lexington Ky. street railway. It gave me more relief than any medicine I had ever used. After a few days I was able to do my work. I am now free from rheumatism." Foley's Kidney Remedy cures rheumatism by stimulating the urea and from the blood. Howard Gardner.

Another Seizure

(Special to Daily News.) Raleigh, April 6.—Deputy United States Marshal R. W. Ward went to Goldsboro this afternoon to serve the papers in another seizure of damaged corn meal taken in hand by the pure food division of the United States department of agriculture. There were 200 bushels of the meal which were seized by F. D. Booth and company, Petersburg, to F. J. Ginn.

IMPROVEMENT IN COUNTRY LIFE AMAZED MR. DIXON

(Special to Daily News.) Raleigh, April 6.—Hon. B. F. Dixon, state auditor, just back from Monroe, says he was amazed at the wonderful improvement in country life conditions in Union county where a few years ago tumble-down log houses, quite a number of really handsome colonial residences being among the fine country estates that he saw. He found that the county is a network of rural telephones, Union having more than any other county in the state, he was told. He delivered the address for the closing of Wesley's Chapel high school, which was the first school district in the state, it is said, to vote local tax for the improvement of schools, there being now over 1,000 in the state.
