SOCIALISM IN MILWAUKEE.

In the recent municipal election in Milwaukee the Social Democrats won a sweeping victory, electing Emil Seidel, their candidate for mayor, by 8,000 plurality. This was the largest plurality ever given any party in any contest in the history of the city of Milwaukee. In addition, they control the common council, having elected all six aldermen and secured 13 out of the 23 seats. It is significant that the city, so far as its municipal government goes, is in the hands and under the control of the Socialists, for the leaders of the Social Democrats are avowedly socialists.

This sequel will be watched with interest throughout the country. The platform of the Social Democrats, the Republicans and the Democrats in the campaign was simple. They all advocated home rule, initiative and referendum, and regulation of the liquor traffic. In view of the similarity of platforms the results of the election must be interpreted as meaning that the Social Democrats have won the confidence of the people of Milwaukee and they are trusted to carry out their platform and campaign pledges in a most satisfactory manner than the old parties. But don't get frightened over it. Let the test come.

There are many people in this country who take to them exclusive reliance on government and socialism, but there is no real reason to get excited. It will be more sensible to wait and judge the Social Democrats at Milwaukee by the results of their coming administration. One of the most prominent Socialists in Wisconsin, Vernon I. Berger, the leader of his party in Milwaukee, who is but a year or two younger than our oldest citizens, says that the Social Democrats are not to be feared. He says that the party will give Milwaukee the best of administration it ever had or that any city in the world has. A square deal for everybody will be the result.

Nobody can find fault with the aims expressed. The real test will be when the administration is reckoned up and when it is found whether the Socialists have made good in their promises to give the city the best government it has ever had. The test will be watched and it is well to remember that the Socialists are ordinary mortals, much like other folks, and just about as liable to make mistakes and to find that there is a vast difference sometimes between theory and practice.

TELL ALL BUT YOUR TROUBLES. When the census man calls and according to custom the taking of the census will begin in two weeks—be prepared to tell him everything but your troubles. The enumerators will go from house to house, counting noses and asking questions. Many of the questions will be of a nature that more than likely some people will regard them as decidedly impertinent, yet the government has a right to know what it seeks to find out, and it is incumbent upon every one to answer the inquiries propounded. Don't be grouchy about it, but shell out.

FEET SO SORE COULDN'T WALK DOWN STAIRS

TIZ Cured Her Quick.

If you have sore feet, tired feet, smelly feet, corns, callouses or bunions, read what happened to Mrs. Crockett, of Jeffersonville, TIZ DID IT. Mr. Crockett says: "After the second treatment she walked down stairs one foot at a time. She has not been able to walk downstairs before in past five years, except by stepping down on each step with one foot at a time. This is remarkable. Send five more boxes."

No matter what ails your feet or what under heaven you have used without getting relief, just use TIZ. It's different. It acts right off. It cures sore feet to stay cured. It's the only foot remedy ever made which acts on the principle of drawing out all the poisonous excretions which cause sore feet. Powders and other remedies merely clog up the pores. TIZ cleans them out and keeps them clean. You will feel better the first time it's used. Use it a week and you can forget you ever had sore feet. There is nothing on earth that can compare with it. TIZ is for sale at all druggists, 25c per box, or direct, if you wish, from Walter Luther Dodge and company, Chicago, Ill.

THE front crop is safe yet, but a bit nervous over the outlook. The best pill against the high cost of living is a good garden plot. The high priced necessities are about as toothily firm as golf balls have advanced in price. Now and then a man lets up who is capable of telling two different tales about the same thing. The old idea of "when in Rome do as the Romans do" has been smashed by at least one American citizen. Because a fellow gets gray headed is no reason why he shouldn't at least have a desire to play to the galleries. A headline says "T. R. Enters a Quiet Day." Just a figure of speech he never really enjoys anything quiet. The people are just the same kin to Uncle Joe as they used to be, but they are not so loud in claiming it lately. It depends upon what sort of glasses you are peering through as to whether things look very pretty, exaggerated or not. The only really alarming phase of the political situation for the Republicans is the fact that Democrats are Democrats. If it were possible to dream oneself into power, the Democrats would long ago have secured control of the world. The players seem to need a spring training trip, but the fans are always ready for the game, and do not need training. Not having been appointed minister to China, or anywhere else, Mr. Roosevelt feels at liberty to talk just as much as he pleases. There's no telling how far the train would go if the wheels of the administration could get all the necessary issued they want. It takes high taxes and high salaries to do anything for the Democratic party—it can never get a crop more average seasons and normal conditions. Clifford Plumb is in Copenhagen and, by the way, there is something quite familiar about that name, Copenhagen, and let's see, oh, yes, pardon please! Of course those lawyers in attendance upon the Supreme court and who give out some sort of interviews in the Slem well case were altogether disinterested. Of course they were! Instead of coveting around and feeling curious because you looked at a picture with knee breeches on, it would be better to keep the knee trousersed lads from going where they go at night. But suppose it should some day be discovered that a paid lawyer might, under certain circumstances, once in a long while, be induced to slightly—yes, very slightly—exaggerate the facts relating to his clients to a newspaper man, as well as before a jury!

It is related that in Hoboken a chap was sentenced to twelve years in prison for stealing sixty cents. If that is so, the governor should pardon him, give him a new suit of clothes and send him on his way rejoicing.

Nearly every paper we pick up begins the editorial page this way: "Governor Kitchin made a serious mistake," etc., and we throw the paper down because we think it time something else was started.

Maude Adams is not to be intimidated by the old warning against crowing.

Tricks in the Art Trade. There is a painter who lends himself to "splitting" so much as Botticelli—i. e., a division of the panel into two parts so as to form separate pictures, says Emmanuele Pomone, in Strand Magazine. Years ago I sold to a Mr. Buttery of London, half a Botticelli, which is now owned by Herr Kastmann of Berlin. I have myself seen the other half of the picture, as well as its entire state. In one case I can recall the half proved greater than the whole. A certain Signor Battil bequeathed a valuable Botticelli to his two grandsons, who were twins. But although these two young men were rather quarrelsome and had no taste in common. One proposed to sell the picture, which had been painted for one of their ancestors, it is said, by Botticelli himself. The other would not consent. The first then proposed that the other should buy his share and keep the picture himself. He took me with him, and I assigned the value of the picture at five thousand lire, saying I would give that for it. The brother declined, and suggested placing the picture in the custody of an aunt pending an arbitration of terms. "Oh, very well," cried his brother, flying into a passion, "I will buy and soon I will let me sell, there's only one thing to do," and before anyone could interfere he emptied three chambers of a revolver into the panel, completely destroying one-half of the composition, including a St. John and a Joseph. The picture being sent to me to restore, I could do nothing with it, and strongly advised separating the panel. Shortly after I did so the elder died, and I disposed of the work for 6000 lire to Mr. Adolph Kann. It is now, I believe, in Russia.
