may master one instrument—piano, viola, flute or cornet—and much of the music composed for that instrument. But is the universal musician. Because it masters not only one instrument but all instruments. And it masters these instruments, not simply individually but collectively—it masters the entire band, the whole orchestra, the singing voice of the Grand Opera stars and the speaking voice of the monologist.

The Edison Phonograph brings to your home all of the best music of every character. It plays both Standard and Amberol Records—and Amberol Records play twice as long as Edison Standard Records, which means that on Amberol Records you get the many beautiful selections that are too long to be played on ordinary records.

Can you afford to buy an instrument that offers you less than the Edison?

There are Edison dealers everywhere. Go to the nearest and hear the Edison Phonograph play both Edison Standard and Edison Amberol Records. Get complete catalogues from your dealer or from us.

WEDDING BELLS RANG

Brilliant Reception Followed Green-O'Brien Marriage Ceremony.

(Special to Daily News.)

Durham, April 14.—Durham society dropped back to a normal state tonight when the aftermath of the marriage ceremony uniting Miss Ruth Green and William Joseph O'Brien had expressed itself in a brilliant reception followed by the nuptial.

To the ceremony itself but few friends besides the relatives were invited. Following the custom of the Roman Catholic church, the event was quiet. The Rev. Father O'Brien pronounced the words that consummated the life deal at 8 o'clock and at 9 the guests began to arrive.

All the important details that could be crowded into a home ceremony were faithfully observed. The home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Lella Green Davis, was decorated in gorgeous spring blossoms and a color scheme of pink ran through all of the important features.

At 9 o'clock the Durham orchestra, led by Miss Marion B. Kinas, of the violin department of the Southern Conservatory of Music, sounded the march from Lohengrin. The bridesmaids, Misses Rosa and Eleanor Green, Audrey Graham and Susie Cox, in pink, and carrying pink roses, marched down the stairs into the parlor. The bridegroom, Messrs. Will Minor, Neville Brown, Will Holman and Tom Fuller, Southgate, took their places and Mrs. Daniel Shea, of New York City, dame of honor, followed.

She was exquisitely attired in a chandelier chiffon, draped in white lace, with rhinestone trimmings. Little Miss Lella Davis, Mary Frances Shea, of New York, and Mary Washington Stagg, of Durham, all in white, preceded the bride as flower girls, and the ribbon girls were Misses Mary O'Brien, Eleanor Townsend, of Bennettsville, S. C.; Mary Ruffin Green and Florence Green. Joseph O'Brien was best man.

The bride entered with Judge C. P. Townsend, of Bennettsville. She wore a gown of crepe de chine with rose point applique lace and sea pearl ornaments. A coronet of orange blossoms with tulle effect gave beautiful ornamentation, and a tulle veil hid a pretty face. A diamond pendant, the bridegroom's gift, showed handsomely and the bridal bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley was held by the bride. The improvised altar was surrounded by white lilies and a background of palms gave floral completeness to the parlor. The couple knelt upon the white satin pillow before the bridal altar, upon which burned the pink and green candles. While the ceremony was being said, the orchestra played softly "Believe me, If You'll Endearing Young Chorus" from Moore. The recessional was Mendelssohn's march.

The wedding and the reception blended almost into one. Mrs. T. E. Cheek, Mrs. J. S. Manning and Mrs. W. M. Yearby, in the front hall, met the guests and directed them to the next station in the reception, which was designedly a floating function. Several hundred guests had been invited and they came. Mrs. Davis and Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien received the visitors, and Mrs. A. E. Lloyd and Professor Ernest J. Green directed the guests from the parlor to the dining room, where Mrs. C. H. Norton, of Danville, and Mrs. J. E. Stagg, of Durham, received. Mrs. Joe Graham presided over the library, and at the punch bowl Misses Louise Troy, Christine McIntosh, Fannie Markham, Mattie Johnson and Kathleen Turrentine, clubmates of the bride, jointly presided. Misses Markham, Lehman and Turrentine held the guest book in which all present wrote their names before leaving.

Serving in the dining room were Misses Florence and Mary Ruffin Green, Mary O'Brien, Mary Loomis Smith and Placide Kramer. The reception continued until midnight. They leave on the early morning train for a short bridal trip.

For the past ten days Durham has paid exceptional tribute to the bride. A series of showers, club parties and individual honors preceded the wedding, which has been set from its announcement for one of the society events of the whole year. Miss Green is one of the daintiest, prettiest, brightest and endearing type of young womanhood. In all of the functions given to her and in the beautiful wedding gifts marked affection for her was shown.

She weds a mighty fine young fellow, the son of the late W. T. O'Brien, and as popular a young man as Durham has. He is worthy of his bride, the best speech to be made for him.

CARD FROM CAPT. McNEILL

To Editors of Daily News:

Your special correspondent in your issue of the 12th implies a "breach of agreement" on my part, in regard to a statement published in the News and Observer the day we met in Raleigh. This does me an injustice. First, in that there was nothing in my published interview that had not been openly discussed in the newspapers previously and also openly in the Miller's meeting at Greensboro and also in the commissioner's office in Raleigh, and next, because there was no "agreement" of any kind made or entered into by myself, individually or as a member of the committee as to discuss an anti-subject. On the contrary, when a proposition was made to us to discuss a matter, THAT WAS NOT TO BE MADE PUBLIC, we declined to hear it.

The commissioner has appointed next Friday the date for another hearing, when our committee will again present our contentions.

Kindly give me space to correct your correspondent on the commissioner as the only "breach of agreement" on my part.

Respectfully,
JAMES B. McNEILL,
Fayetteville, N. C., April 13.

AGREES WITH MR. LRELAND

To Editors of Daily News:

Permit me to say that I turn "the most vital point" by G. H. Ireland, in today's paper is a "point" well taken. I have carefully watched every day for articles from the ministers, church members and law-abiding citizens, giving moral support to the executive officers of your city in the enforcement of law. Let others do as Mr. Ireland has done and thus show their public sentiment is pure and healthy.

HAPPENINGS ON DAVIDSON CAMPUS

(Special to Daily News.)

Davidson, April 14.—The baseball team returned today, after a very unfortunate trip—not being able to play two of the big games on account of rain. The team showed up well, considering the fact that shortstop was being played by a good, but inexperienced, player, "Jimmy" Graham being out of the game with a sprained ankle, and "Big" Clark's arm was off in the first game with the A. & M. college. But, with the big fellow's arm right again and the whole team is on the job and Coach Guarrant says they are going to keep some teams on the jump for a "look in."

The class games are becoming more and more exciting every day. The Freshmen are in the lead and the way they are playing ball it looks as if they will get the "rag."

President Henry Louis Smith left Monday on a lecture tour through South Carolina, Georgia, Louisiana, and Texas. He expects to return about May 3.

Coach Rogers Reid, of Virginia, has been here on a short visit to his parents. He seemed "tickled to death" with the showing his team made, and says there will be more victories coming.

Virginia plays Davidson on May 1.

Earnest Lewis, of Winston-Salem, son of the late John W. Lewis, is spending several days in the city with relatives.
