Washington, April 20.—With mock serioneness, Representative Runker, of Missouri, a Democrat, ansee to make a parliamentary inquiry soon after the Heuse convened today.

"Has the House yet heard that the Thirty-second district of New York had an election yesterday?" asked Mr. Rusker.

When the Democratic demonstration, precipitated by the suggestion that a Democrat had been elected to fill the washer caused by the death of a Republican member had ceased, Speaker Cainon with equal gravity, ruplied:

"Answering the parliamentary inquiry, the chair observes that one side of the House and the gentleman from Missentia seem to be authorisation. In a statement given out tonight by

Then raising his voice the Speaker added prophetically:
"He laughs best who laughs last."
It was then the turn of the Republicans to laugh and applaud, and the Democrats good naturedly joined in the laughter.

It was at the last statement, but is resting perfectly quietly."

Klein, the Confessed Bribe Taker, Principal Witness Examined.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 20.—The jury is out tonight considering the cases of the second councilman placed on trial for bribery. When court adjourned no verdict was returned and if one is reached during the night it will be sealed and submitted to the court in the morning. The case is that of Councilman A. V. Simos, who pleaded not guilty when brought into court today, despite pleas of illness.

ENDORSED PRESIDENT TAFT ADDRESSED YALE UNIVERSITY

Says Chief Magistrate is Carrying What Newspaper Makers and Roaders Out Roosevelt Policies as He Believes They Should Be.

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, April 20.—William Randolph Hearst, former aspirant for the Democratic nomination for the presidency, issued tonight a remarkable statement over his own signature in which he unqualifiedly indorses Mr. Tatt. In doing so he also critices in severest terms the administration of President Roosevelt, and in so many words warms the American nation against a renewal of the political domination of the former president.

Mr. Hearst called at the White House this afternoon. He spent a half hour but never accomplished.

"Most certainly if the people want the tariff modified, they must furn to another party, for the tariff will never be modified by its beneficiaries. And its beneficiaries control the Republican par against a renewal of the political domination of the former president.

Mr. Hearst called at the White House this afternoon. He spent a half hour with the President. Upon leaving he said he had called merely to pay his respects to Mr. Taft, whom he said he admired. Later he issued his endorsement of the Taft administration.

"No one can talk with the President without appreciating and respecting his carnestness and sincertly," the statement proceeds. "Personally, I believe also in his efficiency. He has been one year in office and he has certainly accomplished more in that one year than Roosevelt did in his first year.

"The Public and the Press."

"The press in these ahundant times," and Major Hemphill, "appaking guide and Major Hemphill, "appaking guide his in it. It is the most potent force in the door of patronage. Little or no independence is actually possered by the journalists who preach independence. It must be said, however, to the credit or discreting the press than through the press than through the press than through the press."

also in his efficiency. He has been one year than Rossevelt did in his first year.

"It is hardly fair to compare Taft's one year with Rossevelt's seven, and yet I am not sure that even with that the comparison might not be to Taft's advantage. Taft's methods are not those of Rossevelt, but then Taft will probably not conclude his term with a panic. "On the whole it seems to me that a quiet, earnest gentleman who came into office when the country was in the slough of adversity, and, after one year in office has placed the country on the high road of prosperity, is quite as valuable a President as a more showy and spectacular person who found the country in the beight of prosperity and test it in the depths of subscript,"

Mr. Hearst admits that he does not charge Mr. Rosevelt directly with responsibility for the panic of 1907, nor does he undertake to give Mr. Taft the entire credit for the restoration of prosperity. He declares, however, that the administration which is producing more dividends for business men and finding work for the unemployed should not be too sharply criticised for certain minor faults of omission or commission.

"Taft is carrying out Rossevelt's policies in the one way that they ought to be carried out. That is to say, he is doing the things that Rossevelt should doing the things that Rossevelt shou faults of omission or commission.

"Taft is carrying out Roosevelt's policies in the one way that they ought to be carried out. That is to say, he is doing the things that Roosevelt should have done, but did not do.

"Taft is making the Roosevelt railroad act complete and effective. The Roosevelt railroad rate act has always been an utter farce and everybody who knows anything about the subject knew when it was passed that it was a farce and would be a failure. It might have been meant to be a failure. It might have been meant to be a failure. It might have been meant to be a failure. That is trying to stiffen into an active force the "spineless railroad bill" of the Roosevelt administration. He gives Mr. Taft credit for the presecution of crimal campaign to have been tarily presented by the opposition press. That Roosevelt administration. He gives Mr. Fuft credit for the prosecution of criminal trugis and for throwing his powerful influence behind many needed laws, among them the corporation tax bill, the overcapitalization bill, a bill providing for postal savings banks, the parcelapet measure and the income tax bill.

"All the mesures are good," he continues. "Some of these the Roosevelt administration wilfully omitted, others it fairly neglected, in some it discussed, but never accomplished.

"What both newsp but never accomplished.

"If the people want more of achievement than Taft is giving, then they must turn to another party, for I do not believe that there is another in the Republican party who will do more or the state of the party spirit or sectional fervor, but broad tolerance of onlines and the state of the party spirit or sectional fervor, but broad tolerance of onlines and but broad tolerance of opinion
