The report of the foreign mission board was a seurce of joy to the convention. The Rev. R. J. Willingham, D. D., corresponding secretary of the board, read the report, giving the story of the year of great growth in this department of the work. Among these are two from North Carolina—Miss Lettie Spainhour and Mrs. Mary Bryson Tipton. The work of the missionaries was markedly successful during the year, and 3,223 baptisms were reported from the foreign field as against 2,005 the previous year, making as increase of 318. The only secrew bringer in the report of the board field as against E, soo to all the only making an increase of 318. The only marking an increase of 318. The only source bringer in the report of the board was the matter of finance. Last year the board raised for their work $460, 797.63; and the year closed with a debt of $31,706.25. This year, the board, following the instructions of the last conflowing the instr rention increased their appropriations. The year dosed with a deficit of $37,-806.25, which includes the debt brought ever from the previous year. The hotel contributions amounted to $501,058.84, th Carolina delegates were The old North state gave $40,853.23 for foreign mission work. This was an increase of $4,256.43.

The Rev. Livingston, the secretary ssions in North Carolina, and Rev. W. C. Tyree, D. D., vice-president of the oreign mission board in the old North state, have worked hard to bring North Arolina to greater missionary activity.
All of the states in the bounds of the convention show an increase in offerngs to this cause, except Alabama, Mis-Tennesses and District of Column a. large number of the Baptist churches in Illinois propose to come in to the convention. Dr. W. P. Throgmorten, of Illinois, comes to the convention with the proposition. The dissension in Illinois started about three years ago, when Professor Foster, a leading minister in Chicago, and at that time a teacher in the University of Chicago, wrote and published a book in which he denied several doctrines of the Baptist denomination. The Baptist Ministrial Association of Chicago dismissed Dr. Foster from their organization, but the church of which he was a member declined to take any action. The entire matter was then taken to the Illinois State convention, but this body refused to withdraw tion, but this body refused to withdraw fellowship from the churches that ac-cepted what became as "Fosterism." The result was the organization of the Illinois Baptist State association. The Illistate convention, older organization, affiliates with the Northern Baptist convention, and the new organization pro-poses to come with the Southern Baptist convention, which has never heretofore done any work north of the Ohio river The three Illinois state representatives.
