INJURY NOT SERIOUS

But It Was a Close Call for Third Baseman Jackson.

When Jackson took one of Brazile's benders in the back of the head yesterday afternoon, hit one hand and fell prone upon the ground there was considerable uneasiness in the grand stand. To all appearances he was dead to this bright old world; then he was seen to gasp and move his hand slightly. This gave encouragement, but a second later it was easy to see he had lapsed into unconsciousness. The accident happened in the eighth inning of the second game. Jackson was at bat and apparently his attention was towards the bench, when Brazile uncorked a shot. Looking up, he saw his danger, attempted to dodge, but too late and the crash had the sound of a brick colliding with an egg. After a quick examination by doctors, a few cupfuls of cold water and various other attentions, the fast third sacker showed signs of life. He was removed to the bench and later to his room. Before being carried from the grounds he regained consciousness, his first words being, "Where's the money Tim Malone collected?"

At his room a thorough examination was made and it was found that his injury was not serious. Last night Jack was sitting up with a big black "stage," and avowed his intention of playing today. Aside from a sharp pain in the head and about the neck, he said he was all right. The doctor says he will be out of the game the balance of the week.

That his injury was not serious will be welcome news to the hundreds of friends and admirers of the clever infielder in this city and throughout the circuit of the Carolina league. There are no superiors, if any equals, to him on the third corner.

FANATORIALS

Boost the boys. They can play ball. Lave, we have forgotten the past. We like you.

Several roosters will witness the game in Winston today.

On to Winston. Let's fatten our average from Father Mc.

We are for you, Ma., but agin you when Greensboro is playing with you.

That was an awful hit that Jackson received yesterday from Pitcher Brazile.

The first game yesterday was the prettiest ever witnessed on the home grounds.

Jackson, the best third sacker in the league, was the star for the Champs yesterday.

The exhibition yesterday in the first game shows that Greensboro can play ball if she will get the habit.

Last night at 9 o'clock Jackson was feeling fine and was looking good. He will be O. K. in two or three days.

Lave Cross is a gentlemanly half player and Greensboro will welcome him to the State City any day he wishes to come.

Jackson says that he is going to play in the Winston game today, but the doctor says he will be out of the game for a day or two.

Umpire McLokey was very satisfied yesterday with one or two exceptions. He is a little off on balls and strikes, but the best can't get all of them right.

Buy your Gasoline from McAdoo Garage Co., 121-26 gallon.

At Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, 7, Brown, 6 (11 innings).

At New York: Fetham, 1; Holy Cross, 6.

DAMAGED BY STORM Southern Railway Company.

Raleigh and A. &amp; M. Suffered Some what by Heavy Wind.

(Special to Daily News.)

Raleigh, May 25.—Close investigation today indicates that the damage to buildings at the A. & M. college by the heavy wind last evening will aggregate about $800 to $1,000, principally in having sections of the roofing of the agricultural and the textile buildings blown off and in taking the roof from the grandstand of the athletic grounds. The rain was soon over, so that the damage by water was not serious in any of the buildings. The buildings of the state fair grounds across the road from the college were not seriously damaged. The roof of the big new grandstand erected in the race track for the league baseball games about to begin was taken off, but the seats were not seriously damaged. A pole more than 100 feet high, from which the high dives are made for the free state fair attractions, was snapped off close to the ground by the force of the wind. Farm dwellings and outhouses are reported to have suffered considerable damage for several miles out toward the Neuse river. Out at the farm of H. E. Lichfield the roof was taken off his big barn. The out-houses on the farm of George W. Norwood, chief clerk to the secretary of state, were damaged considerably. No one has been hurt so far as can be ascertained at this time. A fine horse belonging to J. R. Chamberlain, in West Raleigh, was badly injured by the falling of the stables in the midst of the storm, but the animal will recover.

COUNTRY SCHOOLS, BUT THE BUILDINGS ARE HANDSOME

(Special to Daily News.)

Durham, May 25.—The closing exercises of East and West Durham schools took place today with addresses by Prof. Collier Cobb of the University, speaking to the West Durhams, and Prof. M. H. Stacy of the University, addressing tonight the graduates of the East Durham schools.

These institutions are country schools. Nevertheless, East Durham is quartered in a $25,000 handsome brick structure built by the county, and West Durham is to go $5,000 better at the county's expense.

ENTERTAINED IN HONOR OF HER FRIEND FROM TEXAS

(Special to Daily News.)

Durham, May 25.—Monday night Miss Blanche Berry entertained at her home on Morehead Hill in honor of her friend, Miss Sarah Hoffman, of Dallas, Tex. The guests spent a charming evening, music, games and other forms of amusement entertaining the crowd. Delicious refreshments were served, after which the invited guests departed for their homes. The young people present were Misses Sarah Hoffman, Annie Main, Anna Koontz, Ethel Gattis and Blanche Berry; Messrs. C. M. Henderson, Tom Elliott, Teague, T. L. Cheek and B. W. Elliott.
