

Stop Cough

These hard night coughs of the children! What shall you give them? Just what your mother gave you, and just what her mother gave her! In some families, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has been the only cough remedy for seventy years. Once in the family, it stays. Keep it on hand.

Pleasant Fields of Holy Writ

The International Sunday School Lesson. Second Quarter, Lesson X, Matthew 27: 31-34, June 6, 1910.

Jesus Walks on the Sea.
"Jesus, Deliverer!
Come thou to me;
Soothe thou my voyaging
Over life's sea.
Thou, when the storm of death
Hours sweeping by,
Whisper, O Father of truth!
Peace, it is I!"
—Anatolius.

Jesus sent his disciples into the storm. They were evidently disinclined to embark, but he rebuked them for their lack of faith. Every hour spent out of his company was an hour lost. Then, lo! it gained them to leave him in the solitude. But Jesus was peremptory. There was nothing for them to do but to go aboard ship.

Mark says that from the mountain top he saw his disciples toiling in rowing. Their little boat was tossed about and distressed by the wind which blew through the gullies in the hills and through so many funnels. The crew have fallen neglected, forsaken in extremity. Perhaps they were ready to report the words used on a former occasion, "Carest thou not that we perish?"

Still Jesus delayed the rescue which he must have intended from the beginning. As in the case of Martha, Mary and Lazarus, he did this because he loved his disciples. Their human skill, personal fortitude and religious faith must be developed and tested. He only after the whole night was past in the fourth—the morning—watch, Jesus came to the relief. Even then he would have passed by if they had not cried appealingly to him.

There is a strange blending of presumption and doubt in Peter's character. He said, "If it be thou, bid me!" All went well with the impetuous disciple as long as he kept his eyes on the savior. But when for an instant his attention was diverted and he saw the effects of the boisterous wind, that moment he began to sink. He did a foolish and unwarranted thing in starting on this adventure at all. But he did a wise and prudent thing when he appealed to the only arm strong enough to rescue him.

"Have I perished?" Deliverance is instantaneous, and the rebuke is a gentle disclosure of the cause of his fall.

The moment Jesus sets foot in the little craft the tempest ceases. The storm-tossed ship is transformed into a cathedral in which as sincere and devout worship is paid as has ever since been rendered at any high or jeweled altar. It has been aptly said that sinking times are praying times, and this dramatic scene with its alarming extremity but happy conclusion has been a source of instruction, inspiration and courage to multitudes of disciples every age and in every kind of peril—whether self-involved or not.

The Teacher's Lantern.
"Peter! Toughest and thou sinkest! O believe!"
The sea Peter will not thy faith deceive.
Things by their weight subside into the wave;
Thy lightness, Peter, threats a wat'ry grave!"
—Richard Cranshaw.

This picturesque scene is designed to be, it is an acted parable. To his disciples each disciple must have members and treasured it. Yet only so, but the church collectively and individually believers to the end of time. In their personal and social life, find cheer and help in it for the most appalling catastrophes.

Charles Sumner, in an impassioned period, once exclaimed: "In the universe of God there are no accidents." From the fall of a sparrow to the wings of a planet he orders and governs all.

The storms of life are no accidents. They are sent, and we are sent into them for a wise and beneficent purpose.

The Lord's clock goes at such a different pace from our own. The "fourth watch" seemed mortal ages to the storm-beaten disciples.

Converts must not be coddled. Jesus might have said to Peter, extenuatingly, "Yes, the waves were high and the wind was violent." Instead of that the Master pictured the triumph of which he felt sure. And he plainly told the cause of it.

The Master's caution did not save Peter from serious submergence, but perhaps it saved him from a total apoplexy. Who knows?

"A hand that is not ours upstays our feet." A voice that is not ours commands the waves. Commands the waves and whispers in our ear.

"O thou of little faith, why didst thou doubt?"
—Arthur Hugh Clough.

As the visitor stands in the porch of St. Peter's Cathedral in Rome, with his back to all its glories, the last thing he sees before going out is Giotto's wonderful mosaic of this scene. It is curiously placed on the entablature above the central portal. No one sees it on entering. No one can help but see it on going out. The purpose would seem to be to remind one of the frailty of the man for whom the most gorgeous temple on earth is named, and thus keep the balance.

In the Haccavian Catechism the question is asked: "Whence did Jesus receive his wisdom?" And the answer is, "He ascended often into heaven, and there received new supplies for new emergencies" (the quotation is from memory and not verified). It is a crude and mechanical conception, but in a sense very true. Every time Jesus went into the garden or mountain top it is as if he ascended to heaven. The world was shut out and he was shut in with God in a communion in which he was refreshed and strengthened with new visions of truth as it related to present emergencies. Every disciple can imitate his Master in this. He can make an ascension to heaven and talk with God.

In Michel Angelo's palace in Florence you are shown a secret panel in the wall. It is a picture of a man, lighted with one small window. Here the great artist made his ascension to heaven which have enriched the world forever. We should never have a Giotto of David, or a fresco of the Last Judgment or the Pantheon swing in the air above St. Peter's if it has not been for the secret communion of that hidden retreat.

The need of current life is an imitation of Jesus in these retreats for meditation and moral refreshment. Time apparently lost would be really gained in the better view of one's self and one's environment which would thus be obtained.

Choose sometime to be alone. Salute thyself, see what thy soul doth wear. Open thy chest and tumble up and down. What thou findest there, for 'tis thine own.

Young People's Devotional Service. June 5, 1910, Matthew 27: 31-34. Christ Our Judge.

Among all the processes in the world the evolution of character is the most

PERSONALS

Major W. W. Wood spent yesterday afternoon in High Point on business.

Judge W. C. A. Allen, of Morganton, spent yesterday afternoon in the city with friends, en route to Chapel Hill, where he will attend the university commencement.

S. Clay Williams spent Sunday in Mooresville with relatives.

Miss Grace Jones returned to her home in Danville yesterday after a visit to Mrs. Nannie McAfee King.

Mrs. Wade Stokard, of Salisbury, who has been here on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Forbis, left yesterday for Reidsville, where she will spend several days visiting friends and relatives before returning home.

F. E. Harlee returned yesterday from Baltimore and New York, where he went in the interest of the Meyers' department store. He was joined at Washington, D. C., by Mrs. Harlee, who had been visiting her sister in the capital city.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Penn and Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Penn, of Danville, Va., spent Sunday in the city with friends and relatives.

Mrs. H. V. Horton and daughter, Miss Barber, and Thomas Hume, of Winston-Salem, spent yesterday in the city with friends.

Wilkie Shells has resigned his position with the Shaw-Clapp Lumber company, and left last night for Asheville, N. C., where he will engage in similar business.

A. B. Wright, of Winston-Salem, was a business visitor in the city yesterday.

J. W. Winstead, of Rockingham, is spending a few days in the city with friends and relatives.

Miss Bertie Spruill is attending the university commencement at Chapel Hill.

Mrs. J. B. Lee, of Lynchburg, who has been here on a visit to Mrs. C. W. Sparger, on Edgewood street, has gone to Danville, Va., on a visit to friends and relatives before returning home.

Henry S. Fry, jr., of Winston-Salem, was a business visitor in the city yesterday.

Miss Elsie Dillon will leave this morning for Chapel Hill to attend the university commencement.

Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Scales have returned from a visit to friends and relatives at Brown Summit.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Blados have returned from a pleasure trip to northern cities.

Miss Willie Belle Irvin has gone to Gastonia on a visit to Mrs. B. M. Graves.

Mrs. Hunter Sochrest, of High Point, is here on a visit to Mrs. M. Clapp.

Miss Stewart Hayden is in Winston-Salem on a visit to her aunt, Mrs. Fred Fogle.

Mrs. Bradley, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. W. B. Vaughn, has gone to Nashville, Tenn., on a visit to friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Montgomery, of Roanoke, Va., have returned to their home after a visit to Mrs. R. M. Clapp, on Eugene street.

Mrs. J. M. Walker and son, John, have returned from a visit to Mrs. Baxter Sellers, near Mebane.

Rev. and Mrs. E. E. Gillespie, of Yorkville, S. C., are here on a visit to Mrs. N. C. Weatherly and other relatives.

A. W. Werth, of Ashboro, was a business visitor in the city yesterday.

Mrs. C. F. Pinnix and little daughter, of High Point, who have been visiting friends and relatives in the city, have gone to Reidsville, where they will spend several days visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Riemfeld, of Durham, spent Sunday in the city with friends and relatives.

J. K. Powell, of Washington, D. C., is spending a few days in the city with friends and relatives.

Mrs. Clara Shaw, of Wilkesboro, is visiting friends and relatives in the city.

Behind Every Box of Candies bearing the name "Nunnally's" stands a business famous in the South for 25 years—a guarantee of the purest, most wholesome candies.

Nunnally's
bonbons and chocolates come to us by fast express almost every day, which explains to you the delicious freshness that accentuates their goodness.

Greensboro Drug Co., AGENTS

to spend the summer in Europe. She will be accompanied by a party of friends from Lynchburg, Va.

Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Paddison, of Oak Ridge, spent yesterday in the city with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Cagle and daughter, Mrs. Moffitt, of Randolph county, are visiting friends and relatives in the city.

Mrs. J. Henry Smith has returned from a visit to friends and relatives at Charlottesville, Va. She was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Helen Hawkins, who will spend several weeks here with friends and relatives.

Miss Fannie Terrill, who has been here on a visit to Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Hogan, has gone to Siler City to visit relatives before returning to her home in Louisburg.

FOR MORE THAN THREE DECADES household favorite for all ailments of the throat, chest and lungs. For infants and children it is best and safest as it contains no opiates and no harmful drugs. None genuine but Foley's Honey and Tar in the yellow package. Refuse substitutes. Howard Gardner.

THOMASVILLE NEWS

(Special to Daily News.)
Thomasville, May 30.—The first issue of "The Davidsonian," the new newspaper for Thomasville, will make its appearance Friday.

Sunday was Barnea day in Main Street Methodist church. A union meeting of these classes from the Baptist orphanage and Methodist churches was held. The Rev. O. L. Powers, of High Point, delivered a very interesting address Sunday morning and in the afternoon Hon. J. R. McCrary, of Lexington, and Archibald Johnson, of this place, addressed a large audience in the church on the subject of Barnea work.

The friends of Mrs. C. R. Thomas will be pleased to hear that she is expected home Friday from the Stokes-Whitehead hospital, Salisbury, where she has been for the past month, where she was operated on. She returns much improved.

F. H. Floor, the chewing gum king, with his family, left Monday in his big touring car for Philadelphia, which he expects to reach by Thursday. He is taking this trip in order that he may obtain a good view of the country.

The report of Town Treasurer J. C. Green has just been posted and the finances of the town were never in better condition. All the debts for the year are paid and still there is a cash balance in the bank.

The Thomasville Feed and Grain company has moved from the Thomas block to the livery stable formerly occupied by T. D. Lambeth. This company intends to greatly increase their stock and also add a feed mill, so that they can furnish all kinds of feed and grain.

The schedule of two of the Southern's passenger trains have been changed. No. 21 comes now at 1:10 p. m. instead of 1:15, as heretofore, and No. 23 comes at 6:52 instead of 6:57, as heretofore, both very slight changes.

J. L. Arnold is spending a few days attending the university commencement. He is a member of the board of trustees of that institution.

The Thomasville Brick company is now putting in full time and turning out 20,000 brick per day.

The Amazon office Mill will be ready to begin operation in the fall. Preparation is now being made to install the machinery and also a large number of tenement houses are in course of erection.

Wednesday morning T. E. Jennings and Miss Lilla Dorsett will be married at 7 o'clock and will leave immediately for Asheville to spend ten days. They are very popular in the city and have many friends.

A PRODUCT OF NATURE

Warmed into life by the sun shining on Southern Cotton Fields, nurtured by rain and dew, the Cotton plant concentrates in its seed that life-giving and life-sustaining quality which is the basis of Cottolene. From cotton field to kitchen, human hands never touch the oil from which Cottolene is made. It is a product of nature. Lard comes from the fat of the hog—often impure, always indigestible.

Cottolene, on the contrary, is made from vegetable oil, and jelly made from the juice of choicest fruit is not more pure or easily digested than this product of the oil expressed from the kernel of the Cotton seed!

BELK BROS. COMPANY

The Store That Sells It for Less

36-inch Bleach Domestic	5c
2,500 yards 36-inch Bleach Domestic. Special	5c
Ladies' 10c Gauze Vest	5c
Just received—60 dozen ladies' full tape vest. Regular 10c value. Our price	5c
Towels at Special Prices—1 lot 18x36 Bleach Huck Towels, with red border, 10c value	5c
1 lot extra large Hemstitched Bleached Towels. Special, 10c each

Extra Values in Counterpanes

Good full size Counterpanes	98c
Very fine Counterpanes, in neat patterns. Regular $2.50 values	$1.75
New Curtain goods, in plain and fancy. Regular 20c value, for	15c
Amoskeag—blue and white check Dress Gingham, fast colors	10c yard

Don't Fail to Visit Our Coat Suit and Millinery Department

BELK BROS. COMPANY

—B. F. MATTHEWS, Manager—

Have Your Jacket Cleaned

When the jacket of your suit becomes matted and soiled—let us dry clean and press it for you.

This service will freshen and brighten it up, and make it appear as if just from the hands of the maker, instead of the dry cleaner!

The cost will not be large and the work will be promptly done.

Please call brings our wagon to your door.

Columbia Laundry Co.

Phones 176-633

Norfolk Southern Railway

Offers most convenient and best service TO

MOREHEAD CITY, N. C.
BEAUFORT, N. C.

ATLANTIC HOTEL OPENS JUNE 1.
Delightful Seashore Resorts

EXTREMELY LOW SUNDAY AND WEEK END EXCURSION RATES ON SALE JUNE TO SEPTEMBER.

VIRGINIA BEACH CAPE HENRY, VA.
The Only Seashore Resorts in Virginia.

Every Conceivable Form of Amusement. Excellent Hotel and Cottages. Reasonable Rates.

For complete information apply to any Norfolk and Southern Railroad Ticket Agent, or address H. C. Hudgins, General Passenger Agent, W. W. Croxton, Assistant General Passenger Agent, Norfolk, Va.

OAK HALL—An Ideal Mountain Hotel
Altitude 4,000 feet. coolest and best water, grand, sublime scenery in the heart of the mountains, hot and cold water baths, southern hospitality.

E. BROWNLEE, Prop. TRYON, N. C.

SAFE SHINGLES

CHEAPEST INSURANCE

The house on the left is not in danger from flying sparks and fire-brands because it is roofed with New Century Metal Shingles.

Over 75% of the free originals on the outside. Metal is the only thoroughly fireproof material practicable for all purposes of construction. If your roof is covered with New Century Metal Shingles you have eliminated 75% of the danger of fire and also have a handsome, waterproof, durable roof. Your insurance premium will be smaller, too.

When comparing the cost of wood and New Century Metal Shingles, always consider the difference in cost of laying, difference in insurance and difference in wearing qualities.

FREE Write today for full details, prices and our illustrated Shingle Book No. 25. It will help you solve the Roof Problem.

Ask Your Dealer For Cahill Grates

You will never enjoy the full measure of grate satisfaction until you install our Cahill Grates in your home. These handsome grates are deservedly popular because of their exceptional heating qualities and because they are so economical to operate. If your dealer doesn't carry them in stock, send us his name and we will arrange to have him show you the Cahill line.

We manufacture all kinds of Metal Roofing, Architectural Wrought and Cast Iron Work, such as Stairways, Fire-escapes, Store Fronts, Columns, etc., also Galvanized Iron Work such as Cornices, Awnings, Skylights and Ventilators.

We also manufacture Southern Ornamental Metal Ceilings in the beautiful Louis XIV and Colonial designs. Write for prices.

Chattanooga Roofing & Foundry Co.

CHATTANOOGA TENNESSEE

Cows, Calves and Horses

AT

AUCTION

Thursday, June 2, at 2 P. M.

Having sold my farm, situated one mile west of Summerfield depot. I must now dispose of all cattle, horses, etc., so on above date I will sell at the farm, to the highest bidder, for cash: 25 cows and calves, some of them full stock jersey; some of them full stock short horns, etc. 2 good work horses, 2 colts, 1 buggy and harness, some corn, and possibly other articles. Rev. Mr. Townsend, who bought the farm, is in possession of same, and I must sell my stock, so these cows, calves, horses and colts will be sold regardless of price.

S. S. BROWN

HENRY MAILLARD'S CANDIES FOR SALE BY HOWARD GARDNER, GREENSBORO, N. C.