After everyone had arrived and gotten in their places, they marched into the Craven Memorial hall, where they were to be addressed by Charles Nagel, secretary of commerce and labor in President Taft's cabinet, in the following order: President Kilgo, Mr. Nagel, Mr. Southgate, the trustees, the faculty, class of 1890, the class of 1906 and this year's graduating class—the class of 1910.

of the citizen. Conservation of which we hear so much in these times, rests in the hands of the individual state. The interests have come into the hands of the state and the state has become the real conservator. Ultimately the conservation and prosperity of this nation rests in the hands of the individual state. The federal government, except that it can regulate conditions only with the cooperation of each state. The relation between the state and federal government is whether or not their policies will coincide. Therefore, prosperity depends on the active part taken by every state in the Union.

"Now, apart from all political opinions, could there be a man to approve these questions which have been before our American public lately with less partiality and with more good judgment than our own dear President Taft. He has stood generously, frankly, humanely, patiently, inviting every citizen to come forward in this government and take his respective part."

Durham, June 8.—Last night in the Craven Memorial hall was held the annual senior orations, delivered by members of the graduating class in contest for the Wiley Gray medal. This medal is given by Hon. R. T. Gray, of Raleigh, in memory of his brother, Wiley Gray, in whose honor the medal is named, when first established the entire class would have to contest for it, but now since the growth of the college has reached such a point, only those are chosen from the class. Those who contested for it this year, were: Clarence Shaw Warren, Lynchburg, Tenn., on the subject "The Classics and Citizenship"; William Tyndall brothers, Elizabeth City, N. C., on the subject "The African Cross"; Arthur Marcus Proctor, Coachella, Cal., on the subject "Washburn, What of The Night"; and Thomas Wilkinson Augusta, Ga., on the subject "The Galilean in Modern Life."

The judges, who were Dr. Gilbert T. Howe, of Charlotte, a minister of the Methodist church; Mr. Dickinson, of Goldsboro, a prominent lawyer of that place; and Hon. W. R. Odell, of Union county, ex-senator from Union county, announced that after due consideration they had unanimously decided to award the medal to Mr. Warren for having put up the best oration both in respect to diction and delivery.

While the judges were out making up their decision, Robert C. Goldstein, of the department of law, in behalf of the student body of Trinity college, presented Dr. Kilgo, the retiring president, with a beautifully carved loving cup. Upon being thus remembered in this way by his boys, Dr. Kilgo showed emotion, and in reply: "Go tell my boys that I love them, that I need no token of gold and silver, that they need not give me, I shall prize this highly as token of the love of my boys for me. I thank you."

Immediately after the awarding of the Wiley Gray medal to Mr. Warren the following Society medals were awarded: By the Columbian Society, oysters medal, to Thomas Wilkinson, of Augusta, Ga. the debater's medal to G. WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN

Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to their sex should write to Dr. Pierce and receive free the advice of a physician of over 40 years' experience—a skilled and successful specialist in the diseases of women. Every letter of this sort has the most careful consideration and is regarded as sacredly confidential. Many sensitively modest women write fully to Dr. Pierce what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The local physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do anything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce holds that these distasteful examinations are generally needless, and that no woman, except in rare cases, should submit to them.

Dr. Pierce's treatment will cure you right in the privacy of your own home. His "Favorite Prescription" has cured hundreds of thousands, some of them the worst of cases.

It is the only medicine of its kind that is the product of a regularly graduated physician. The only one good enough that its makers gave to print its every ingredient on its outside wrapper. There's no secrecy. It will bear examination. No alcohol and no habit-forming drugs are found in it. Some unscrupulous medicine dealers may offer you a substitute. Don't take it. Don't trifle with your health. Write to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, President, Buffalo, N. Y.—take the advice received and be well.
