President Hobbs Delivered an Able Address on "Caesation."

(Special to Daily News.) Asheville, June 16.—This has been a busy day with the teachers attending the sessions of the North Carolina Teachers' assembly. Following the work of the various departments earlier in the morning the teachers assembled in the auditorium at noon for the address of President L. L. Hobbs, of Guilford College, and the report of the committee on teachers' salaries.

President Hobbs delivered an able address on "Caesation." He discussed some of the problems of teachers and believed that one of the things that the teachers should do was to teach pupils not to violate the law of health.

He believed that educational work in school should be well balanced. The coupling of educational institutions and the church which widely prevailed in the south was a factor in building up a strong element which would preserve the country.

He thought that one of the evils of the present system of education was that people were trying to do too many things and not doing any of them as well as they should. He believed that the best thing to do was to do one thing well.

Wadesboro Is Having a Substantial Growth That Astonishes Everybody.

Wadesboro, June 16.—Busy and better days are ahead for Wadesboro. Work has been in progress on several new modern residences and still more building is contemplated.

Contractor Lindsey, of Portsmouth, Va., is getting ready for his street work, which is to begin immediately. The streets will be paved with macadam and receive a coating of tarry, which will not only help to keep down the dust, but holds the material together and gives it an elastic condition.

Mr. Lindsey's bid is to do the entire job for a fraction over $28,000, and the work must be done during the next four months.

Nearer the business part of town, in fact, only three blocks from the courthouse, Colonel Patrick a few weeks ago made another job here and this time he established the conservatory.

Wadesboro is not in the midst of a mushroom growth, but is moving upward and forward. New people are constantly coming to the town and strange faces greet you everywhere.

T. P. A.'S DISCUSS CHANGE IN THEIR CONSTITUTION

(By The Associated Press.) Chattanooga, Tenn., June 16.—Proposed amendments to the constitution of the National Travelers' Protective association were discussed in the afternoon session of the convention here today.

The effort to change the board of directors for 1911 have a majority vote outside of Missouri failed, as did the proposition to pay a weekly benefit to members partially disabled by sickness or accident.

A resolution recommending that the Travelers' Protective association convention extend its greetings to Theodore Roosevelt upon the occasion of his return to America was carried with rousing cheers. Enthusiasm was aroused by a message from Washington announcing that the excess baggage charge would be returned in the railroad bill.

Electron officers is scheduled for tomorrow.

Rules will be changed without much opposition

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, June 16.—Out of the three-sided battle line in the House of Representatives, which has been gradually merging for several days toward a mutual ground of conflict over the question of the reform of the rules, there grew gradually today the appearance of something like an amicable settlement.

The rules committee argued, word by word, for hours over the Buckley-Shirley resolution, which seeks to provide a way for a member to bring into the House a measure being "sponsored" in committee. Chairman Dabell and other "regular" Republican members of the committee were joined by the Democratic members in attempting to formulate a rule which would work out the end desired and be acceptable to the House.

At the Grand Opera House

The Beneficial Refined Lady Minstrels, with an entire change of program throughout, again repeated its third successful night by playing to a capacity house. The change certainly deserves great praise, not only to the sister to the members, but the cleanliness and neatness of the entertainment, which was heartily received by the ladies and children present.

Miss Isabelle, in her "Hello, Mr. Moon Man" was enough enough to make this second little Fox Langtry feel proud.

The D-dall Sisters in stunning costumes, with clever voices, singing duets and Miss Esther Roberts, in the horn dance, were heartily received. They will continue for the balance of the week at the Grand opera house, two shows nightly, at 8 and 11 o'clock, and all delays that they had a grand night in fact, some went so far as to say that if the young men were as well versed in their Bibles as they were in the art of entertaining they should all claim themselves as authorities on the great book. There are about 35 of the young men in the Bible class and they are very much interested in the Sunday school work.

Editor Charles L. Stephens, of the New Bern Journal, spent last night in the city, returning home from a visit in Asheville.

Bible Class Entertained Philathea Last Night

The young men's Bible class of the First Reformed church delightfully entertained the members of the Philathea and the Ladies' Bible classes last night at the home of John E. Troxler, 543 West Lee street.

Various games were played during the evening and also a number of instrumental and vocal musical selections given after which delicious refreshments consisting of black cream, cake and fruit punch were served, which were greatly enjoyed. About 100 guests called between the hours of 8 and 11 o'clock, and all declared that they had a grand night in fact, some went so far as to say that if the young men were as well versed in their Bibles as they were in the art of entertaining they should all claim themselves as authorities on the great book. There are about 35 of the young men in the Bible class and they are very much interested in the Sunday school work.

The Best of the Season

The bill that is on at the Bijou for the last bill of this week is the best ever seen in Greensboro. This is not hot air, but a statement of fact. The pictures are good, excellent, and there are two musical comedies in the van, devil's exact that are great. Those who fail to see it will miss the best of the season.
