

Social Events of Week

The Greensboro Daily News, with this issue, again takes up its local society column for the Sunday issue and will hereafter "keep it going."

The wet, disagreeable weather during most of the week, Old Sol not deigning to shine for anybody until Friday, has dampened social affairs, and only weddings, which cannot be put off, and those social affairs that were scheduled for certain dates, and invitations issued, were given.

The society editor has, therefore, gathered a few of the more important happenings of the week, and submits them herewith for the delectation of the Daily News readers.

In connection herewith, the society editor would very much appreciate the telephoning in of any social event to be, or any that has been and not noted, for it is the desire of the Daily News to make this column something to be proud of both by the people who get together the items and the public who read them.

Mrs. Alderman's Five O'Clock Tea. One of the most delightful events of the week was a 5 o'clock tea, given by Mrs. Sydney Alderman, at her home on West Market street, Wednesday afternoon, assisted by Mrs. Russell Sherrill, of Raleigh, and Mrs. Esch, of Jackson, Miss., who were the guests of honor.

"Environment lends enchantment," and especially was this impressed upon the minds of those who were welcomed into the beautiful Alderman house, for without were rain and dreary clouds. Beautiful cut flowers, growing plants and the soft glow of many candles were in evidence to lend more beauty to the occasion.

Mrs. Alderman was panned in soft white tulle and carried an armful of red carnations; Mrs. Sherrill wore coral-colored radium silk, with point lace and shower bouquet of white sweet peas; Mrs. Esch's gown was of lavender chiffon over mescaline, with white carnations.

Mrs. Haywood Alderman, in black black mescaline, and Mrs. C. H. Ireland, in a dainty gown of pompadour silk, received at the front door.

From the parlor into the dining room, which was a perfect garden of red and white sweet peas, the guests were conducted, where delicious refreshments were served, presided over by Mrs. J. Norman Wills, in lavender crepe de chine, and Miss Laura Daub, in silk-tailored suit; Mrs. Will Alderman, in gray silk, led the guests into the library, where Mrs. Richard Wills and Mrs. Samuel Kerr poured English tea.

of a beautiful church wedding, when Miss Mary Gilmer Banner became the bride of Joseph Ervin Gant, of Burlington. Simplicity is the most beautiful feature of any wedding and this characteristic was in evidence on this occasion, it being the request of the bride on account of the recent death of her father.

The ring ceremony was used. The Rev. Dr. R. W. Mebane, of Hawfields, was the officiating minister. Twenty-eight years ago he conducted the marriage ceremony of the bride's father and mother.

Prior to the entrance of the bride party, Miss Josephine Gilmer, of Waynesville, sang "Because," and Tannhauser's wedding march, played by G. H. Thompson, heralded the entrance of the ushers, G. R. Kennette, John Gant, Jr., and Hill Hunter. Following came the bridegroom and his best man and brother, Kenneth Gant.

The altar was tastefully decorated with palms, ferns and daisies. A great number of costly and hand some presents, which evidenced the popularity of the two, were received by Mr. and Mrs. Gant.

Mrs. Gant has, for several years, been connected with the State Normal college, and is the daughter of Mrs. James G. Banner, of Mount Airy.

Mr. Gant is a son of John S. Gant, of Burlington, a prominent manufacturer.

Mr. and Mrs. Gant left on No. 38 for an extended northern trip. Upon their return, about July 1, they will be at home at Burlington.

In Honor of Miss White. Tuesday evening at her home on Broadwood avenue, Miss Thelma Clymer was hostess at a beautifully appointed six-course dinner in honor of Miss Catherine White, who will, in a few days, leave for her future home in Statesville. The Clymer home had been decorated with cut flowers and potted plants.

draw for the prize, Miss Lockhart being the final winner. The young men also wrote recipes for the making of cake, and Adam Lockhart was the winner. Among the guests were: Misses Bailey, Eddie Lee Coward, Lina Lockhart, Bessie Knotta, Angelyn Fetzer, Allie Mae Burns, Bessie Leibetter, Eva Moore, Estelle Moore, Jessie Moore, Lavette Chambias and Elizabeth Horne.

Miss Connie Moss entertained 30 guests Friday afternoon in honor of her friend, Miss Lawrence, of Nashville, Tenn. Those present were happily entertained despite the storm, and Mrs. F. C. Parsons was the recipient of the prize in progressive rummy two, and thereupon handed it, a dainty fan, to the honoree. An ice course was served.

EVENTS OF INTEREST IN REIDSVILLE'S SOCIAL REALM (Special to Daily News.) Reidsville, June 18.—A quiet but beautiful wedding took place at 4:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Scott Blackwell, when their daughter, Elizabeth, was united in marriage to Walter W. Jordan, of Smithfield, N. C.

The parlor, where the ceremony was performed, was charmingly decorated with white cut flowers and ferns and illuminated by softly shaded candles.

Proceeding the ceremony, Miss Katherine Anderson, with wonderful sweetness, sang, "As Long As The World Holds On," following which, to the beautiful notes of the wedding march played by Mrs. Francis Womack, the bride party was ushered in.

The bride, who entered with her brother, F. W. Blackwell, was attired in an exquisite tan cloth gown, with hat, gloves and shoes to match. She carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley. The only jewel she wore was a magnificent diamond brooch given her by the bridegroom.

Mr. Jordan was attended by his best man, Albert Noble, of Smithfield, N. C. While the Rev. L. F. Mann was reading the service Mrs. Womack played softly.

Immediately following the ceremony and congratulations, the young couple were driven to the station, where they took train No. 35 for Greensboro. From there they took train No. 38 for Washington and New York. After June 25 they will be at home in Smithfield, N. C.

At Home after July 30, Smithfield, N. C. The bride is one of Reidsville's most attractive and gifted young women and her loss will be keenly felt in both social and musical circles.

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Staples request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter, Clara, to James D. Bivins, on the evening of Thursday, June 30, 1910, at 9 o'clock, in Reidsville, N. C.

Friday evening Mrs. J. W. Metzger entertained with a dinner party in honor of Miss Bradley of Mooreville. Covers were laid for eight, and after dinner the favorite game of bridge was enjoyed for some time.

Mr. Robert Harris entertained at bridge on Saturday afternoon in honor of her sister, Mrs. Maxine of Montgomery. Three tables were arranged for the game and a most delightful afternoon was spent. At the conclusion of the game, Mrs. Harris served chocolate bonbons, ice cream with chocolate sauce and chocolate cake.

Comfortable Summer Collars. Men wear turn-down collars in summer primarily because they are comfortable, and do not wilt down so quickly as others.

We help you secure these desired results by starching your collars in such a way as to give them "body" enough to resist ordinary perspiration—and by ironing the top folded edge perfectly dry and smooth, so it will not dig your neck or otherwise irritate you.
