striking fund made for the purpose of saving money to redeem those bonds. Now another question Many years ago the city of Rainigh issued bonds to build the city of Raleigh issued bonds to built a market bouse. The bonds were sold, a sinking fund was created and the last time I heard of that fund they had some 860,000 or more or probably less saved to pay to redeem the bonds. Have the bonds been redeemed? I see they are trying to sell the old market-house. I wish you would sak the News and Observer to look into the matter, as it is such a good hand to look after the city and country good.
