WHITE AND BLUE OF CAROLINA TRAILED IN THE SNOW-MADE MUD

Tar Heels Suffered Crushing Defeat at Hands of Virginians.

FINAL SCORE WAS 66 TO 0

It Was a Fearful Slaughter, Despite the Excellent Work of Capt. Tillet, Halfback.

A. & M. ALSO DEFEATED

Washington and Lee Won From the Farmers by Score of 16 to 6—Davidson Outwitted Wake Forest. Other Thanksgiving Games.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 28.—The Orange and Blue of the University of Virginia trailed the White and Blue of the University of North Carolina in snow-made mud this afternoon to the enormous score of 66 to 0. Captain Todd, of Virginia, made several sensational runs, one of which was for a touchdown, while a first-year man, Mayer, excelled his teammates by making five of the ten touchdowns. It was a fearful slaughter, despite the excellent work of Captain Tillet, at halfback for Carolina, and the hard work of his men. Carolina was simply outclassed at every point and in the final quarter Virginia apparently scored at will, notwithstanding the plucky defensive work of the Tarheels. Today's score was the largest ever made by Virginia against Carolina.

Virginia—Lander, L. E.; Redus, L. T.; Jett, L. G.; Wood, C.; Carter, R. G.; Woolfolk, R. T.; Finlay, R. E.; Gooch, Q. B.; Mayer, L. H. B.; Todd (captain), R. H. B.; Smith, F. B.

Summary—Touchdowns: Smith, Todd, (2); Mayer, (5); Cook, (2).

Goals from touchdowns: Carter, 5; Maiden Score—University of Virginia, 66; University of North Carolina, 0.

Substitution: University of North Carolina: Strange for Husko; Long for Holmeswood; Dorch for Abernathy; Blacklock for Applewhite; Harris for Long; Tayloe for Moore; Devane for Taylor; Little for Dorch.

University of Virginia: Randolph for Gooch; Maiden for Jett; Gooch for Randolph; Farrow for Carter; Maiden for Jett; Gillette for Finlay; Ace for Mayer; Gromer for Ace; Loretz for Lander; Brown for Redus; Cooke for Smith.

Officials: Nelson, N. Y. Niska, referee; Donnelly, Trinity, umpire; Poe, Princeton, linesman.

Time of periods, 15 minutes each.

A. & M. Easily Defeated.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 28.—On a field of mud, the football team of Washington and Lee college easily defeated the team from the Agricultural and Mechanical college of Raleigh, N. C., this afternoon. The score was 16 to 6.

The game was devoid of any noticeable features, beyond the fact that players on both teams were muddy from head to foot.

A fumble by Miller, of the Virginians, on the 20-yard line, permitted the Carolinians to score. The lineup: L. T. Cooke, I. G. Tyler, R. J. Seles, R. G. Floyd, R. J. Davis, R. C. Champion, G. H. Jeffries, L. H. B. McHenry, L. B. Osborne, R. H. B.

W. L. Hixson, L. E. Schultz, L. T. Miller (captain), L. G. Moore, C. Rogers, R. G. Miles, R. L. Francis, R. E. Raferoy, G. H. Peoples, L. H. B. Bushing, F. B. Burke, R. H. B.

Score by periods: 7 3 6 0—16
A. & M. 0 0 0 0—0

Summary—Substitutions: Washington and Lee: Rothrock for Francis; Francis for Rothrock; Barker for Hixson; Hixson for Barker; Watt for Hixson; Nebbett for Schultz; Donahue for Peoples; Peoples for Stewart; Walton for Rogers; Bolton for Rogers; Nally for Francis.

NIGHT RIDERS DESTROY MUCH GEORGIA TOBACCO

Prominent Growers Meet to Investigate the Burning of $20,000 Worth of the Weed in Deatur County.

Rainbridge, Ga., Nov. 28.—Investigation was instituted here today at a meeting of several prominent tobacco growers of the burning of $20,000 worth of tobacco in Deatur county last Tuesday by night-riders. Three large barns were totally destroyed by fire across the Georgia county and two barns of tobacco were consumed by fire across the Florida state line, 29 miles distant. The loss sustained in the latter state is not now known.

All of the tobacco barns destroyed were owned by members of an association formed three years ago by large growers to hold the tobacco until a suitable price was offered for it by manufacturers.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS MUST TRAIN CHILDREN TO THE PRACTICAL

Instead of Useless Tasks the Demand is That They Interest Children in Home Life and in Acts of Men Today—President Brooks Preaches Mighty Modern Doctrine.

In his annual address to the members of the Teachers' assembly, the president, Prof. E. C. Brooks, of the department of education in Trinity college, criticized the public school systems which do not bring actual life and modern methods of living to the children sent there for an education. He based his argument on the assertion that the one thing which counts in the individual is how to make a living, and said the function of the school is to teach this. He derided the too frequent use of text books that deal with far off topics that are not of interest in this modern time, and said the matter of teaching must be made to be practical.

Referring to criticism that the products of the schools do not have any practical knowledge, he sketched the life of the child, the early training in the home and the training that ought to be in the school. He dwelt on the divergence of the school from the training the child instinct craves, and the training that is secured in the great physical and spiritual worlds which surround the home and the home training. He declared the school in its work must continue the task of educating the child, not only in matters of life, but must be a force directing them in the avenues of good and useful citizenship. His criticism of the present organized school is that it is not broad enough to reach all the children, and he pleaded for a system that touches all classes and conditions in such a manner as to bring them into life and into practical activity.

He declared the true purpose of the school to be to bring children into knowledge of the things that are going on about them, and said the youth of today are not attending school or finding interest in the school because the life of the world is not found in the school. He said that the great men of the past were not those who remembered the Latin and the Greek, but those who were touched by the great personality of the teacher who inspired high ideals in them, and set before them the principles that are at the basis of moral life and human relationships. The fact that we are living today and not in the day of Luther or in the ages of the past, he declared to be the reason for a change in the curriculum to conform to the great changes that have been wrought and that are paramount at this time. He criticized the state for trying to make all educational life develop in the same way and in the same degree, and said there is no more use to emphasize Latin and Greek than there is to emphasize Hebrew save as they give strength to the mind to think and to act and control the human body which is the mind's subject.

He described a course of subjects that would train children to be in sympathy with home work that would give them interest in home affairs, and declared that this would go a long way to relieving the work of the mother, instead of prescribing three problems in geometry, 40 lines of Virgil and a long selection from the mad scene of Hamlet to be recited over at night. The great physical world in which we live and have our being demands that we give attention to those things for the youth of the times are drawn to these things. He urged the teaching of heroic history, the holding up of men to the children who have done things and who are continuing in those heroic acts.

State Well Represented.

Every avenue of educational life in the state of North Carolina was represented here yesterday when the teachers, over a hundred in number, estimated, gathered for the discussion of principles in education and for considering the most difficult problems met and the most accessible and adaptable methods possible to be used in the schools. Every phase of educational life is being touched in this assembly of teachers.

There is not one single branch of education here represented here. College presidents and professors, directors of high school educational work, city superintendents and principals of high schools, music teachers, kindergarten teachers, county superintendents, primary instructors, grammar grade instructors, all are here in representative numbers, and the gathering is indeed similar in educational terms to the gathering of the crusaders for an onward march.

The interest that is being displayed is a matter of noteworthy observance. Representatives of education from other parts of the nation, who themselves are leaders in the educational life of America today, have remarked on the zeal which the Carolina teachers are displaying. They have remarked on the apparent great effort to make this assembly one from which new ideas and new inspirations may be drawn with the single view of making the cause of education and the purpose of education more closely felt throughout the entire length and breadth of the commonwealth.

The teachers' assembly such a large body as it is and with such a variety of educational phases represented would be too unwieldy for the business to be transacted in one mass meeting. To avoid any difficulties and lack of interest and forcefulness which would result if such a plan were followed the body is divided into eight different sections, all of which have designated places of meeting. In each section definite topics are discussed to suit the needs of a specific class of teachers. All these meetings yesterday morning and afternoon were well attended and the discussions entered into heartily. At all these meetings the one effort of the program was to touch at the center of things, to bring out the problems peculiar to that

SECOND DAY OF THE CONFERENCE DEVOTED TO ROUTINE BUSINESS

Educational Institutions Submit Their Reports.

ORPHANAGE HAS REPORT

Institution Admitted Thirty-One Additional Children the Past Year, the Best in History.

PREACHERS ADVANCED

Bishop Denny Would Like the Preachers to Be a Little More Diligent When They Submit a "Good Year" Report.

(By R. M. PHILLIPS.)

Fayetteville, Nov. 28.—The second day of the 76th annual session of the North Carolina conference of the M. E. church south was opened at 9:30 this morning with devotional exercises conducted by Rev. Andrew P. Tyler, who announced that old familiar hymns, "Children of the Heavenly King," which was sung, and offered a fervent prayer. The minutes were read and approved, and the call of question 22 was at once resumed without loss of time. The superannuates were called, and the following were referred to the committee for continuation in the same relation: M. C. Thomas, J. E. Thompson, A. D. Betts, T. J. Browning, G. D. Langston, T. P. Bonner, T. J. Dailley, W. A. Forbes and W. H. Kirton. J. J. Porter, W. H. Duckett and F. A. Bishop having died during the year were referred to the committee on memorials. The names of J. Y. Old and D. C. Geddie were placed on the effective list.

The reports of Greensboro Female college, Lenoir college, Carolina college and Littleton Female college were submitted and referred to the board of education.

Who are deacons of one year was called, and H. E. Lane, W. A. Stanbury, W. J. Watson, J. A. Martin, M. Y. Self, F. S. Love submitted their reports and they were elected to elders' orders.

The following members of the class of the third year were advanced to the class of the fourth year: R. L. Carraway, J. M. Grant, C. B. Culbreth, Walter Patton, Geo. S. Bearden, G. M. Daniel.

John N. Cole, superintendent of the orphanage at Raleigh, made the annual report of the institution. It has been the best year in the history of the orphanage. The children have had better health and the institutional family has been prosperous and happy. Only one death during the year, and that was from a non-preventable disease—influenza pneumonia. The children are being taught in religion and morality. There were admitted during the year 31 additional children, and there are now 160 children in the institution. A number of bequests to the endowment were received during the year, and, on the whole, there has been very substantial and satisfactory progress in all departments.

But for lack of adequate facilities the orphanage has had to turn away from its doors more children than there are in the total enrollment. The fact shows an urgent need. The report was referred to the orphanage committee.

Who are admitted on trial was called, and there were three from the Elizabeth city district, W. Lee, J. L. Mill, J. H. Miller, Durham district; F. H. Slaughter, H. C. Smith, Fayetteville district; N. M. Wright, W. P. Ferrer, New Bern district; E. D. Dobb, F. P. Fisher, W. B. Humble, Eockingham district; E. L. Jones, Warrenton district; R. N. Fitts.

Bishop Denny's Sermon.

By special order at 11:30 Bishop Denny preached a Thanksgiving sermon. His text was the first two verses of Psalm 118. Men often compare good men with giving thanks, he said, but a man may be glad when he commits an evil deed but he cannot be thankful for it if he knows what he is talking about. Constrasting the civilization of China and modern America, Bishop Denny said we cannot despise China. She has something we lack. They tell us her life is a nation runs back to the days of Abraham. Her nations have risen and fallen but China still lives. They know many things agree with us, but they have just discovered still we should thank God that we were born Americans. This is a greater hope than to be born a king. Dr. Coke once offered a resolution that did not suit the Baltimore conference then tearing up the resolutions said, "Do you think yourself as good as I?" Nelson Reed arose and said to Bishop Ashbury, "We got on to think ourselves as good as Dr. Coke, but as good as Dr. Coke's leg."

One of the greatest characteristics of this country is the tendency to self-respect, said the bishop. General Lee impressed upon his soldiers that they must respect themselves if they would be respected. Our country is one of religious freedom and a land of tolerance. There is not ten square miles of space on this earth where a woman is safe outside of Christianity. I wonder how often we remember that the great privilege we enjoy are because of the life of Christ. Let us not forget all his benefits.

There were business meetings of all the boards and committees this afternoon.

Mr. Crowson Returns to Burlington.

(Special to Daily News.)

Burlington, Nov. 28.—J. F. Crowson today assumes the editorship of the Burlington News. Rev. R. M. Andrews, who has been editor for one year, having accepted the pastorate at Greensboro, Mr. Crowson has been editor and half owner of the Durham Daily Sun and recently sold his paper.

SERVIANS HAVE IGNORED ALBANIAN PROCLAMATION; OCCUPY DURAZZO

Conflict is Raised in Acute Form Between Serbia and Austria. Will Austria Take Any Direct Action?—Much Excitement Over Mobilization of the Austrian Army.

London, Nov. 28.—The Servians, ignoring the proclamation of Albanian independence, have occupied the port of Durazzo without resistance. This information comes in a direct dispatch from that town tonight. Thus the conflict is raised in acute form between Austria and Serbia, and it remains to be seen whether the Austrian government will take any direct action or will be content to leave the question for settlement after the war.

The Servian action, coupled with the eminently warlike feeling prevailing in Vienna, is likely to keep Europe in a state of anxiety. On the other hand, the fact that the negotiations are progressing at Haghe and that there is no sign of the resumption of operations on the Tchatalja lines while the great powers are exchanging proposals for the assembling of a European conference all make for a peaceful settlement.

Should the proposed conference materialize—for apparently Austria has not yet consented to participate—it would be considered as preparatory to a later conference, which would include the Balkan states and Turkey, for a final settlement of all questions. Nothing as to where the conference will take place has been given out. Great secrecy is preserved regarding the negotiations at Haghe, and it is not known whether the plenipotentiaries are discussing an armistice or peace.

It is reported from Rome that a provisional Albanian has been constituted at Vatona (Alvona) by eighty Albanian delegates.

WILMINGTON WEDDINGS.

Several Nuptial Events Solemnized in the City by the Sea.

(Special to Daily News.)

Wilmington, Nov. 27.—A simple, but charming home wedding was solemnized this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Mohr, 810 Grace street, when their daughter, Miss Katherine Louise, became the bride of Henry Goldberger.

The wedding was witnessed only by relatives and intimate friends of the bride and bridegroom, and the ceremony, though of the simplest nature, was charming. The bride was given away by her father, J. J. Mohr.

Beautifully decorated with potted plants, smilax, chrysanthemums and other flowers suggestive of the autumn season, and thronged with many friends and admirers of the young couple, the first Baptist church last evening at 8 o'clock was the scene of a beautiful wedding when Miss Ella Brady, the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henderson, formerly of this city, was led to the altar by Ralph P. Eakin and were made man and wife.

The bride was attended as maid of honor by her sister, Miss Edith Brady, while the bridegroom's best man was her friend, Walter Boush. There were no other attendants except the groomsmen, who were Messrs. William Whitely, Leonard Tate, James Sholly and Melvin.

Quiet but withal very pretty and impressive, the marriage of Frederick Lucy King, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. King, of this city, and Miss Lillian H. Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Taylor, also of Wilmington, was solemnized at 6 o'clock last evening at the manse of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church.

RAILROAD MEN INTERESTED.

Engineers Fail to See How They Can Hold Down to 48 Miles an Hour.

(Special to Daily News.)

Wilmington, Nov. 28.—Railroad men everywhere have been and are still much interested in the new national law restricting all passenger trains in the United States to 48 miles per hour. It seems that the public does not fully understand that this law applies to any and all single miles, any mile between any two mile posts. Engineers are free to admit that it is a good law, made in the interest of safety both for the train and for the passenger. However, most engineers are at a loss to see how present schedules can be maintained.

SNOW AT NEW BERN

Began Falling Thanksgiving Morning and Covered the Ground.

(Special to Daily News.)

New Bern, Nov. 28.—Snow began falling in this city this morning and continued until noon. The ground is covered with at least an inch of the white flakes. This is the first time in many years that snow has fallen in this section during the month of November. The afternoon a thin snow and but little snow remains on the streets.

FOUR KILLED AND 50 INJURED WHEN A FAST EXPRESS IS DERAILED

Accident Occurred On Pennsylvania Thanksgiving.

BROKEN RAIL THE CAUSE

Chicago Lady Fatally Shot By Divorced Husband While She Was Preparing Dinner.

SHE WOULDN'T INVITE HIM

Former Wife Was Surprised at Her Home By Her Former Husband, and When She Gave a "No" to His Request, He Fled.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 28.—Four men were killed and more than 50 persons were injured on the Pennsylvania railroad at Glenloch, 25 miles west of here, last night when the Cincinnati express was derailed, eight cars going down a high embankment. The dead: J. A. Heavin, Brooklyn, sleeping car employe; E. R. Jones, New York, sleeping car employe.

Unidentified man. The body was clad only in night clothes and there is no means of identifying it. The face is badly disfigured. The heavy train, known as the Cincinnati express, was hauled by two locomotives. It is the belief of road officials that a broken rail was responsible for the wreck.

Passengers in the cars that remained on the roadbed hurried to help persons caught in the plunge of the other coaches.

The injured were cared for in nearby farm houses until the arrival of relief trains, which were loaded, then hurried back to West Chester or Harrisburg.

Investigating Cause of Wreck.

National, state and county officials as well as the Pennsylvania railroad, are conducting investigations as to the cause of the wreck of the Cincinnati express, which left the tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad last night at Glenloch causing the death of four men and injury to more than half a hundred passengers.

The four bodies which have been identified as Howard L. Baldwin, sleeping car conductor, Flat Bush, N. Y.; Edwin R. Jones, sleeping car conductor, Pittsburgh; J. A. Heavin, Pittsburgh, and James Collins, Pittsburgh, were recovered from the debris.

An inquest will be conducted tomorrow. Only four passengers are now regarded as in a critical condition. Marshall John P. Dohoney, of Harrisburg, who investigated the wreck on behalf of the state railroad commission said tonight that the wreck appeared to have been caused by the sagging of a girder on the bridge which depressed the track.

Fatally Shot by Divorced Husband.

Chicago, Nov. 28.—Mrs Dorothy Pusey was shot and fatally injured by her divorced husband today as she was preparing a Thanksgiving day dinner for her two young children. Pusey had just returned to her home to find her husband in an attempt to commit suicide.

Mrs. Pusey was at delicatessen store near her home when her former husband called. Unaware of his presence, she returned with her arms full of groceries for the dinner.

As you going to visit me in your dream? asked the former husband.

No, I am not, replied Mrs. Pusey.

The husband then drew a revolver and fired three times, one of the bullets struck her in the head.

Pusey then turned the revolver on herself. He fired into her neck, but the bullets passed the wound, and she was not killed.

Many Thanksgiving Snows.

Atlanta, Nov. 28.—Thanksgiving day was marked in many sections of the south by a fall of snow. The snow fell on the day of the anniversary of the oldest inhabitant. At Thomaston, Ga., 5 miles from the town, it was the first snow since 1860. The snow was not in the city.

Patrick is a Free Man.

Ossining, N. Y., Nov. 28.—Albion Patrick stepped from Sing Sing prison a free man today. He had served a term of 10 years for a crime committed in 1902. The prison was crowded with inmates today. The snow was not in the city.
