

DAY'S NEWS EVENTS FROM STATE CAPITAL

Translation of the Body of Bishop Lyman Impressive Ceremony.

GIFT TO STATE NORMAL

(Special to Daily News.)

Raleigh, May 21.—The final and last day's session of the convention of the diocese of North Carolina began in the Church of the Good Shepherd today with an ascension day service and ended this afternoon with the translation of the body of Bishop Theodore Benedict Lyman from Oakwood cemetery to the church, under the channel of which it will find a permanent resting place.

The night was devoted to an illustrated lecture at St. Mary's, on mission work in the diocese.

Augustus Lukeman, the artist who designed and executed the monument to North Carolina Women of the Confederacy to be unveiled in Capital square June 10, has expressed his desire to present to the State Normal and Industrial college at Greensboro, the plaster cast from which the bronze figure of the monument was modeled and cast.

Charters are issued for two new North Carolina corporations, as follows: The Charlotte Elk's Home corporation, Charlotte, capital $100,000 authorized and $25,000 subscribed by E. L. Black and others, for the erection of an Elk's temple in Charlotte.

The River View Farm (Inc.), Plymouth; capital $10,000 authorized and subscribed by Earle E. Conkin and others.

There is an amendment for the charter of the Vanceboro Tobacco Warehouse company, that makes the capital $25,000, information being today from Deputy Insurance Commissioner W. A. Scott to the state department of insurance that he has just secured the binding over to court of Rev. A. Stroved, a negro preacher, at Lumberton, on the charge of representing an insurance concern in Georgia that is not licensed to do business in this state.

State Treasurer B. R. Lacy, just back from Davidson college, comes today and attendance upon the sessions of the board of trustees of the college, says that the past year has been especially successful in the affairs of the college. This is the first year in a great while that the college has not ended the year with some amount of floating debt. The affairs of the college have been put on the most approved sort of business basis and the college assets now round out a good three-quarters of a million dollars.

The closing exercises of the Raleigh public schools was held in the high school auditorium, J. W. Batley delivering the address. There were 25 graduates from the high school department who received certificates.

At the end of 1912 there were employed in the gold mines of the Transvaal 24,334 whites and 205,488 natives.

BIG TOBACCO CROP IS SURE IN PIT COUNTY

Rain Badly Needed for Tobacco and All Other Crops, Though.

SMALL BOY IS INJURED

(Special to Daily News.)

Greenville, May 21.—Ralph Garman, not being satisfied that a dynamite cap was good, proceeded to make a test. The test was successful—the cap was good. While getting ready for the test or at the testing time, the cap exploded. Garman's face was badly lacerated, one eye suffered much disfigurement and one hand was mangled. The doctor gave him prompt attention and his wounds are not very serious. He lives in Cententia township.

A big tobacco crop has been set out. There is no scarcity of plants compared to what was expected in the early season. Most farmers are through setting out. The lack of rain has delayed this work somewhat and a very good stand is not expected. Farmers need rain for all crops now.

Building operations show no let-up. New residences are going up in all parts of the city. Seven new stores on Dickinson avenue are nearing completion. The new laundry building has been started on the same street. The skyscraper office building at Five Points is going skyward. Exclusive of the postoffice, which will be a near $100,000 building, there are now under consideration buildings of all kinds to the value of at least $1,500,000. And the demand is for more.

Some land little less than five miles of the city will bring from $100 to $150 per acre. This land brings these prices because farming on such lands pays. Little blazes continue to give big alarms. The Cooperage company seems hoodooed or something of that kind. It had two fire scares Saturday night, the first about 11 o'clock and the other about 5 Sunday morning. Neither did any material damage.

Superior court is in session this week with Judge Daniels presiding. It is a civil term and a "graveyard" insurance case occupied the court up to last night. In this case the plaintiff, an innocent purchaser of insurance on her father's life is suing for its payment, which the company has refused. It resulted in a mistrial last night, the jury failing to understand the issues, which were legion, and rendering a verdict that it was set aside and a new trial ordered. In that trial it seemed that as one juror said, they "didn't know anything about the issues, but wanted to give the girl $1,000."

Another case for trial is that of Vaughan, Barnes & Co. and Moseley Bros. against J. R. Davenport, in which a cotton contract is involved. This case has been tried twice before, going to the Supreme court once and a mistrial being had once. It now comes up for its third trial.

Invitations reading as follows have been issued: "Mr. and Mrs. J. Walter Hurley will give in marriage their daughter, Edna Pearl, to Mr. Mark Leslie Furnage on Wednesday morning, June 3rd, 1914, at 10:30 o'clock. Urbana Methodist church, south, Urbana, Va. The honor of your presence is requested. At home after June, the 15th, Greenville, N. C."

Tuesday at 9 p. m., Rev. Mr. Roek united in marriage G. H. Jordan, of Farmville, and Miss Annie M. Beasley, of Durham, the marriage taking place in this city. Mr. and Mrs. Beasley will make Farmville their home, to which place they left for after the marriage by auto.

HENDERSONVILLE IS WINNER IN CONTEST

Grand Lodge Odd Fellows Will Meet There In May Next Year.

SESSIONS COME TO CLOSE

(Special to Daily News.)

Durham, May 21.—The grand lodge of Odd Fellows today selected Hendersonville for the next meeting place over Hickory, Waynesville, Raleigh, Asheville and Goldsboro, all of which cities had applications in for the meeting. It was thought, had the chance for the meeting, but the Odd Fellows decided that it would not be best for the grand lodge to meet there in May because the meeting comes just at the end of the school term at the orphan home, and it was thought best not to disturb the children just before their final examinations.

The most important work of the day and the most interesting discussion came up over the suggested amendment to the constitution which would allow men 18 years old to join the lodge, instead of making 21 the age limit. There was a good deal of argument in favor of changing the age limit for joining, but the amendment was finally voted down. The amendment allowing officers of the grand lodge to serve two years instead of one was also brought up this afternoon and came in for a long discussion just before adjournment.

The Grand lodge of Odd Fellows adjourned this afternoon. Little work of interest was done except the appointment of Rev. V. Parish, grand chaplain, for the fifth term. Mr. Parish is a member of the Wake Forest college conference. He will also be field secretary for the Orphans' home during the year. A. S. Guerrard, of Asheville, was awarded the Brant loving cup, offered candidates for proficiency in secret work up to third degree.

The remainder of the day was spent in hearing the routine reports from the various committees and officers. The report from the superintendent of the Goldsboro home shows this institution to be in the very finest condition. The new building, which has been erected in nearly paid for, and there are pledges enough to cover the remainder of the debt on the building. This will be paid off by the end of the coming year. The home now has more children than it has ever had before, and all of them are doing well, according to the report of the superintendent.

The finance committee's report showed that the money end of the grand lodge was in good shape. There has been a steady increase in membership during the past year and the prospects for the future are also good. Lillian Bullock, of this morning, the new officers of the grand lodge were inducted into office. All of them made short speeches upon their inauguration and asked the cooperation of all North Carolina Odd Fellows in their work for the coming year. The commencement exercises of the Watts hospital nurses' school were held at the hospital this afternoon, and 11 young ladies were given their diplomas as graduate nurses. Diplomats were presented the following young women: Miss Maude Bailey, of Camp Hill, Bullock, of Dabney; Fannie Ivey, of New London; Alice Jessu, of Fayetteville; Carol Miller, of Winston-Salem; Rosa Poe, of Cheraw; S. C. Juanita Ross, of Burlington; Mary L. Steele, of Cleveland; Stacey and Willie Thompson, of Mt. Gilead; and Mabelle Vestal, of Durham.

The program for the state nurses' association annual meeting, which will convene in Durham next Wednesday, is now in process of preparation. The local committee in charge of the preparations for the entertainment of the nurses are making plans for an interesting meeting.

BOOKINGS SECURED BY BLOU THEATRE. Contracts for Number of Well Known Plays Closed—Some Big Numbers Secured.

The management of the Bijou has just closed contracts for a number of well known plays, reproduced in motion pictures and featuring some of the greatest American actors and actresses. The first of these big productions will be shown today, "The Lion and the Mouse," Charles Klein's wonderful drama. This to be followed next Thursday by Dustin Farnum, one of the best known American actors, in "The Squaw Man."

In addition to the above the following big plays have been booked: "The Count of Monte Cristo," with James "Arizona," featuring Cyril Scott; Henry Blossom's famous play, "Clothes," featuring Thos. W. Ross; "Laid Missa Kath," featuring La Salle; Richard Harding Davis' "Soldiers of Fortune," featuring Dustin Farnum; Eugene Walter's powerful social drama, "Paid in Full," with Tully Marshall starring; Augustus Thomas' remarkable rural play, "In Missouri," featuring Burr Melnoth, the world famous author, actor, war correspondent and lecturer in the original character of Ju Verson. "The Education of Mr. Pipp," in which Edgar Selwyn stars; "Clothes," the celebrated society drama, featuring Charlotte Ives and House Peters; Malcolm Williams in "The Brute"; "The Redemption of David Corson," William Fleming starring. "A Good Little Devil" with David Belasco's original all star cast, including Miss Mary Pickford, better known to the lovers of the silent drama as "Lily" Miss. The book and the play that swept the country, "Theater's Millions," with Edward Ayles in the role he made famous and played 1,800 times. These and others too numerous to mention have been booked and will be seen at the Bijou from time to time, announcements of which will be made several days in advance.

GOV. BALDWIN HEARD BY WAKE FOREST MEN

Chief Executive of Connecticut Throws Bouquets at State.

CLASS DAY EXERCISES

(Special to Daily News.)

Wake Forest, May 21.—In a masterly address today Gov. Simeon E. Baldwin, of Connecticut, delivering the annual address before an audience that taxed Wingate Memorial hall threw bouquets at North Carolina which all felt were hers. He showed that the great reforms in American institutions were contributed by North Carolina and several more started by her.

There is not a state of the union, he said, "which has not done something good or bad, towards the development of American institutions; but the part thus taken by those of them, who wear the proud title of the old 13, is the most conspicuous. It is they in whose honor were devised the 13 stripes upon our flag. The older and the newer states are alike represented by its stars, the stripes perpetuate the memory of the old 13 alone. We may or may not share the view that the story of the Mecklenburg county resolutions of May 20, 1775, is a myth. Legends are the foundation of history, and the date solemnly placed upon the great seal of North Carolina ought not lightly to be disregarded. Mecklenburg county could only speak for itself. On April 4, 1776, the provincial congress at Halifax spoke for the state at large. This body unambiguously empowered the delegates from North Carolina in the continental congress to concur in action by that body should it be taken, in declaring independence and was thus in the words of Bancroft, the first colony to vote an explicit sanction to independence."

Following Governor Baldwin's address this morning, Dean N. Y. Gulley, of the law school, made a short address in commemoration of the 20th anniversary of the founding of the Wake Forest college. He said that the object of Wake Forest college was not sectarianism, but to benefit mankind.

This afternoon at 3 o'clock, the class day exercises were held. After a short address by President, Dickens of the senior class, Secretary R. F. Paschal called the class roll.

J. Whitley, the class orator, delivered a pleasing address on "The College Man's Opportunity." Following this, Messrs. Penell and Chambers read the class statistics and class will respectively.

The officers of the senior class are: President, A. O. Dickens; vice president, S. W. White; secretary, R. F. Paschal; treasurer, N. J. Shepherd; historian, C. W. Mitchell; prophet, D. M. Johnson; orator, C. J. Whitley; statistician, W. R. Chambers; poet, E. J. Hart; testator, George Penell.

Tonight at 8:30 Rev. C. L. Greaves, of Georgia, made the annual alumni address which was followed by a business meeting of the alumni and then a reception by the senior class given in the society hall.

In the receiving line were Misses Terwin McGee, Leola Graves, Beissie Holding and Lella Dickson. Light refreshments were served. The decorations consisted of ivy and honey suckles.

RATHER DEAD THAN ALIVE

Deplorable Condition of Lumpkin Lady Whose Troubles Multiplied Until Life Became Almost Unbearable.

Multiplied Until Life Became Almost Unbearable.

(Special to Daily News.)

Lumpkin, Ga.—Mrs. G. W. Booth, of this place, says: "I suffered with dumb chills and fever and was very irregular. Was also nervous and weak, short of breath, couldn't do my housework without it being a burden, and then I began suffering untold misery in my left side and back. I got to where I would rather have been dead than alive."

"I tried many remedies, but they failed to help me. Finally, I purchased two bottles of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and began taking it according to directions. Cardui helped me right away. I believe it saved my life."

"I cannot praise Cardui enough to my lady friends. It is certainly the medicine for suffering women and girls. If you have any of the ailments so common to women, or if you feel the need of a good, strengthening tonic, we urge you to give Cardui a trial. It has helped thousands of women in its past 50 years of success, as is proven by the numerous enthusiastic letters of gratitude, similar to the above, which come to us every day."

Don't delay. This letter from Mrs. Booth should convince you that Cardui is worth a trial. Get a bottle from your druggist today. You'll never regret it.

TRY THIS IF YOU HAVE DANDRUFF. Or Are Bothered With Falling Hair or Itching Scalp.

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you want to keep your hair looking rich, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for nothing destroys the hair so quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everybody notices it. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.
