ROOSEVELT HUNTER TO STREETS FOR 90 DAYS

He Is Convicted of Replenishing His Wardrobe From a Clothes Line.

OTHER CASES ARE TRIED

Roosevelt Hunter, young negro well known in police circles of Greensboro, was yesterday sentenced by Judge Collins in municipal court to serve three months on the city streets for the larceny of some clothes belonging to another negro. It was alleged, and the evidence presented was pretty conclusive, that Roosevelt, becoming devoid of clean clothing, proceeded to a line on which a number of articles recently washed had been hung for drying purposes, and replenished his stock of underwear. When he was found wearing clean clothes suspicion was aroused and when a complaint was lodged at the police station that some clothes had been stolen Roosevelt was promptly arrested.

George Cook, convicted of an affray, was given 30 days on the city streets.

R. W. Gray was fined $75 and costs for two offenses. For an assault on a female he was relieved of $50 and for disorderly conduct a fine of $25 was imposed.

Sam Allen, negro, convicted of keeping a disorderly house, was fined $50. His wife, Sarah Allen, also convicted of maintaining a disorderly house, was discharged upon payment of the costs.

Fannie Walker, negro woman, was fined $10 for disorderly conduct, and Julia Brown, negro, was fined $25 for a similar offense.

Charlie McCauley and John Smoot, convicted of an affray, were each fined $10 and the costs while John McCauley was relieved of $5 for a similar offense.

Oscar Lee was taxed with the costs for an assault on a female.

Bethel Dogget paid the costs for an assault.

Jennie Goshen, negro, found guilty of immoral vagrancy, was ordered to leave the city.

Dr. B. W. Best was taxed with the costs for maintaining an unsanitary closed.

FOREIGN POSTOFFICES AND POSTAL SYSTEMS ARE TO BE WITHDRAWN

The declaration to be presented tomorrow on extra-territoriality was drafted today by a sub-committee headed by Senator Lodge, of the American delegation, and provides for the appointment of an international commission of jurists to make a study of the Chinese courts before the foreign tribunals are withdrawn. Under the resolution as drawn up by the governments of Spain, Norway, Sweden and Denmark, which have courts in China but are not represented here, would be invited to join in the decisions of the Washington conference.

GOVERNOR OF PROVINCE IN CHINA BETTER VERY SOON

(Correspondence Associated Press.)

Peking, Oct. 20.—Opposition by the people of the province of Anhwei to their new civil governor has caused that official to go into sudden retirement after only three days in office, according to official reports received in Peking from the capital of the province.

Objection of the Anhwei people to the new governor, one Li Shao-chen, was due to his great age and the fact that Li had, in the past, been connected with the pro-Japanese Anfu party.

ARMFIELDS AGAIN MADE DEFENDANTS IN A CASE

A. R. Myers Wants $1,400 For Doing Work On Five Houses of J. L. Armfield.

ASKS THAT LAND BE SOLD

Through his attorneys, Cook and Willis, A. R. Myers filed proceedings yesterday in Superior court against Mrs. Dion G. Armfield and her husband, J. L. Armfield, in an effort to regain from the defendants $1,400, together with interest from May 3, 1921.

The complaint alleges that in September, 1920, the defendants entered into a contract with him whereby in consideration of $8,500 he was to furnish and do all labor necessary for the brick work, plastering and carpentry in the building of five houses on the east side of Wharton street, Greensboro.

From time to time, according to the complaint, the defendants made payments to him on the contract aggregating $5,100, leaving a balance due amounting to $1,400.

"That on the 17th day of October, 1921," reads the complaint, "the plaintiff filed a mechanic's and laborer's lien against the property hereinbefore mentioned in the office of the clerk of Superior court of Guilford county at Greensboro, N. C., and in said notice and lien cited by him, as aforesaid, plaintiff claimed and demanded the sum of $1,400, said claim herein used on being the same claim for which the itemized notice and lien were given and filed."

"That no part of said contract price has been paid plaintiff other than the said sum of $5,100 and that, there is now due and owing plaintiff on said contract price the said sum of $1,400 as hereinbefore stated. That demand has been made on defendants by plaintiff for the payment of said sum of $1,400 and that although said defendants have acknowledged said indebtedness and made repeated promises to pay the same, they have nevertheless failed and neglected to pay said sum or any part thereof.

"That the said J. L. Armfield has left the state of North Carolina and is no longer a citizen or resident thereof; or that the said J. L. Armfield has concealed himself within said state with intent, as plaintiff is informed, believes and so alleges, to avoid the service of summons and to hinder and delay his creditors, and that his whereabouts are at present and have been for several months past unknown to this plaintiff."

The plaintiff also asks that he be granted a valid and subsisting lien upon the premises described to the amount of $1,400, together with interest, and that he be entitled to have the said lien enforced against defendant by sale of the land or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the debt.

The complaint is headed "A. R. Myers and such other lien creditors who may come in and make themselves parties to this action."

Men and Business

By RICHARD SPILLANE

Because exporters and bankers lost heavily on foreign trade in the last few years there is a disposition to view all foreign trade with suspicion.

Care must be exercised, but there is a difference, a very great difference, between care and suspicion.

There are hosiery concerns, such as the "Paramount Knitting company of Chicago and the Bureau company of Rockford, Ill., and piece goods houses such as Bliss, Fabyan and Company, of New York, and George Wood Sons and Company, of Philadelphia, that are doing business today in South America as safe and sound a basis as business is conducted in the United States.

They know the people with whom they trade.

Staple textiles are "coming back" in South America. That is natural. Clothes will wear out. Men, women and children need coats and suits, shirts and skirts, underwear, socks and scarfs just as they have before.

"Coming back" does not mean business is good. It is not good today. But it is improving and will be good before long.

Many of the losses on goods exported near the close of the war, were due to indiscriminate selling to people who were not sound merchants. Credit was extended where credit was not warranted.

Somebody has said it was easy for a man in Capetown or Calcutta, or some place far away to get $50,000 credit in New York when he couldn't get $5,000 credit in his own hometown.

Here are some rules in connection with South American trade laid down by a man who has reason to know the field and whose judgment is well-based:

A first class American house should trade only with first class South American houses. By right dealing permanent, pleasant and profitable business will develop as certainly as through similar connections in the United States.

Sell with confidence to houses that have passed through the post-armistice and recent rise-drop crisis. They have demonstrated their strength and proved their credit "moral" risk.

Don't deal with houses that did not "play fair" in times of distress. Don't sell to them even if they place money here to pay for the goods they wish to buy.

Choose a South American salesman when you require a representative. Judge him as highly because of his ability to reflect an order as you judge his ability to obtain an order.

Take no unnecessary chances. You can get credit information on a man in Buenos Aires or Valparaiso as readily in New York or Philadelphia as you can obtain like information on a certain man in Minneapolis or Denver.

Foreign trade is an absolute necessity to the United States. Imports are as necessary to the stabilization of exchange as exports are to the broadening of American sales.

But foreign trade must be sound and profitable to both the buyer and the seller.

There is no good reason why it should not be as safe and sound as domestic trade. The principles laid down by the textile men apply to all branches of foreign business.

Wireless Chain Not Chaining

(Correspondence Associated Press.)

London, Nov. 12.—The "imperial wireless chain," which, it was predicted when the scheme was first broached, would bind together the different parts of the empire, has not yet fulfilled the sanguine expectations of British newspaper men.

At the annual meeting of the Empire Press union in London, the government was much criticised for alleged apathy and procrastination in the matter.

Leprosy Colony of 5,000

(Correspondence Associated Press.)

Manila, P. I., Oct. 2.—The leprosy colony on the island of Cullion is being rapidly increased by the voluntary surrender of numbers of lepers throughout the Philippine islands, according to a report by the director of health.

The report says during the first six months of 1921 more lepers were admitted to the Cullion settlement than during the entire year of 1920, the admissions during the six months numbering 425. At present the colony numbers approximately 5,000.

Why Guess About It— When You Can Know About It?

Suppose a guide said—

"This way there's a safe and pleasant road to your destination, with no risks or troubles on the way," and—

"That way there's a road that a good many have stalled on and turned back from, but you may get through."

Which would you take?

Postum is a thoroughly agreeable and satisfying meal-time drink, and you're sure that it's perfectly safe for health. Coffee contains drug qualities which disturb and harm the health of many.

Postum or coffee? Which road?

Why guess when you can know?

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes. Sold by all grocers.
