Pre-Christman Rusic At Enterpe.

A delightful pre-Christman pregram of the Enterpe club was held yesterday afternoon with Mrs. E. S. Wills as hostess. The house was appropriately decorated with holly and Christman greens, while red candies cast a soft light through the rooms.

The program was arranged by Mrs. J. Norman Wills and Mrs. Henry Ware, and consisted largely of Christman music, represented by the carols and the solos. An especially pleasing feature of the program was the two groups for the vicils, artistically and beautifully interpreted by Arthur Talmadge, of the Fayetteville Conservatory of Music. Mr. Talmadge participated in the state contest for young artists last spring, and is remembered artists last spring, and is remembered an article of evening attire that does not flash with touches of metal, itself in line and drapery. It can well afford to be, for it is mide entirely of a rich and heavy brocade rose and silver, its only trimming being loops of rose velvet ribbon on the skirt, pleasably contrasting in their plain simplicity, and an elaborate girdle.

Girdles are growing not only more elaborate, more ubiquitous but more obese as well. Some of them are soft rolls of fabric, some are padded, some wound with strings of pearls, while this one is made of fair sixed artificial flowers, roses and huge forgetmenots.
