THE WASHINGTON CONFERENCE

Nov. 12—Hughes submits general program for ten-year naval holiday and scrapping of the United States fleet...

ENGLAND, FRANCE AND AMERICA

It is a strong plea that the French make when they point out that during the months and years when the British and American navies were being swiftly expanded to their present great strength...

SAYS IT CAN'T BE DONE

A correspondent furnishes the Daily News a lengthy argument, bristling with facts and figures, which argues that it is a physical impossibility for the tobacco crop of Piedmont North Carolina to be marketed according to the plan of the co-operative association...

Wonder If Some Folks Don't Wish They'd Been Good Little Boys and Gone to Sunday School

The Russian hasn't any near neighbors who are able to serve in the capacity of good Samaritans. He starves, not in a land of order and plenty, but in a land of chaos and famine...

FRANCE IN DILEMMA

MUST SWALLOW PRIDE OR ACCEPT THE BLAME
Well, the Third International certainly caused a flurry on the stock exchange, even if its financial standing is not high.

FRANCE IN DILEMMA

MUST SWALLOW PRIDE OR ACCEPT THE BLAME
The thoughtful tobacco producer has taken these things into consideration; and most probably they have had no small influence in shaping decisions to sign up for co-operative marketing.

INDUSTRIAL CLIMBED TO THE HIGHEST POINT FOR YEAR LAST WEEK

It is expected, however, that the rapid advance in sterling during the last month, so will speedily correct the current decline in United States exports. It means a readjustment in the purchasing power of many of the countries banking through England; it also means American products cheaper in terms of sterling. So far there has been no wild rush to purchase grains or cotton or copper, but better orders in most lines are not unlikely.

Vote early tomorrow and get it off your chest. Considering the liberal ideas of Moscow, it is hardly a compliment to our own Wall Street, this tale that our Mr. Burns narrates. It seems that the 10-ship program of France was submitted without the approval of Paris. And without that of London, it is equally clear. Toy and Doll Makers Ask Senate to Help—Headline. But Washington was full of wailing of infant industries before these came to town. When the Old Gray Wolf goes for Tam Bowie it is a case of a meeting of the Hellens indeed. Our wonder is that the furniture of the house is left intact. The Ross oxeyed daisy bill having been cut down by the senate the old state will have to worry along for at least another year more without a flower all its own. The man who killed Sid Hatfield has been acquitted. Maybe the jury figured that it was of no use to try to hang a man lucky enough to get away with that job. The governor of South Carolina recommends authorization for an expenditure of $34,000,000 on roads, during the next six years. It will be a procession, one of these days. There ought to be considerable improvement in the climate of the Tight Little Isle. With Ireland on one side and France on the other, the water will surely be kept hot enough. And among other deductions from the Taylor trial let us not forget the warning that it is better not to talk about your neighbors unless you are in position to furnish the proof of what you say. The house of representatives has appropriated 20 millions for relief of Russia; but from this distance it seems that the price of two pairs of handcuffs, the same to be applied to Messrs. Lenin and Trotsky, would accomplish more. North Carolina, third amongst all agricultural production leads the southern states in the amount invested in manufacturing—not counting numerous manufacturing enterprises that in their modesty evade the federal data sharks.

Concord, Dec. 18.—Miss Maude Bigger and Hubert Flowe, both of No. 10 township in this county, were married Thursday afternoon at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. R. W. Bigger. Only a few friends and relatives witnessed the ceremony which was performed by Rev. G. W. Jenkins. The couple will make their home here with the bride and her mother. A squad of 20 police officers were on duty during the wedding.

WILSON NEWS BRIEFS

Funeral of W. L. Wilkins—Vandals Wreck a Negro School House. (Special Daily News.) Wilkins, Dec. 18.—Funeral services over the remains of W. L. Wilkins, cotton buyer, who was found dead in his sleeping apartment on North Goldsboro street, was conducted from St. Timothy's Episcopal church Saturday at 1 o'clock by the rector, Rev. Morrison Betha, after which the body was taken to Greenville, S. C., for interment. Wilson Superior court, for the trial of criminal cases, will convene Monday morning with Judge Oliver H. Allen on the bench. There are three murder cases on the docket. Vandals on Friday night, a few miles from Wilson, maliciously shot the windows out of a negro school house, broke down the doors, smashed the furniture and scattered it along the public highway. No satisfied body denials a rural mail box and shot at several persons who went out to see what the trouble was about. Two suspects were arrested by Sheriff Howard and deputies and are being held for investigation. E. E. SHANNIN IS DEAD AS RESULT OF AN ACCIDENT News was received in Greensboro yesterday afternoon of the death of E. E. Shannin, which occurred at the Mission hospital in Asheville yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Mr. Shannin, who was injured in an automobile accident in Asheville Saturday afternoon, had many friends in Greensboro. The body will be sent to his home in Los Angeles, Cal., for burial. Son Sues His Parents. Chicago, Dec. 18.—James E. Read, Jr., 23-year-old grandson of the late William J. Read, wealthy Chicago coal dealer, has filed suit against his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Read, for the recovery of $250,000 worth of stock in the W. P. Read company, it was announced today. Young Read charged he was defrauded out of the $250,000 by his parents.

THE DAVIDSONIAN TO ISSUE A WOODROW WILSON NUMBER

Davidson, Dec. 18.—Monday the staff of the Davidsonian, student weekly publication of Davidson college, will issue a special Woodrow Wilson number. This issue will be the most pretentious ever attempted by the Davidsonian and one of the largest ever published by any southern collegiate weekly. It will be a Woodrow Wilson issue in fact as well as in name, for it will carry about 15 columns about the ex-President. Every effort has been made to secure only authoritative material from the pen of able men. Dr. Thornton Whaling, classmate of Mr. Wilson and noted Presbyterian church man, contributes a notable article on "Wilson's Education," and Dr. J. M. McConnell, of the history department of Davidson college, contributes an article on "Wilson's Accomplishments at the Paris Conference," discussing them from the political angle. In addition to the above the paper will carry articles about the family of the ex-President and about various phases of his career. The front page will carry a picture of the ex-President and a facsimile copy of a personal letter from him to the editor-in-chief.

CAPTAIN STAMEY ARRIVES IN CITY TO SPEND CHRISTMAS

Capt. R. A. Stamey, U. S. A., arrived in the city yesterday from Camp Grant, Ill., to spend the holidays with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Stamey, South Edgeworth street. Captain Stamey, who has been serving in the infantry branch of the service, has recently been transferred to the aviation department. From here he will go to Camp Carlstrom, near Tampa, Fla., to undergo a course of training in the art of flying.
