

BALKAN NATIONS MAY RETURN TO OLD WAYS

Visit of Bulgarian Premier to Belgrade Is Believed to Have Much Import.

WILL SUPPORT BELGRADE

Special Cable to Daily News. (Copyright, 1923, by Philadelphia Public Ledger.)

It is reported that Bulgaria has assured Belgrade its support of the Yugoslavian demands at Lausanne in return for similar aid from Jugoslavia to the Slav states dividing the northern coast of the Aegean—now held by Greece—between them with Jugoslavia obtaining the port of Dedagatch and Cavallo.

Belgrade is believed to have considerable importance. It is feared it is the first step in an attempt by the Balkan nation to return to their 1915 policy of settling Balkan questions to suit themselves without considering the attitude of western powers.

NEW CIGAR FACTORY TO OPEN THURSDAY

Rees-Mitchell Cigar Factory to Start Operation of Producing Five Cent Cigars.

With a sufficient force of cigar makers to have an output of about 10,000 cigars a day, the Rees-Mitchell Cigar company will start operations on Thursday. The new cigar factory will have a working force of about 100 and this number will later be increased to about 200 when the production expects to reach 60,000 cigars each day.

The first box of cigars made and packed will be shipped to Governor Cameron Morrison.

John T. Rees, veteran cigar manufacturer of this city, stated yesterday that he is undertaking to do something that no other cigar manufacturer has yet attempted—to hand-make a Porto Rican cigar of blend filler, Connecticut binder and shadegreen wrapper for five cents.

The box will be of simple construction, thus reducing the expenses of manufacturing the cigar.

The new cigar factory is equipped with all the necessities for cigar-making and is located in the old Mediation cigar factory over the New System bakery.

United States to Help Build a Brazilian Navy

Washington, Nov. 7.—Secretary Hughes and the Brazilian ambassador today signed the contract under the terms of which the United States will send a naval mission to Brazil.

"The purpose of this mission," the navy department announced, "is one of helpfulness to Brazil, to assist the Brazilian navy department in all matters that pertain to improvement in their naval service. In this task the mission will collaborate and work in conjunction with the officers of the Brazilian navy."

Powell Glass Is Shot. Lynchburg, Va., Nov. 7.—Powell Glass, oldest son of Senator Carter Glass, of Virginia, was seriously wounded this afternoon when he was shot in the face and head while hunting in Appomattox county.

Physicians said Mr. Glass probably will lose the sight of his left eye. His right eye was not injured. The wound is not believed fatal.

JOHN PARKER WILL BE ARMISTICE DAY ORATOR

High Point Planning For One of Greatest November 11 Affairs in State.

J. R. BARTON IS DEAD

High Point, Nov. 7.—High Point is expected to stage the greatest Armistice day celebration in the city's history on next Saturday.

Committee from Andrew Jackson post of the American legion have been at work on the program and are leaving no stone unturned in their efforts to make the occasion a memorable one.

High Point will be decorated for this occasion. Contract has been awarded to a Winston-Salem decorator to dress up the city with the national colors, and he is expected to begin the job on Friday.

John J. Parker, of Monroe, Republican gubernatorial candidate in 1920, will be the chief speaker of the day. He will deliver his address in the city auditorium at 2:30 o'clock, following a street parade early in the afternoon.

The elaborate program also will include a football game in the afternoon and a display of fireworks at night. Thousands of High Pointers and men and women living within a radius of many miles of the city are expected to join in the celebration of another anniversary of the close of the war.

High Point lost another good citizen today. James Rufus Barton, one of the oldest and best known men in this section, died this morning at 7 o'clock, his death following a critical illness of several days.

Mr. Barton was 81 years of age and had spent practically his entire life in Guilford county, where he was widely known and highly respected. Surviving are the widow, three sons and three daughters.

Funeral services will be held with Masonic honors at the home tomorrow.

Mrs. J. L. Sechrist, one of the city's best known and most beloved women, died this morning at 3:30 o'clock at her home on East Washington street. She was 72 years of age, having been born in Lincoln county on November 15, 1857.

For many years she had been a resident of High Point. Surviving are her husband and one son.

Mrs. Sechrist also leaves a sister, Mrs. J. A. Shelton, of High Point. Funeral services will be conducted at the home tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The body of W. E. Green, who died Sunday night at a local hospital, was taken last night to Gaffney, S. C., the home of his family. Mr. Green was taken ill while stopping at the local hotel. Little information could be learned here concerning the man, but local undertakers communicated with undertakers at Gaffney and his body was ordered sent to that city.

High Point policemen were today slinging the old time bilbies. For the first time in many years the old war clubs are now in the hands of the guardians of life and property in this city.

An order from Chief of Police Blackwelder brought them out for the first time today. They are to take the place of the black-jacks, which the police chief says are too dangerous for a cop to carry.

And then, too, Chief Blackwelder says the bilbies give the cops an appearance of respectability.

Furniture men from all parts of the south are expected to attend the annual meeting of the Southern Furniture Manufacturers' association here on Thursday and Friday.

One hundred men engaged in the furniture industry have arranged to attend.

Business matters affecting the manufacture and marketing of furniture will be discussed at the business session, while a banquet at the Sheraton hotel on Thursday evening will be the outstanding social event of the two-day meeting.

Dr. Riddick, of Raleigh, will be the chief speaker at the banquet. He will speak to the furniture men regarding the proposed establishment of a course of training in colleges for young men who expect to enter the furniture manufacturing business.

Among the other speakers on the program for addresses at the conference is H. G. Crockett, of New York, a recognized expert on business efficiency and cost of production in furniture manufacturing.

MAN 101 YEARS OF AGE CASTS BALLOT

George Washington Brown Marches to the Polls and Tosses One For Austin Peay.

Lenoir City, Tenn., Nov. 7.—George Washington Brown, age 101 years, probably the oldest man in Tennessee to exercise his suffrage in today's election, walked up to the polls early this morning and marked and dropped his ballot in the box.

That's another one for Austin Peay, he laughingly remarked.

Mr. Brown was brought to the polls and returned home in an automobile by Mayor S. P. Witt. In the primary he was an ardent supporter of Harvey H. Hannah, but introduced General Hannah when he spoke at Lenoir City.

CHEAP AIR TRIPS

London to Cologne Now Costs Less Than $50 (London Times)

The Instone Air Line has inaugurated its new air service London-Brussels-Cologne. The London-Paris service is now left to the Handley Page Transport and the London-Berlin service is being opened by the Daimler company. Thus the three British aerial transport companies are all working different routes and the competitive element is removed.

Where Cash Is Bulky. A story is told of a continental traveler who brought with him into the restaurant car an enormous bag which he deposited by the side of the table.

The conductor promptly rebuked him, saying: "You must bring that bag in here. You must put your luggage in the van."

"That's not my luggage," was the reply. "I'm going to Austria; that's my purse."—Toronto Telegram.

GERMANY IN POSITION TO START WAR AGAIN

British Expert Says Teutons Much Better Prepared Than His Own Country

(Correspondence Associated Press.) London, Sept. 22.—"Germany today is in a far better position to wage another war than is Great Britain; England is dismantling her armament plants, while Germany is increasing her production of armament."

This statement has been made before the British association by Dr. J. A. Marker, formerly director of research in the ministry of munitions.

Dr. Marker declared he was not an alarmist, but simply stated facts as he saw them. In 1913 Germany produced 90,000 tons of nitrogen chiefly for agricultural purposes, he said, while the smaller Germany of today has produced more than twice this amount.

"At the end of this year Germany will have at her disposal," Dr. Marker went on, "an internal capacity for producing 200,000 tons of nitrogen a year. This will make her entirely independent of all nitrate importation, and in case of another war she will have all the basic materials for a gigantic output of munitions and enough fertilizer to grow a large share of her food."

"It may be justifiable," he concluded, "for the allies to attack our late enemies to put themselves in so strong a position so soon after the war, but it may also be that those who hunt for the allies to attack some, at any rate, of the provisions of the peace treaty are carried into effect, are not aware of what is happening."

How He Managed It. (Vancouver Province.) Shortly after being made a peer, Lord Magheramorne, who was better known as Sir James Medard Hogk, went to dine at the house of an old friend, where he announced himself as "Lord Magheramorne."

"What?" said the startled domestic. "Lord Magheramorne," said he, with emphasis.

James shook his head. He desisted of attempting to tender the uncouth gutturals. What was he to do? The visitor was advancing to the drawing-room.

James hesitated a moment, then boldly flung open the door and proclaimed: "The late Sir James Hogk."

"Airplanes can positively guarantee defense of the coast," he said, "and with greater economy to the nation than any other arm of the military establishment."

U. S. COAST DEFENSE DEPENDS ON AIRCRAFT

General Mitchell Declares Air Bombers Have Supplanted Coast Artillerymen.

Washington, Nov. 7.—Brig. Gen. William Mitchell, assistant chief of the army air service, announced today on arrival from the bombing tests held yesterday in Hampton Roads, that protection of America's coast now depended upon the nation's air force, backed by a good army. Air bombers, he said, had supplanted coast artillerymen as a protective military weapon.

General Mitchell declared that the demonstration yesterday totally eclipsed anything ever before attempted by aviators from a standpoint of accuracy in bombing and potential defense strength of aircraft.

"Five Martin bombers, loaded with full equipment including four 300-pound dummy bombs to the ship, bombed two targets under towage from a height of between 2,300 feet to 2,700 feet," General Mitchell said, "and every bomb dropped was effective, possibly with one exception. The accuracy of this fire is without parallel, especially since the targets were only 20 feet by 20 feet in size, and the aviators themselves had been under instruction only for a short time."

General Mitchell declared it was possible now to protect the Atlantic coast from Chesapeake Bay to Boston with "a couple of pursuit groups of aircraft."

"Give us a base in New Jersey," he said, "and we could reach any point threatened on that part of the coast with two hours' notice of the approach of an enemy."

Experience had enabled pilots to operate at all times, weather conditions notwithstanding, it was asserted confidently.

Extensive maneuvers were being planned by the army air service for next summer, General Mitchell said, explaining that they were intended to furnish additional data relating to the comparative value of artillery and aircraft for coast defense.

"Airplanes can positively guarantee defense of the coast," he said, "and with greater economy to the nation than any other arm of the military establishment."

IMPURE MILK USED BY GERMAN PEOPLE

Dr. Maxim Bing Says Fluid Resembles a "Milky Suspension of Bacilli"

(Copyright, 1923, by Philadelphia Public Ledger.) Berlin, Nov. 7.—The milk which Berliners drink today resembles more a "milky suspension of bacilli" than the pure white fluid one is accustomed to, is the statement of Dr. Maxim Bing makes in a clinical review after a thorough examination of hundreds of samples.

His hair-raising report says that two out of 10 samples of milk obtained from milk shops contained matter proving that the udders of the cows are diseased. "The rubber pipes," he continues, "with which the milk is led from the udders and reservoirs to the big milk centers of Berlin still, from pre-war times, show many cuts and their insides are covered with layers as thick as a finger consisting of milk refuse, casein, fat, etc., which is the most ideal soil for germs."

The publication of this report in the press will cause a run on canned milk from America by Berlin housewives.

Hertford County Appropriates Funds For An All-Time Nurse

(Special to Daily News.) Ahoskie, Nov. 7.—Hertford county has taken another step forward. Yesterday at the regular meeting of the county board of commissioners an appropriation was made for an all-time health officer for the county.

The matter was laid before the commissioners by Dr. T. I. Surbage for the county board of health.

The health board will at once negotiate with the state department for its assistance in creating this new officer for the county, and by January 1, 1924, it hopes to start the work in this county.

This is the second time the appropriation has been authorized by the commissioner, the state department being unable to appropriate funds for the work when the appropriation was first made several months ago.
