Hull-Stevens Wedding

Shelby, Nov. 7.—Weddings, always lovely, are at their loveliest in the fall months, and the wedding on Wednesday evening, November 7, of Miss Mildred Alexander, of Hillsboro, and John Farrell Stevens, of Greensboro, at the Presbyterian church, has the distinction of being the first ever witnessed in Shelby.

Prior to the ceremony Fielding L. Fry, of Greensboro, sang in his rich baritone, "At Dawning" and "Until," accompanied by Miss Mae Kendall, of Shelby, and John Farrell Stevens, of Greensboro, at the Presbyterian church, has the distinction of being the first ever witnessed in Shelby.

When the notes of the wedding march from Lohengrin pealed forth the bride party entered. Mendelssohn's "Wedding" was used for the recessional. The four ushers were the first to enter as follows: William Grimley and J. R. Elder, both of Greensboro, and Harry Grimley, of Greensboro, and Draper Wood, of Chester, S. C., crossing in front of the altar and taking their places on either side of the chancel.

Then came the lovely dame of honor, Mrs. J. Prager Wood, of Chester, R. C., sister of the bride and herself a bride of last month. She wore her wedding gown of white brocade satin draped in Chantilly lace and carried an arm bouquet of garden chrysanthemums tied with yellow tulle. Preceding the bride came the maid of honor, Miss Burney Boyce, of Gastonia, looking most bewitching in her gown of orchid chiffon over silver lace trimmings in applique of panacea, also carrying a bouquet of chrysanthemums and autumn leaves. And on the opposite side came the groomsmen, Henry Yates, of Greensboro.

All eyes were then turned to the entrance of the bride, who came in with her father, L. M. Hull, who gave her away. A strikingly handsome bride, she was beautiful in her wedding gown of duchess satin, draped on the left side and held in place with pearl ornaments. The court train fell from the shoulders and the veil of lace and tulle was arranged cap style with a bandeau of orange blossoms. Her bouquet consisted of white roses in white and the deeper shade of cream, with a shower of valley lilies.

The groom with his best man, Albert Stevens, of Greensboro, a brother, entered from the side door, meeting his lovely bride at the altar, forming a beautiful wedding tableau. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Stevens left for a wedding tour of three weeks, visiting in the White Mountains, Buffalo, New York and Canada. The bride's going away gown was an elegant dark blue duvetil three-piece suit, trimmed in grey squirrel with smart hat and accessories to match.

On their return they expect to make their home with Mrs. J. M. Galloway, on North Elm street, Greensboro.

The bride is the handsome young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Hull, and a brilliant member of Shelby's young set. She is a stately blonde with exquisite coloring, possessing poise and charm of manner and a winsome personality which has won friends for her everywhere. She received her education at the University of North Carolina, where she was a member of the Phi Kappa Phi honor society, and since that time has been one of the state's most accomplished teachers.

The groom is one of Greensboro's most popular and successful business men, and is in every way worthy of the lovely bride he has won. He is secretary and treasurer of the Gate City Building and Loan association, a popular member of the Civitan club in that city. He is a veteran of the world war where he served as a captain in the 1st division and is now post commander of the American Legion, No. 100, in Greensboro.

The array of bridal presents were notable, especially those in silver, among them being a magnificent chest of drawers in Mission design from the Henry K. Butler post, American legion, a silver pitcher from the Gate City Building and Loan and a silver sugar and cream set from the Civitan club of Greensboro.

Mr. Edmondson Honored. Mrs. Gladys Harvey and Miss Mildred Edmondson were hostesses at a delightful birthday dinner Sunday at their home on the Guilford college road in honor of their father, E. H. Edmondson, which took the form of a family reunion. The celebration from church Mr. Edmondson was greatly surprised to see a large number of his relatives and friends who had gathered to do him honor. The day was ideal for an outdoor dinner, and the tables which had been spread in the grove, were filled with all sorts of good things to eat. Before the meal, the Rev. Mr. Sherrill led in prayer. The afternoon was spent in conversation and music.

Those present were: Mrs. M. H. Edmondson, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Edmondson, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Edmondson and children, Miss Virginia Edmondson, Miss Hazel Noykin, Mrs. T. B. Ward and children, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. James, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Parrish and children, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Harvey and children, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Harvey, and Rev. and Mrs. Sherrill.

Prof. Martin Talks To Association. At the meeting of the Spring Street Parent-Teacher association held yesterday afternoon in the school building, Prof. W. W. Martin, of the North Carolina college faculty, gave a most interesting and instructive talk on "How to Study." Mr. Martin divided his subject into two heads which he stated as follows: "Study at school and study at home." He explained in detail what is meant by study, why the student should study, and how it should be done.

Yes, Girls. Everybody is using and talking about DEWILLO the liquid tint. It instantly beautifies the complexion, makes a soft, rosy hue to every one "Just loves to touch." HOW TWO WOMEN ESCAPED OPERATIONS. Doctor Advised Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Happy Results in Both Cases.

St. Joseph, Missouri.—"Both of my sides swelled and hurt me so that I could not move or do any of my work. There was heavy pressure and pains through my lower organs and the doctor told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for these troubles. He said I had this one chance, and if the Vegetable Compound did not help me nothing but an operation would. After taking several bottles I felt it was helping me and now I am able to do my own work. If my testimonial will help others I shall be glad for them to read it and hope your Vegetable Compound will do the same as it did me."—Mrs. WM. LUCKMAN, 513 N. 4th St., St. Joseph, Mo.

White Plains, N. Y.—"I had such a pain that I could hardly walk and the doctor said that I needed an operation. I was sick for a year before I started taking your medicine and I could not rest. I saw your advertisement in a little book and that is how I came to take Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine. I have been taking the Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine, also Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sannative Wash and the expense and operation recommended. I am doing all my work and have gained twenty pounds. I am taking the medicines still, but I feel fine. You have my permission to use this letter for the good of others."—Mrs. MARY MARE, 37 Hamilton Ave., White Plains, N. Y.

Some female troubles may through neglect reach a stage when an operation is necessary. But most of the common ailments are not the surgical ones; they are not caused by serious displacements, tumors, or growths, although the symptoms may appear the same.

When disturbing ailments first appear, take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve the present distress and prevent more serious troubles. Many letters have been received from women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after operations have been advised by attending physicians.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent you free upon request. Write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

Neelcraft Club Meets. The Neelcraft club met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. R. Edmondson, 289 South Mendenhall street. The home was beautifully decorated for the occasion with ferns and chrysanthemums. Assisted by Mrs. Irvin Alexander and Miss Mary Nash Alexander the hostess served a delightful "salad course," including hot rolls, coffee and mints. Those present were: Mrs. J. M. Albright, Mrs. Irvin Alexander, Mrs. W. M. Avery, Mrs. W. T. Hinton, Mrs. W. J. Horton, Mrs. E. Beverly, Mrs. Charles Walters and Mrs. W. F. Turner.

Mrs. Wainwright To Thomasville. Mrs. J. W. Wainwright went to Thomasville yesterday to spend some time with Mr. Wainwright. Their furnished home on Simpson street will be occupied by the families of C. E. Hilly and Mr. Mahaffy. Mrs. Wainwright has reserved a room for herself when she wants to visit in Greensboro.

Mrs. Hunt Honored. Mrs. Ralph E. Edwards and Mrs. A. E. Fry entertained Tuesday afternoon in the ball room of the Tea garden in honor of Miss Louise Hunt, a popular bride-elect of this month. Yellow and white chrysanthemums were artistically arranged about the room and bridge and took were played at 14 tables. The high score took prize was awarded to Mrs. W. S. Hires and the bridge prize to Mrs. Eugene Sykes. Both were pretty trifling bowls filled with narcissus bulbs.

Miss Hunt's place was marked by a miniature rolling pin tied with white tulle and lilies of the valley. The hostess presented the bride-elect with a beautiful hand painted board and knife. After the game a delicious salad course consisting of stuffed rolls with chicken salad, cheese balls, pickles and wafers, followed by an iced course, was served.

Those attending were: Mesdames Don Stafford, H. L. Hanes, Roy Ireland, Edgar Dinwiddie, C. M. Fordham, Earl Blodson, A. L. Austin, H. N. Darling, S. Rives, A. M. Hay, Frank Patterson, F. B. Mrs. Colt Speaks. The Woman's auxiliary of the Westminster Presbyterian church met at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon in the church parlor.

The meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. Tully Blair, who introduced the speaker, Mrs. H. T. Colt, returned missionary from Korea.

In a very interesting and impressive manner Mrs. Colt outlined the life of a Christian woman, her blessings and privileges, which are the outcome of the Christian civilization. Then in striking contrast, she told of the life of the heathen woman, who is despised because of her sex. In conclusion she made an earnest appeal for more schools, more teachers and more preachers for the girls and women of the world.

The meeting closed with a delightful social hour, with refreshments served by the hostesses for the afternoon, Mesdames R. W. Murray and Peter Pritchett.

Miss Coe Honored. Misses Ina Ratcliffe and Chana Browning very delightfully entertained a surprise handkerchief shower, given in honor of Miss Herbert Coe, at her home on Percy street Monday evening.

Room was much enjoyed by the guests, the highest score prize being won by Miss Mary Cassey.

After the game a ball, with cord attached, was thrown to Miss Coe and she was told to follow it, which afforded the guests much amusement. The cord finally led her to a basket of different size packages, each package containing a handkerchief.

The bride-elect was also presented with a set of linen napkins from the hostesses, after which sandwiches and coffee were served.

Miss Coe is a very charming bride-to-be of the season, whose marriage to Rev. H. Fred Surratt, a very promising young minister of Whitakers, will take place November 15.

Training School Association To Meet. The Parent-Teacher association of the North Carolina training school will be held Thursday afternoon, November 8, at 3:30 o'clock. Chairmen of the circles are requested to see that those members of their circles who have not been attending the meetings are present. All grade mothers are requested to meet the president 15 minutes before the regular meeting.

It has been requested that all members who have not paid their dues bring them to the meeting.

After the regular meeting an opportunity will be given to the mothers and fathers to meet and talk with the teachers, during which time tea will be served. The hostesses for the afternoon are Mesdames Dupuy, Hodgins and Avery.

Important plans for the year's work are to be discussed and the officials of the association will be anxious to have a good attendance.

Lindsay Street Meeting. At the meeting of the Lindsay Street Parent-Teacher association, held yesterday at the school building, Mrs. Charles Benbow made a most enlightening and interesting talk on "Camera," which was illustrated by pictures on the screen.

Mrs. Henry Ware sang two beautiful numbers, accompanied by Mrs. Sidney Gayle on the piano, and Miss Sara Alderman on the violin.

The various reports from the grade mothers showed that they had been active during the past month. Many had made visits to the children in the homes and a number of parties have been planned.

In the absence of Mrs. W. C. McGill, Mrs. G. S. Ferguson presided over the meeting. Miss Ella Miller acting as secretary.

Mrs. Mutart Entertains for Daughters. Mrs. C. G. Mutart entertained Saturday afternoon at a birthday party in honor of her little daughters, Virginia Marie and Clara Lee. The little beauties were: Ellen Bush, Caroline Welch, Esther Bennett, Nannie Belle CIVIL COURT TERM IS TO BE STARTED TODAY. Judge W. F. Harding, of Charlotte, Will Preside Over Two Weeks' Term of Court.

The November term of Superior court for the trial of civil cases will start this morning and will continue throughout the next week with Judge W. F. Harding, of Charlotte, presiding. The court session was originally scheduled to have started on Monday and cases were docketed for this day but a delay in the convening of court was occasioned in order to allow Judge Harding to remain at home in order that he might vote yesterday.

All cases placed on the calendar for Monday will be heard today. The greater part of the day will be taken up in the hearing of uncontested divorce cases. The calendar for the two weeks' term shows that about 30 cases are listed for trial. None of the cases stand out as being very prominent.

Following this term of court will come a one-week's term of civil court starting December 4 and will be followed by two weeks of criminal court. During the criminal court session the calendar for the long delayed trial will be heard. The jurors summoned for duty this week are E. B. Madkins, L. A. Harton, D. W. Shoffner, J. G. Jobs, D. E. Gresham, C. G. Jobs, J. D. Hawkins, J. W. Murphy, John Forsyth, J. T. Cobb, J. A. Allred, E. J. Clarida, J. P. May, N. H. Dean, J. H. Davis, W. C. Dorsett, B. H. Hoskins, M. H. Cox, D. M. Staley, S. STUDENTS WORK FOR A LIBRARY IN SCHOOL. Bessemer High School Students Start Campaign For Raising of Funds to Buy Library.

Bessemer, Nov. 7.—Students of the Bessemer high school have chosen a business-like method of raising money with which to purchase a library for the school. They have launched a course in salesmanship, which course has been conducted through more than 6,000 schools and which has the endorsement of some of the country's leading educators and foremost business men.

Otis T. Hallman, vocational director for this district, delivered a most interesting lecture to the students, explaining the present day need for a knowledge of salesmanship and giving principles of selling. He followed this with a visual demonstration in selling.
