

GEORGIA SHERIFF WILL TAKE YOUNG MEN BACK

Youths Held Here In Connection With Theft of Automobile Wanted In Ga.

NOTHING FROM ATLANTA

John Smith and C. J. Hammond, the boys who fell into the clutches of the police authorities here Sunday afternoon after taking 10 gallons of gasoline in Salisbury, and who are believed to have stolen the Packard car in which they were riding, will be carried back to Georgia by the sheriff of Warren county sometime today, according to information obtained at the police headquarters yesterday.

The Georgia sheriff arrived in Greensboro yesterday and said that he was confident of the identity of the two young men. They admitted the other day to having stolen the car but were not certain as to the town where they found it. "The town this side of Sparta," they said, which upon investigation, proved to be Warrenton, Ga.

No further word regarding the prisoners has been received from Atlanta, Ga., police other than the telegram Monday afternoon saying for the authorities here to hold them until certain matters in Atlanta could be investigated.

When they were arrested here Sunday afternoon following a call from the Salisbury police they claimed that they were working for the Frigid Air company, of Atlanta, and were on their way to Irvanale, Ohio, where they were to install a plant for their company. They further stated that the car in which they were driving belonged to the Frigid Air company.

The authorities here at once wired the Atlanta officials and learned that the boys were not with the Frigid Air company, but they were unable to throw any light on the situation. Later another wire came from the Atlanta officials saying for the police here to hold the young men. Nothing else has been heard from them.

When they were arrested here they had slightly over $3 between them, but they had two suit cases full of practically new clothes and they also had two new overcoats.

It is also believed by the authorities that the Atlanta officials will issue warrants for the arrest of the young men. They will not admit having done anything unlawful, however, in Atlanta. In fact, they admit nothing, except the gasoline episode in Salisbury and the theft of the automobile in Georgia.

Both young men are rather nice looking, and Smith claims that his home is in Hamilton, Ohio, while Hammond says that he has no home at all, both his parents being dead. They will not tell much about their lives prior to the time when they took the automobile.

BUSINESS MEN WILL VISIT MEXICO CITY

President Obregon Wires Pleasure at Announcement of the Proposed Tour.

Chicago, Nov. 7.—President Obregon of Mexico, has cabled his pleasure to Clarence J. Owens, president of the Southern Commercial convention of the 15th annual convention upon the announcement that a commercial mission of 125 business men would go to Mexico City at the conclusion of the Southern Commercial convention of the 15th annual convention which meets in Chicago November 20-22. Dr. Owens announced today.

President Owens said the projected trip to Mexico, which will be the eighth foreign mission conducted by the congress, is expected to be the largest unit of business character that has ever toured a foreign country.

Proximity News

There will be a basketball game this evening between Bessemer high school and Jamestown. This game will be played at Jamestown. The Bessemer team defeated Jamestown Saturday by the score of 48 to 25, and this is expected to be a good game.

Miss Florine Teague and Miss Holman, the Proximity nurse, returned Monday after spending the week-end with Miss Holman's sister, Mrs. Seay, at her home in Amherst, Va.

Many people from Proximity and community attended the funeral yesterday of Mrs. C. H. Harden, who died at her home in Julian Monday afternoon. Her son, J. E. Harden, is secretary of the Proximity Manufacturing company, and lives at No. 1115 Summit avenue. Interment was made in the cemetery of Tabernacle Protestant church, with Rev. George F. Millway and Rev. J. F. McCulloch officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Brown returned from Salisbury Monday after spending several days with friends and relatives.

The physical director of the Proximity M. C. A. wishes to call to the attention of the people of the village, that the pool and gymnasium are comfortably heated during cold weather, and there is no danger whatever from taking cold. The water in the pool is kept at a temperature of at least 78 degrees, which, he points out, is really a little warmer than is necessary.

He also reports that plans have been made for organizing a group of Red Cross life saving corps, and that instructions for qualifying for this corps and also for the senior Red Cross life saving corps will be furnished on application.

All activities at the "Y" will be stopped this evening from 6 o'clock until 8:30 on account of prayer services and other religious activities.

Rev. J. M. Green, who is conducting revival services at Walnut street church, is attracting large crowds every evening. He will preach this evening at 7:30.

E. C. Hunter, of the Proximity Mercantile company, returned from Henderson Monday evening, where he attended the M. P. conference as a delegate from St. Paul's M. P. church of Revolution. Rev. T. E. Pearce was sent to this church by the conference to take the place of Rev. J. M. Morgan, the former pastor.

The Tuesday afternoon cooking class met yesterday with Mrs. Brewer at her home No. 46 Vine street. The attendance was good and quite an interesting and instructive meeting was held.

Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Jordan and son have returned to their homes at No. 42 Vine street after spending a week in Randolph with relatives. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Masina Laughlan who will spend several days with them.

REVOLUTION.

Tonight will be staid night at the Revolution assembly hall. Many stunts will be put on by various groups and organizations of the village. The fun will start at 7:30 and everyone is invited to attend, the only requirement being that they all bring plenty of laughs and leave them at the hall.

There will be a sewing contest for men, and contest to show who is the champion eater among the boys, a mind-reading act, a set of performing dolls, wire walking stunts by boy scouts and by school teachers. Prizes will be awarded in all contests, and for the best stunts. A good time is assured and a large crowd anticipated.

The Wednesday afternoon cooking class met today at 2:30 with Mrs. Ammons at her home No. 57 Spruce street. A full attendance is desired.

Before yesterday morning, to Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Clark, No. 83 Spruce street, a son.

Mrs. G. M. Frazier is changing her residence from 81 Spruce street to No. 4 Elm street, Revolution.

Otis Jones, who was injured several days ago when crushed between two freight cars, is reported as improving rapidly at a local hospital. He expects to be removed to his home at Revolution the latter part of this week.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Martin, No. 14 Vine street, is ill.

E. H. Yow has returned to Revolution after spending several days at Bonice on business.

Clarida Horner, Walter Kennedy and Bertie Huesey have resigned their positions with the Revolution Cotton mills.

McCray Allred has returned from Worthville, where he has been visiting his parents for the past week.

J. T. Stout has resigned his position as mechanic with the Revolution Cotton mills and has accepted an offer of employment at Mount Airy, where he will move his residence this week.

The many friends of Dr. A. O. Spoon will be glad to know that he has returned to his home on Elm street extension after an absence of several months for his health. Dr. Spoon has been living in this community for several years, and his friends regretted the break in health which caused him to leave for treatment. He returned home Monday.

Mrs. B. E. Smith is confined to her home, No. 4 Vine street, with an attack of grippe.

When the polls closed at Revolution yesterday afternoon about 245 persons had voted in this election. The polls were in charge of N. B. Martin, registrar, assisted by H. M. Deal and W. E. Hinshaw.

NUMBER MURDER CASES ON ROBESON CALENDAR

Frank Kemp Will Be Tried For Crime Committed More Than 40 Years Ago.

OTHER LUMBERTON NEWS

(Special to Daily News.)

Lumberton, Nov. 7.—Out of the 129 cases appearing on the criminal docket for trial at the November term of Robeson Superior court, are nine murder charges. These charges are for killings ranging from more than 40 years ago to less than a week ago.

Two very unusual murder charges are those against Joe B. Kemp and Frank Summers. Kemp was arrested at St. Augustine, Fla., on September 27, last, on the charge of killing Daniel E. McNeill, near Red Springs, Robeson county, on August 17, 1878—more than 44 years ago.

He was brought to Lumberton and placed in the county jail soon after his arrest. He was later released under a $4,000 bond, and returned to St. Augustine. He is now in Lumberton, awaiting trial. Kemp says he is anxious to learn what disposition will be made of his case. He is now more than 62 years old, though the killing took place when he was only 18 years old. Although he married and has several married children, he says he never breathed a word to his wife or children of any other person about the killing until after his arrest. He admits shooting McNeill, but claims self-defense.

Frank Summers was arrested several weeks ago at Augusta, Ga., and a few days later led a posse of Robeson county officers to a place in some woods, near Marietta, Robeson county, where he hid the body of Marie Ford, of that section after killing Ford with an axe in February of this year. Not even the parents of Ford suspected that he had been killed until after Summers' wife "turned him up" to Georgia officials. Summers and his wife lived in a house near by where the bones and clothing of Ford were found for several months after he was killed. Summers admits that he killed Ford in his own home early one Sunday morning.

Sam J. Smith, well known Robeson citizen, died Monday morning at his home in the southern part of the county. Deceased was about 60 years old and one of the county's largest land owners and best farmers. He also owned much farming land in Columbus county. His second wife and five children survive.

Mrs. Annie E. Lassiter, aged 68 years, died Saturday at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Robbins, with whom she made her home, here. The funeral was conducted from the Robbins home Sunday at 1 p. m., by Dr. Charles H. Durham, pastor of the First Baptist church of Lumberton, of which deceased was a member. The remains were carried to Dunn and laid to rest beside the grave of her husband, the late R. A. Lassiter. Five children survive.

Having secured a shelter for the Lumberton curb market, it will not be closed for the winter, as recently announced by the promoters. The market will be moved from the courthouse square to the old Presbyterian church building, near by. The building is owned by Miss Josephine Breece, who tendered it to the use of the farmers, and the Agricultural day will be observed as a holiday in Lumberton. Practically all business houses will be closed during the day. While no program has been announced, the ex-servicemen will be given "a day off" to be observed in whatever manner they may choose.

Mrs. J. M. Morgan, the former pastor of the Tuesday afternoon cooking class met yesterday with Mrs. Brewer at her home No. 46 Vine street. The attendance was good and quite an interesting and instructive meeting was held.

Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Jordan and son have returned to their homes at No. 42 Vine street after spending a week in Randolph with relatives. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Masina Laughlan who will spend several days with them.

Lawyer is Arrested.

Kanawha City, Mo., Nov. 7.—Tom Lawler, ward leader, arrested here today on a charge of conspiracy to violate the federal election laws, was released on $5,000 bail when arraigned late today before a United States commissioner. His preliminary hearing was set for Friday.

Three men who made sworn statements, according to the police, that they were instructed how to vote and under what names to vote at Lawler's cigar store, failed to furnish bond and were sent to the county jail. They were arrested after a Republican worker had challenged their right to vote.

POSTOFFICE RECEIPTS INCREASE IN OCTOBER

Charlotte Shows an Increase of 13.07 Per Cent Over October of Last Year.

Daily News Bureau and Telegraph Office, 623 Albee Building (By Lead Wire)

Washington, Nov. 7.—The postoffice department says a tremendous industrial revival is indicated in October postal receipts in 98 representative industrial cities. Figures are given for 13 cities with gains over October of last year of more than 20 per cent, and four of more than 30 per cent.

The average percentage of gain was 16.62, which is greater than for any month since the industrial list was first published last July. While the industrial cities reported gains over 1921 during the four months since the list was originated, despite the coal and rail strikes that featured that period, the October receipts show the first indication of industrial health since the settlement of those disturbances.

In North Carolina, Charlotte shows a gain of 13.07 over last year. The October postal receipts for Charlotte amounted to $4,172.

Florence Walborn has been appointed postmistress at Fleetwood.

A local paper today says in its society column:

Dr. and Mrs. Edgar Snowden have as their guest Mrs. Snowden's mother, Mrs. Byrns, of North Carolina. Mrs. Snowden entertained at tea for her mother last Saturday, having a company of representative guests to meet her. Dr. Snowden's mother presided at the tea table.

Exide BATTERIES

How big is a battery?

You may think of a battery as a forty-pound black box that starts your car and makes bright your path, or an eight-pound Exide that lights your motorcycle.

But to the men in the central power and lighting stations of many great cities, an Exide Battery is a huge thing, as big as an ordinary house, for each cell weighs as much as 3 tons, and there are 150 cells to a battery.

There is an Exide built for every purpose; for telephone systems, for farm lighting, for street trucks, for propelling submarines under the sea.

The first automobile battery was an Exide. The Exide made for your car today embodies the experience of the oldest and largest manufacturers of storage batteries in the world.

You will find it pays in every way to get an Exide when your present battery has to be replaced.

We believe you will also find that it is well worth while to go to one of our service stations when your battery needs attention. The men are all skilled battery men and repair every make of battery efficiently and promptly.
