

WILLIAM J. BRYAN'S WEEKLY BIBLE TALKS JESUS THE GREAT MISSIONARY

By WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN

Jesus the Great Missionary—Text of Today's Bible Talk by Mr. Bryan

(Luke 8:1-3, 24-32, 35, 38)

And it came to pass afterward, that he went throughout every city and village, preaching and showing the glad tidings of the kingdom of God; and the twelve were with him.

And he came to pass afterward, that he went throughout every city and village, preaching and showing the glad tidings of the kingdom of God.

APPLY SULPHUR ON YOUR ECZEMA SKIN

Costs Little and Overcomes Trouble Almost Over Night

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying Mentho-Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist.

It seldom fails to relieve torment without delay. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Howies Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.

spend to the teachings of Christ when men shouted, "Crucify him!" His appeal was to the conscience and His call was to the doing of kind deeds and the showing of mercy.

How Much Wealth? The woman mentioned in today's text proved their devotion by their donations. Many Christian women have consecrated their money to the cause of Christ and by doing so have proven the value of money when it is the servant of the heart.

Some may be able to use more money than others without yielding to its mastery, but whether the sum possessed be much or little it must be available for such uses as the heart desires to make of it.

A little money may make a miser of one whose heart has not been brought into harmony with the will of the Master and who has no vision of the coming of God's kingdom.

Parable of the Sower. In recording the facts of this first extended missionary tour, Luke presents some very important incidents in Christ's life.

In a very life-like way, Christ describes the sower who "went out to sow his seed." Commentators who give a description of the locality in which the words were spoken reveal the appropriateness of the classification made.

Christ was the emancipator of women. Those who live in the United States and see what woman's position is today can hardly understand the world's former treatment of the "mothers of men."

Christ's apostles were men, but the New Testament has given to history and to literature the names and descriptions of a number of women who have exerted an incalculable influence in the lifting of woman from a life of degradation to a place as man's companion, comrade, and equal.

The name Mary will ever shine among the names given to women. It was the name of the woman singled out and given the supreme honor of soothering the child Jesus. This name was borne also by Mary, the sister of Martha, and by Mary Magdalene.

no harvest because the thorns sprang up and choked it. "Choked With Riches and Pleasures." This is one of the parables that Christ used to illustrate the danger of riches and the showing of mercy.

Then we come to the seed that fell among thorns; it is "choked with care and riches and pleasures of this life" so that it brings no fruit to perfection.

Who did this young man, Christ, find the wisdom that is condensed into this parable, especially in the third illustration—the seed that fell among thorns?

He knew nothing personally about the "care of riches" and the "deceitfulness of riches." In one short parable he reveals a knowledge that must have come from on high.

An Outstanding Social Truth. This is the outstanding social truth with which the good of every generation have had to deal.

Occasionally a great soul comes out from the aristocracy. Occasionally some one comes out from among the educated to plead the cause of the uneducated.

The heart knoweth his own bitterness, and no man can give to another the measure of his grief.

Strangers that intelligent people should speak lightly of One whose philosophy covers all the conditions of life and supplies rules for the living of all our problems.

An Extraordinary Case of Healing. Then comes a description of the man who had for a long time possessed of devils. He wore no clothes and made his home among the tombs.

A few years ago I heard a speaker, at a meeting held in the interest of a "mission" make the following statement: "I measured the value of a soul by the value of the swine. It was a time when the price of hogs was higher than now and he estimated the number of swine and the value of the herd, setting spiritual values over against pecuniary values."

While it was a unique way of casting up an account it was a very inadequate way of expressing the price of soul peace. Here was a man who was not only utterly worthless, but a danger to society, and yet Jesus was able to set him free from the evil spirits that possessed him.

When those who were drawn to the place by the report of the miracle sought the man they found him sitting at the feet of Jesus, clothed, and in his right mind.

What a wonderful gospel is His! Health to the afflicted, happiness to the sorrowing, forgiveness to those who have been idle, and the joy of giving to those who have known only the pangs of want.

And everyone can follow in His footsteps and partake of the life that He revealed to men.

Raleigh, Nov. 12.—Josephus Daniels, of Raleigh, again heads the North Carolina division, near east relief, in its campaign for the $200,000 quota this year.

Mrs. F. J. Jernam, Raleigh clubwoman; Thomas Maalin, Winston-Salem banker; Mrs. George Watts of Durham, widow of the tobacco magnate; and Mrs. C. O. D. D.

Members of last year's executive committee still remaining are Col. Albert Cox of Raleigh, J. Norman Willis of Greensboro, Dr. Clarence Poe of Raleigh, Joseph C. Brown of Raleigh, William H. Wilson of Raleigh, J. J. Joyner of Raleigh, and Henry Page of Aberdeen.

Dr. C. Brooks, state superintendent of public instruction, remains as chairman of the educational division, while Robert N. Simms, secretary of the State Teachers' Association, replaces Harry M. North as chairman of the Sunday school division.

SELF-STYLES "HAWK" OUT FOR HEAVY WAGER

Hiking From Empire to Lone Star State He Accepts Police Hospitality.

A picturesque figure, weary and travelworn, who said he was "White Hawk" from the panhandle of Texas, 45 years old, unmarried and a painter by calling, straggled into police headquarters early last night and announced his arrival with the query, "Say, can a fell-ah get a berth here tonight?"

After quizzing the stranger about his past and his night's sojourn, Gordon, whose round body hides one of the biggest hearts in Greensboro, told the wayfarer he was welcome to sleep on a lounge in a corner of the headquarters.

With his immediate needs supplied "White Hawk" sank upon the bench and heaved a long sigh. He took off his wide-brimmed hat and threw it on the floor. Then he relieved his feet of a pair of well used hobnail shoes and stretched his thin legs.

"Where do you live, and what's your name?" he asked, smiling a smile of disdain. "A bet," he said, "Well, I reckon." "A bet," he repeated, pausing to see that his words were being heard. "Yes, sir, I bet to win $45,000,000." The reporter hurried away.

HENRY VAN DYKE TO SPEAK TO TEACHERS

Program for State Assembly Shows Meeting Will Be the Best Ever Held.

CARTER WILL ATTEND

Raleigh, Nov. 12.—The programs of the 39th annual session of the North Carolina Teachers' assembly, which will come from the printer's shop this week unless there is unlooked for delay, will be one of the most interesting of the many sessions of the teachers of North Carolina have planned.

An illustration of this feature will be found in that worked out for the department of higher education, which was prepared by Dr. T. C. Amick of Elon college. Co-operation among the different colleges for the purpose of retaining the common ideals of the colleges and universities will be discussed, and the proper co-operation between colleges and high schools so that the courses of study of the high schools will correlate with those of the colleges.

The three-day sessions of the county superintendents will be devoted entirely to a discussion of the revision of the whole school law.

Tentative changes have been worked out by the superintendents, and will be asked for suggestions and these will be written into the proposed changes. The whole will be presented to the legislature in January.

The opening session of the assembly will be held on Tuesday night, when the county superintendents will hold their first meeting. The regular sessions of the assembly will not begin until Wednesday.

The spelling contest will be held in the study hall of the city high school building Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Last year, when this contest was inaugurated by the Teachers' assembly, there were about a hundred contestants.

So many reports of the organization of local units are held back until a few days before the general meeting, it is difficult to determine what effect the increase in the membership fee from 50 cents to a dollar will have on the total membership.

Dr. C. Brooks, state superintendent of public instruction, remains as chairman of the educational division, while Robert N. Simms, secretary of the State Teachers' Association, replaces Harry M. North as chairman of the Sunday school division.

Spencer, Nov. 12.—Dividend checks have been distributed in Spencer this week by the treasurer of the Southern Railway company, payable to the new stockholders composed of the men who remained on their jobs when the shopmen's strike occurred July 1.

The Spencer Y. M. C. A. is observing the week of prayer this week in keeping with a movement throughout the whole country with shop meetings at the noon hour.

Another feature of activity at the Y. M. C. A. was the reopening of the reading room and library. Talks were made by Prof. E. Y. McSwain, G. E. Lane, A. B. Morgan and others and a supper was greatly enjoyed.

Rev. J. Frank Armstrong, of Concord, will be the speaker at a mass meeting to be held at the Y. M. C. A. at 8 p. m.

A number of interested citizens have arranged for a fathers and sons banquet to be given at Central Methodist church Friday night, November 24.
